Despondency Caused Julius Allen to Commit Suicide

Mechanicsburg, Pa., March 13.—Funeral services for Julius Allen, who committed suicide, by hanging, at his home, 205 East Simpson street, Sunday, will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. E. C. B. Castle, pastor of the First United Brethren Church. Burial will be made in Chestnut Hill cemetery.

Despondency was given as the motive for the act. For a period of forty years Mr. Allen was mail carrier on the Lewisburg route, and was to relinquish the position on June 1, having been underbid for carrying the same. Since the death of his wife, about a year ago, Mr. Allen lived alone. He was last seen about 1 o'clock on Sunday morning, when his nephew, Mervin Gunswiler, called at the house. Later, he came and not seeing his wife, came again about 6 o'clock. This time he called a neighbor, Harry Irvin, who also assisted on the mail route, and searching the stable, found Mr. Allen hanging from a rafter in the hay mow. He was on his knees and it is thought death was caused by strangulation. He was aged 65 years and was born in Newberrytown, but lived here the past 50 years. Two sisters survive: Mrs. Eliza M. Gunswiler and Mrs. W. Bobb, both of Mechanicsburg.

NO PUPILS IN SCHOOL

Millerstown, Pa., March 13.—Students in the Sugar Run, Tuscarora township High School, are hoping that the severe weather of winter is past. The school has but six scholars enrolled and several times this winter, including two days last week, no scholars attended because of the severity of weather conditions. Miss Helen Dean, of Newport, a Millersville State Normal School graduate, is the teacher.

FAVORS 16-OUNCE LOAF

York, Pa., March 13.—James Sweeney, chief of the State Bureau of Standards, in a communication to C. F. Borgel, dealer in weights and measures of this city, does not agree with the York bakers. He says that bakers can make a sixteen-ounce loaf of bread that will sell for six cents and leave them a very good profit.

HERO MEDAL FOR MARIETTA BOY

Ralston Purino Commission Awards Honor to Frank P. Gorser, Jr., For Bravery

Marietta, Pa., March 13.—Word was received in Marietta on Saturday that Frank P. Gorser, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Gorser, will receive a medal for bravery in the near future. It will be remembered that on July 28, 1916, four young people came near losing their lives and would have perished had not this youth ventured to wade across with an old baton and rescued them, in the Susquehanna river opposite Marietta about 6.45 in the evening. A party of three young men and a girl from York came from the York county shore, where they were camping, in a canoe, and when returning the canoe upset. The river was very stormy at the time and the water was deep. Young Gorser, with a number of other boys was swimming at the time and heard the cries for help. Gorser started out in the boat and when he reached them they were about down and out and would have perished had not Gorser reached them when he did. Edgar R. Villee, of Marietta, believing that Gorser should be awarded a medal wrote to the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, and after investigation it was decided they could not give him a medal, as it did not come within the scope of the fund, although they thought the act was commendable. The Ralston Purino Hero Commission of St. Louis, Mo., was next gotten in touch with, and after an investigation, and testimonials given by Messrs. Villee, Moyer, of the Reformed Church, and Chester W. Rudisill, pharmacist at the McCloskey Drug store, the commission has voted a medal for Gorser, and he will receive it with a great ovation, in the near future. The commission states: "Application has been made for the Ralston Purino Hero Medal, for Frank P. Gorser, Jr., of Marietta, Pa., as he saved four people from drowning on July 28, 1916, when a canoe in which they were riding upset in the Susquehanna river. The case has been thoroughly investigated by the Ralston Purino Hero Commission and a bronze hero medal has been voted to Frank P. Gorser, Jr. The medal has been engraved and will go forward soon."

Messrs. Villee, Moyer and Rudisill will arrange, with the assistance of others, for a public demonstration in the near future, to be held in Central Hall, to which the people of the town will be invited. A musical program is being prepared and prominent speakers will attend.

Will Ask State to Take Ephrata Cloister Buildings

Marietta, March 13.—Efforts are being made to have the State take over the historic cloister buildings at Ephrata and have them preserved in their original form. The Lancaster County Historical Society has endorsed the project. The strong argument for State purchase is based upon the fact that the cloister looked after many soldiers and others during the Revolutionary War, and a large number of patriots are buried there. Several years ago a monument was erected to their memory by the State.

FALL CAUSES DEATH

Blain, Pa., March 13.—Mrs. Henry Bistline, of Beavertown, one and one-half miles south of Blain, died at her home yesterday after a brief illness from internal injuries. She was attending to her household duties several days ago and slipped on the ice. She was about 80 years old and is survived by her husband and one son, John H. Bistline. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

PAID FOR RUM FIRST

Reading, Pa., March 13.—Because her husband made it a point of honor to pay his liquor bills first when he got his pay, but took less interest in meeting the bills to keep his family, Mrs. Annie M. Whitman, this city, should be awarded a medal for her heroic deed. Young Gorser, who was in good standing at the booze store, there was usually very little left for the family, Mrs. Whitman alleges.

PROTESTS REQUEST

Norristown, Pa., March 13.—Saying that she believes her sister, Margaret Shore, was persuaded to give a $1,500 legacy to Mother St. Chantal, superior of St. Joseph's Protectors here, by undue influence, Mary E. Keffer, of Reading, yesterday instituted proceedings in the Orphans' Court to have declared invalid the will upon which Register Miller has granted letters to Attorney Henry I. Fox, executor.

Things That Interest a Woman

"The Philadelphia Record" was the first newspaper in this country to publish a Woman's Page daily, and though many have since followed its example none has yet succeeded in producing one possessing such a community of woman's interests, or that offers its feminine readers such a splendid page of news pertaining to their interests.

Twice a week it is devoted to Domestic Science, pointing out practical ways to reduce the cost of living; giving appetizing menus that make it easy to plan three satisfying meals a day; showing how to do this, that or the other thing more easily; delving deep into all of the difficulties of housekeeping and successfully solving many of its knottiest problems.

This department, as well as the Domestic Science Page on Sunday, is under the personal supervision of Mrs. Nevada Hitchcock, the famous dietician, lecturer and instructor in Domestic Economy.

On the other days of the week this page is devoted to general feminine activities. Fashions are sketched by our own artist in Paris, at Palm Beach, in New York, in Philadelphia's shops, so that the latest quip and turn of the mode is quickly pictured and described.

Society is in the capable hands of Miss Agnes Repplier, 2d, probably one of the best-known social writers in this country, and she gives you the latest news of society's events in a most enjoyable and entertaining fashion.

And all other woman's activities receive similarly generous attention, making this a page that is invariably of unequalled interest in every particular.

Why not notify your newsdealer to deliver "The Record" to your home regularly? Or if more convenient notify us and we will attend to it for you.
