

Little Lighthouse Girl Finds Distant Playmates

It's a far cry from the lighthouse at Fairhaven, N. Y., to Omaha, Neb., but Helen Fitzpatrick, a little girl lives all alone without any playmates at the lighthouse, has found playmates in that distant Western city and actually plays games and enters into competitions with them.

As life taught symbolism to the Indians, so the symbolism of the Camp Fire movement is teaching real life to its girl members. For instance, Helen Fitzpatrick learned to press a skirt and coat; to air and make a bed; to take care of a room, including sweeping, dusting, washing windows and caring for flowers; to take charge of the pantry; to take daily care of two kerosene lamps; to scrub a floor; to take care of a baby at least an hour a day; to bait a hook, catch, clean and cook a fish; to make a head-band, and to make a ceremonial dress.

For each of these accomplishments, the tasks being performed for stated lengths of time, she was allowed to put certain specified bead decorations on her Camp Fire dress, and the acquisition of all ten of them has brought her the title of Wood Gath, and many letters from her distant playmates who have sent her photographs of themselves in their own earned Camp Fire dresses.

"It Saved My Life" Says W. F. Burger

Transfer Company Man Says Tanlac Saved Him From Going Down and Out

WAS IN VERY BAD SHAPE

"Tanlac is the greatest tonic on the market," says W. F. Burger, of 1532 Thompson St., Harrisburg, Pa., a well-known Harrisburg Transfer Company man.

"I was about ready to go down and out for keeps and I can truthfully say that Tanlac pulled me back from the edge of the jumping off place."

"I have to be out in all kinds of weather and the exposure had so weakened my system that I was all run down and my blood was chock full of badness."

"My face was covered with big nasty pimples and blotches. I had hives all over my body and I had chills and fever so bad that I felt that I would be racked to pieces."

"I certainly was in rotten bad condition and I was near desperate when I heard about Tanlac."

"It sure did sound good to me and I went to it quick, and it was all I hoped for and more for it fixed me up right off the bat. I began to feel better right away and now I feel as if I had never had a sick day in my life."

"My chills and fever has gone away; those blotches and pimples are clearing up fast and the hives have fled the camp. Just get a bottle of Tanlac to me and I'll tell them that Tanlac is the real medicine."

"Tanlac, the famous reconstructive tonic, is now being introduced here at Gorman's Drug Store, where the Tanlac man is meeting the people and explaining the merits of this master medicine."

Dr. Ferdinand King says:

EVERY WOMAN EVERY MOTHER EVERY DAUGHTER NEEDS IRON AT TIMES

To put strength in her nerves and color in her cheeks.

There can be no beautiful, healthy, rosy cheeked woman without iron. The trouble in the past has been that when women needed iron, which often corroded the stomach and did far more harm than good. To-day doctors prescribe the organic iron—Nuxated Iron.

This particular form of iron is easily assimilated, does not blacken nor injure the teeth nor upset the stomach. It will increase the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, irritable, careworn, haggard-looking women 200 per cent. in two weeks' time in many instances. I have used it in my own practice with most surprising results.

NOTE: NUXATED IRON recommended above by Dr. King can be obtained from any good druggist, with or without a physician's prescription, on an absolute guarantee of success or money refunded. It is dispensed in this city by Croll Keller, G. A. Gorman, J. Nelson Clark and all good druggists.

GIVES DEALERS WEIGHT TABLES

Pounds Per Bushels For Each Commodity Shown in City Inspector Reel's List

City dealers, with an amendment pending in Legislature which would compel them to sell all produce by weight instead of measure, are being furnished with a table giving the weights per bushel of all commodities by Harry D. Reel, city inspector of weights and measures.

In compiling the table, Inspector Reel included many articles not included in the food list, such as seeds, nuts, beans, coal, rocks, sand, lime and other supplies. The present law while it gives dealers permission to use measures, requires certain weights for these commodities. The amendment, however, would make it compulsory to sell entirely by weight. This plan has been favored by the State organization of Inspectors of Weights and Measures.

Inspector Reel's table includes weights for each bushel, half bushel, peck, half peck and quarter peck. Following is the list giving the weights per bushel, half bushel and peck:

Table with 4 columns: Commodity, Bushel Weight, Half Bushel Weight, Peck Weight. Includes items like Apples, Apples dried, Barley, Beans, Beans castor, Beets, Blue-Grass Seed, Bran, Broom-Corn Seed, Buckwheat, Cabbage, Carrots, Cement, Charcoal, Cherries with stems, Cherries stemmed, Chestnuts hulled, Clover Seed, Coal anthracite, Coal bituminous, Coal stone, Coke, Corn ear (husked), Corn Meal, Corn (shelled), Cranberries, Cucumbers, Currant, Flaxseed, Gooseberries, Grapes, Hair (plastering), Hempseed, Herd's Grass, Hickory Nuts, Hominy, Horseradish, Hungarian Grass Seed, Kaffir Corn, Lentils, Lime, Linseed, Malt, Millet, Oats, Onions, Onion Sets, Orchard Grass Seed, Parsnips, Peaches, Peaches dried (p'd), Peaches d'd (unp'd), Peanuts, Pears, Pears dried, Peas green (unsh'd), Plums, Popcorn (unshelled), Potatoes, Potatoes sweet, Quinces, Rape Seed, Raspberries, Red Top Grass Seed, Rice, Rice rough, Rutabagas, Rye, Rye Meal, Salt (coarse), Salt (ground), Sand, Shorts, Spelt, Sorghum Seed, Strawberries, Timothy Seed, Tomatoes, Turnips, Walnuts (common), Wheat.

To find the weight of a quart of any of the above commodities, divide the weight per bushel of said commodity by two and call the answer ounces, which will be the weight of one quart.

S. P. C. A. Notes

One of the forms of work to which the American Red Star Animal Relief is devoted is care of the sanitation of the shipping point, and the use of proper care. Dr. E. Vans Agnew, veterinarian of the United States army, in a recent article in the National Humane Review, says:

"The great curse to-day on the Mexican border is shipping fever or influenza. While I was buying horses I could hear them coughing all around me. We no doubt bought animals coming down with this disease. Under the contract system the animals are rushed from different points to the buying station for inspection. Though some of the animals had been traveling several days, all were hustled from the cars almost without food or water and brought before us in an impoverished condition. The horses really showed no symptoms of disease save that they were gaunt, so we would take them. The same night the horses were started for San Antonio or El Paso and given another three or four days' journey. By the time they reached their destination the animals were simply poor wrecks—their whole system run down—subject to disease in its most virulent form."

"The slatted cattle cars are not proper to ship horses in. The animals are frequently brought direct from pasture. The excitement and often the temperature of the car causes them to sweat profusely. This is followed by a sudden chill when the train starts. The effect is to make them very susceptible to throat and lung disease."

The modern mother quickly learns to shun for her children the neighbor who feeds them indiscriminately. There are just as many good reasons for not feeding another's dog. Before thoughtlessly interfering with the diet of some carefully reared animal ask yourself if you are willing to pay for the veterinary if the dog becomes ill from mistaken kindness.

Tantalizing an animal is a thoughtless habit that is unconsciously cruel. A veterinarian of the United States Navy says:

"There are far too many people in the world who play with a dog for their own amusement, without caring whether the dog cares to participate in the play, and actually are willing to enjoy themselves at his expense. They tickle his ears, or the pads of his paws, they roll him over on the ground when he wants to stand up, and even offer him tempting morsels which they have no intention of letting him eat, for the pleasure of seeing the pleading look in his eyes."

"GIVE US BREAD!" THEY CRIED TO MAYOR MITCHEL OF NEW YORK

Hundreds of Jewish women of the populous Ghetto of the east side of the city, driven to desperation by the high prices for bread, meat, coal and other necessities of life, stormed the city hall of New York City the other day demanding to see the mayor. "Give us bread!" scores of them cried. Mrs. Ida Harris, president of the Women's Vigilance League, which has agitated the subject, was leader. The police gently pushed the women back and they went off to their homes without bread.

A FOOLISH TRIFLE

Dear Miss Fairfax: I was going about with a young man (out of town) for about one year. Then I visited in his own home town and he gave me my engagement ring in his home in the presence of his relatives, when I came home with same, my parents said he should have given me my ring in my home. I likewise think he should have given me my ring in my home, but my friend thinks he was right. Kindly inform me whether my friend or my parents are right.

X. Y. Z. There is no question of right or wrong involved. Your fiance felt a natural desire to have your engagements made in his home, and you ought to be complimented at his eagerness to give you the ring of betrothal.

LUCKY STRIKE

WHEN your breakfast toast is just right — buttered piping hot; brown, crisp, delicious — you'll admit that it's a little bit of Heaven on a dark morning.

Keep this agreeable thought in mind as you read about the new Lucky Strike cigarette. Because it's "tied up" with this same good old kitchen stove idea. The tobacco—it's toasted; and what that toasting does to the delicious Burley flavor! My!

There's been a big demand for a cigarette ready-made from Burley tobacco. Last year you had to pour the Burley out of those green, red and blue tins—enough for 35 billion cigarettes.

But until we made this toasting discovery a ready-made Burley cigarette wasn't possible—we couldn't hold the flavor. But now! Well, just try it—Lucky Strike—the real Burley cigarette; the tobacco—it's toasted.

Our men will demonstrate to you how the tobacco is toasted—at many stores.
