QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

This Little Girl Had the Whooping Cough

There isn't any "cure" for this disease, but her mother wisely rubbed her with the "external" treatment—Vick's VapoRub salve, which loosens the phlegm, and eases the coughing paroxysm. Better than internal medicines for all forms of croup or cold troubles.

Mrs. Walter Bishop, 133 Wright St., Corry, Pa., keeps a "Bodyguard" on hand to protect the family from all forms of cold troubles. This Bodyguard is the Southern remedy, Vick's VapoRub Salve, and you just apply it externally—no harsh medicine to swallow. VapoRub is absorbed through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness, and is also inhaled as a vapor. Mrs. Bishop used it on her little girl for whooping

QUEEN OF GREECE GAINS LOVE OF HER SUBJECTS

Blockade of Country's Ports Gives Her Opportunity to Do Much Work

By Associated Press

Athens, Greece, March 12. — The blockade of the ports of Greece by the allied powers has furnished Queen Sophie her opportunity to endeavor herself to the Greek people. She was already the head of all the more important charities. As a result her work has always been very quiet and generally very little known or appreciated. During the twenty-eight years that she has been queen of Greece, the Hellenes, she has been rather a negative figure.

On the declaration of the blockade, however, she took up the active organization of the relief work among the blockade sufferers. To do this she had at command the committees of all the numerous charities she has established in the Greek capital as well as the central committee of the National League of Reservists, the mutual benefit organization of the veterans of the two late Balkan wars.

The committee of the Reservists' League set about collecting subscriptions under the patronage of the queen, in the west-end Athenian family and even approaching the neutral diplomats for funds to assist the blockade sufferers. The distribution of the funds so collected is being conducted by the committee to the sick and by the committee for the assistance of working women to the needy. Queen Sophie herself personally follows and directs all the work and makes large contributions to it from her private purse.

Queen Little Known

Outside of her charities, the Kaiser's sister has never before occupied much of a place in the hearts of the Greek people. The King, as personal commander in chief of the army, the victor in two successive wars, and a man of great personal magnetism, has completely overshadowed her. While in every shop, cafe and office in Greece there hangs a portrait of King Constantine, portraits of Queen Sophie have hitherto been rare. It has only been since her active work in behalf of the blockade sufferers that there have appeared generally in the Athenian shops calendars with the Queen's picture on them, as well as the familiar ones bearing the King's picture.

Nor does the Kaiser's sister take a very active part in the social life of Athens. The King and Queen dine once a week regularly at the King's numerous brothers. Queen Sophie seldom attends there. Her pet charity is her shop in which the home work of Greek women is sold. But her sister-in-law, the Princess Alice of Battenberg, the wife of the King's brother, Prince Andrew, runs a shop of the same character, in competition with the Queen's just across Constitution Square from Queen Sophie's.

In the Princess Alice shop all the models are American—for hats, fine women's underclothing, dresses and other feminine nick-nacks. The American fashion papers set all the Princess Alice styles, and it is a source of great pride to her that every article sold in her shop that is not a production of characteristic Greek costumes or peasant women's embroideries, is made after American designs.

Royal Family Clannish

The royal family of Greece is very clannish, and there are frequent family reunions at the houses of the King's numerous brothers. Queen Sophie seldom attends there. Her pet charity is her shop in which the home work of Greek women is sold. But her sister-in-law, the Princess Alice of Battenberg, the wife of the King's brother, Prince Andrew, runs a shop of the same character, in competition with the Queen's just across Constitution Square from Queen Sophie's.

GOVERNOR TELLS OF HOUCK'S WORTH

High Praise For the Lebanon Man From His Old-Time Friend

Governor Brumbaugh last night issued the following statement expressing his appreciation of Dr. Henry Houck, his colleague in educational work for many years, and a personal friend of long standing:

"The death of Henry Houck is a great loss to this Commonwealth. Personally it is a great loss, for I knew him well and loved him sincerely. His long and helpful public service has endeared him to thousands. His sympathy for others was boundless and his services were given freely and without stint. More people will rise to call him blessed than for any other single individual in our State.

"He carried, as a schoolman, the light of a sane educational policy into the entire country and to the islands of the sea. His death will be mourned by thousands of firesides in every part of our land.

"He was to the last cheerful, helpful, happy in his altruistic labors and the vacant place his death creates will long remain. He was the best exemplar of the gospel of sunshine I ever knew. His life was a benediction and his death a calamity. We love him and we shall cherish with sacred concern the memory of his gentle, noble life."

The college and university council adopted this resolution yesterday: "Whereas, It has pleased an all-wise Providence to call to his everlasting reward the Honorable Henry Houck, for the last ten years Secretary of Internal Affairs and previously for many years deputy superintendent in the Department of Public Instruction;

"Therefore, Be it resolved that in his death the teachers of the State and the Nation have lost a most valued friend and collaborator; that the Commonwealth has lost a most efficient public servant, and that all who knew his sterling qualities of head and heart feel the irreparable loss of a most unique and charming personality; and that the college and university council cannot refrain from bearing testimony to his many rare virtues and noble qualities, to the efficiency and success of his long career in public life and to his deserved popularity among all classes of his fellow citizens, regardless of party, or creed or nationality."

A perfect food—just enough protein to build healthy muscle, just enough carbohydrates to supply heat and energy, just enough bran to keep the bowels healthy and active.
