ALL TRAINMEN NOT TO RESPOND

found one Judas among the twelve. He selected," Mr. Lee said. "We therefore do not hope to beat his record...

"Don't forget that we left the entire matter to President Wilson last August, and agreed to abide by his proposal then...

"The railroads seemingly prefer a strike rather than abide by President Wilson's suggested method of settlement. Who is disloyal to the government?"

Strike Order Issued A copy of the formal notification that a strike has been authorized...

"A refusal of the passenger men to observe these instructions," the order says, "will not only violate the laws of their respective organizations...

"The order explains that this action affecting men on passenger and exclusive milk and mail trains was taken after many days of careful consideration..."

"First, that the public may be inconvenienced as little as possible; that exclusive milk and mail trains, in addition to passenger trains, may be run, thereby preventing suffering to children, or serious inconvenience in business."

Look For "Scabs" "Second, our membership will be expected to come in contact with the public to explain our position...

"Third, it is a well known fact that at the same time they will be in a position to keep us in touch with what is going on for at least five days."

"Fourth, the history of all strikes which lasted any length of time, is that the passenger trains were run to greater or less degree."

"Fifth, while we are prepared for the worst the die has been cast; there is no turning back, but we hope and our word to that effect has been given to the passenger men leaving the service."

The order expressed the "sincere hope that none of our membership will be required to withdraw from the service" and concluded:

"It was decided not to call a nationwide strike if it can be avoided and our word to that effect has been given to the President of the United States and to many of our friends in the Senate and House of Representatives. If it becomes necessary, however, to leave the country in the hands of scabs, we will not hesitate to call upon as many lines as necessary to make this movement a success, and while it was necessary for some system or group of lines to make the issue first, our confidence in the membership on all the lines is the same should it be necessary to call upon them."

NEWS OF STEELTON

NEED CLOTHING FOR POOR PERSONS

Work of Nurses' Association Is Hampered by Scarcity of Material

With scarcely enough clothing to keep warm and sufficient food to eat, a family of five; a widow, an infant, three children whose ages are two, four and six years, respectively...

This family is only one of a number that depend on the Nurses' Association for assistance. Aside from taking care of these husbandless and fatherless families the association is looked upon for assistance from families in the borough where sickness has totally disabled the bread winner.

The West Side family has been provided for by the association for some time and with the mother unable to work on account of sickness much is left to the charitable body. This family is supplied with coal and some food while neighbors relieve the association quite a bit by donations.

Even though the mother was partly able to work, with the care of these children on her hands she could not leave her abode because her weekly allowance would not be sufficient to compensate some person to take care of her children. The children are ill at present.

A recent appeal for clothing and contributions made by THE HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH placed much clothing in the hands of the committee. The need for children's clothing becomes greater every day, and members of the association have issued another call for material.

"Now that house cleaning is approaching," said a member to-day, "much old clothing will be unearthed which would assist the association in relieving to some extent the conditions prevalent among the poorer class of the borough."

All contributions left at McCurdy's drug store, Front street, will be greatly appreciated by association members.

CABINET CALLED TO STUDY SITUATION

ed the members for this afternoon. A general impression prevails in official circles that the President, before going further, will appeal to both railroads and men not to plunge the country into a railway strike at this critical juncture of international affairs.

Further than the President's purposes have not been openly disclosed. It is known that one element in the cabinet, regarded as favoring the labor side of the controversy, is pressing to let the situation come to a strike if the railroads do not yield, on the assumption that the strike will be successful.

Unpatriotic Act Another element, regarding a strike at this time as a national calamity, almost an unpatriotic act, is pressing for vigorous action to prevent it.

Some of the President's advisors hold the view that he has full constitutional authority to take the railroads and graft officials and men to operate them a nthe ground of a national emergency.

Some of the President's advisors pointed out to-day that while he favored the contentions of the men in the controversy last fall, that was purely a matter between the men and the railroads. The situation now they say, concerns the government vitally and that in such a situation the President regards the government's interests as overshadowing all others.
