

Threaten Death to American Ship Captains

Berne, Switzerland, March 17.—The crews of armed merchantmen who venture to fire upon a German submarine before a state of war exists between Germany and the United States must expect to meet the fate of Captain Fryatt, warns the Muenchner Neueste Nachrichten, a copy of which has reached Bern, in commenting on the announcement of the State Department that American merchantmen will be armed.

"We assume," the newspaper says, "that President Wilson realizes the fate to which he is subjecting his armament. According to the German prize laws, it is unneutral support of the enemy if a neutral ship takes part in hostilities."

The Captain Fryatt referred to in the foregoing dispatch was Captain Charles Fryatt, of the Great Eastern Railway steamship Brussels. He was tried before a German naval court-martial, July, 1916, and shot to death because he had attempted to ram the German submarine U-33.

SALOON CABARETS
Philadelphia, March 17.—Saloon cabarets with dance floors will not be tolerated, Judges Martin and Finletter announced yesterday in license court.

Although they were undecided whether the big hotels and restaurants should be made to eliminate dancing where drinks are served, they made it clear that no license will be renewed to saloons in residential districts where dancing and cabaret features are used as "stimulants to thirst."

"If there is not trade enough to maintain a tavern without the fictitious attraction, then there is no necessity for it and there should be no license," said Judge Finletter.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath of "TIZ."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "TIZ" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "TIZ" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "TIZ." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will find joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

PROMINENT MEN GIVE MILITARY TRAINING VIEWS

CAPT. GEORGE F. LUMB, STATE POLICE, WRITES:

"Replying to your letter of the 13th inst. requesting my views on military trainings, permit me to say that I have for a long time held definite views of my own on this subject which, if you will pardon me, prevent me from giving preference to either of the schemes as they appear to me at present.

"It is therefore impossible to answer your letter quite to the point, but I will hazard my plan and leave it to you to dispose of the suggestion, and the letter, as you wish."

"In my campaigning in the Philippine Islands and China I frequently saw the paths of sending young men who had not been properly seasoned on active service. One recruit from St. Louis who joined us in the field had no more conception of the value of his career of water than to drink it all at the family stages of the day's march. Later in the day a skirmish drew on our vitality and this youngster became a raving maniac, dying that night in a straight-jacket. Several things contributed to his death; lack of knowledge as to his personal endurance, flabby, undeveloped muscles, worry due to unusual environment, and the pitiful lack of respect for lusty manhood exhibited by our parents in this country."

Young Men of U. S. Flabby
"This is only one example of many I could cite; frankly I read the text-book history of the days of 1810 to 1860 with a sneer that I would rather not acknowledge. Take this from me, and I make no qualifications: the young men of the United States are the most flabby and undeveloped set of any nation in the civilized world. It takes courage to say this, but now is not the time to write mush and hyperisies.

"We are a luxury-loving, self-indulgent race that hardly knows the meaning of the word self-sacrifice or self-denial.

"Let us have a stiff compulsory educational law, uniform throughout the States. Let us have compulsory physical training, under real men as instructors, for all of both sexes after the age of ten in the public schools and then let every boy who graduates from high school and every other boy at a given age serve for one year in the regular army to repay his country for his mental and physical education. It will be fair to all, and the boys will respond manfully. You will divert the honor of the poolroom that covers up the illegal sale of cigars and a thousand other vices into the honor of a soldier. There is much that one who has climbed from the bottom up could say on this subject, but I will burden you no further than to say that our boys in themselves are all right, but the way those responsible for their guidance and training neglect their duty is a crime, if nations can commit crimes."

DR. GEORGE E. HAWES, PASTOR OF MARKET SQUARE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, WRITES:

"Touching the question of universal military training, and whether it should be for six months, or a longer period, permit me to say that the questions involved are too many to say, without qualifications, that I am in favor of one against the other, or something else against both."

"The situation is one which concerns the present rather than the future. If it were about the future you are asking I would say that neither measure will fit the situation. But we are living in a present which is ominous. The issue to-day is to "smash militarism." If this world war succeeds in dealing the death blow to Prussian militarism we will not need any military training for our citizens for a generation. If Germany wins in the war we will not be allowed to train our citizens for military service. Either way, win or lose, militarism for the next generation will in all probability be a dead issue."

Duty to Recruit Navy
"If your question involved the present I would say that the navy up to full strength. When the first merchantman goes down the navy will be needed at once for the work a navy can do. Then we need enough of an army to take care of Mexico. We will probably be at the border before long. When we do go over I am hoping that question will be settled once for all by putting up the American flag in such a way that it will never come down. We are destined to have control of every thing from the Lakes to the Isthmus. I sincerely trust that there will be nothing like the "Platt Amendment" which was passed by Congress concerning Cuba. Perhaps the wish is father to the thought, but I cannot feel much dread about Japan. England will see to it that her ally does not do much hurt to America. Then we may need an army to go over and help take Constantinople, or to do battle somewhere in France. The real issue, as I see it, is the terrible present crisis."

COAL MINES ARE HIT BY EMBARGO

Anthracite Workers Must Quit if Railway Strike Takes Place

Scranton, March 17.—Embargoes announced here to-day by the railroads entering this city mean a shutting down of the coal mines operated by those companies within a few days and the throwing of thousands out of work unless the threatened railroad strike is averted.

After Saturday the Delaware and Hudson will not accept any freight other than supply fuel for its own use and milk and cream, it was announced. The twenty mines of the company employing close to 20,000 men will work only until available empty cars are filled with coal and hauled to sidings.

The Erie laid a similar embargo effective to-day, refusing all coal and other freight between Erie points or to connecting roads. The subsidiaries of the Erie operate 20 collieries employing about 15,000 men. These mines will be worked to-day and until empty cars are filled and stored on sidings.

The Lackawanna Railroad embargoed only shipments to connecting oceans, has been received here by roads to points of the Lackawanna. This company has 26 mines and employs 25,000 men in its mining department which will be thrown out of work in case of a strike.

The Ontario and Western Railroad placed an embargo to-day on all freight except coal and milk.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey here made no change to-day other than to accept freight subject to loss or damage through delay.

MODEL'S MURDER STILL UNSOLVED

Coroner's Jury Is Unable to Fix Blame at Formal Inquest

Philadelphia, March 17.—Ignoring the theory of the police that Bernard W. Lewis, of Pittsburgh, killed Mazie Colbert, the model, who was slain in her apartments at Fifteenth and Poplar streets, December 29 last, a coroner's jury rendered a verdict that she met death at the hands of an unidentified person.

The inquest was marked by a tilt between Dr. John Marshall, a bacteriologist, and Dr. Wadsworth, the coroner's physician. Dr. Marshall stated there was a possibility that blood found on the woman's bed clothing had come from wounds she is supposed to have inflicted by biting Lewis on the fingers. Dr. Wadsworth declared there was no just reason to believe that the injuries on Lewis' hand were inflicted by the woman.

Magistrate Harry Imber, who had been mentioned as a friend of the slain woman, was among those interrogated. He admitted that he had known Miss Colbert for ten years, but emphatically denied he possessed important information in regard to the crime.

Charles Kaler, a wealthy brewer, of Mahanoy City, testified to having talked with Miss Colbert by telephone the day before she was killed and to having arranged to meet her on the day of the murder.

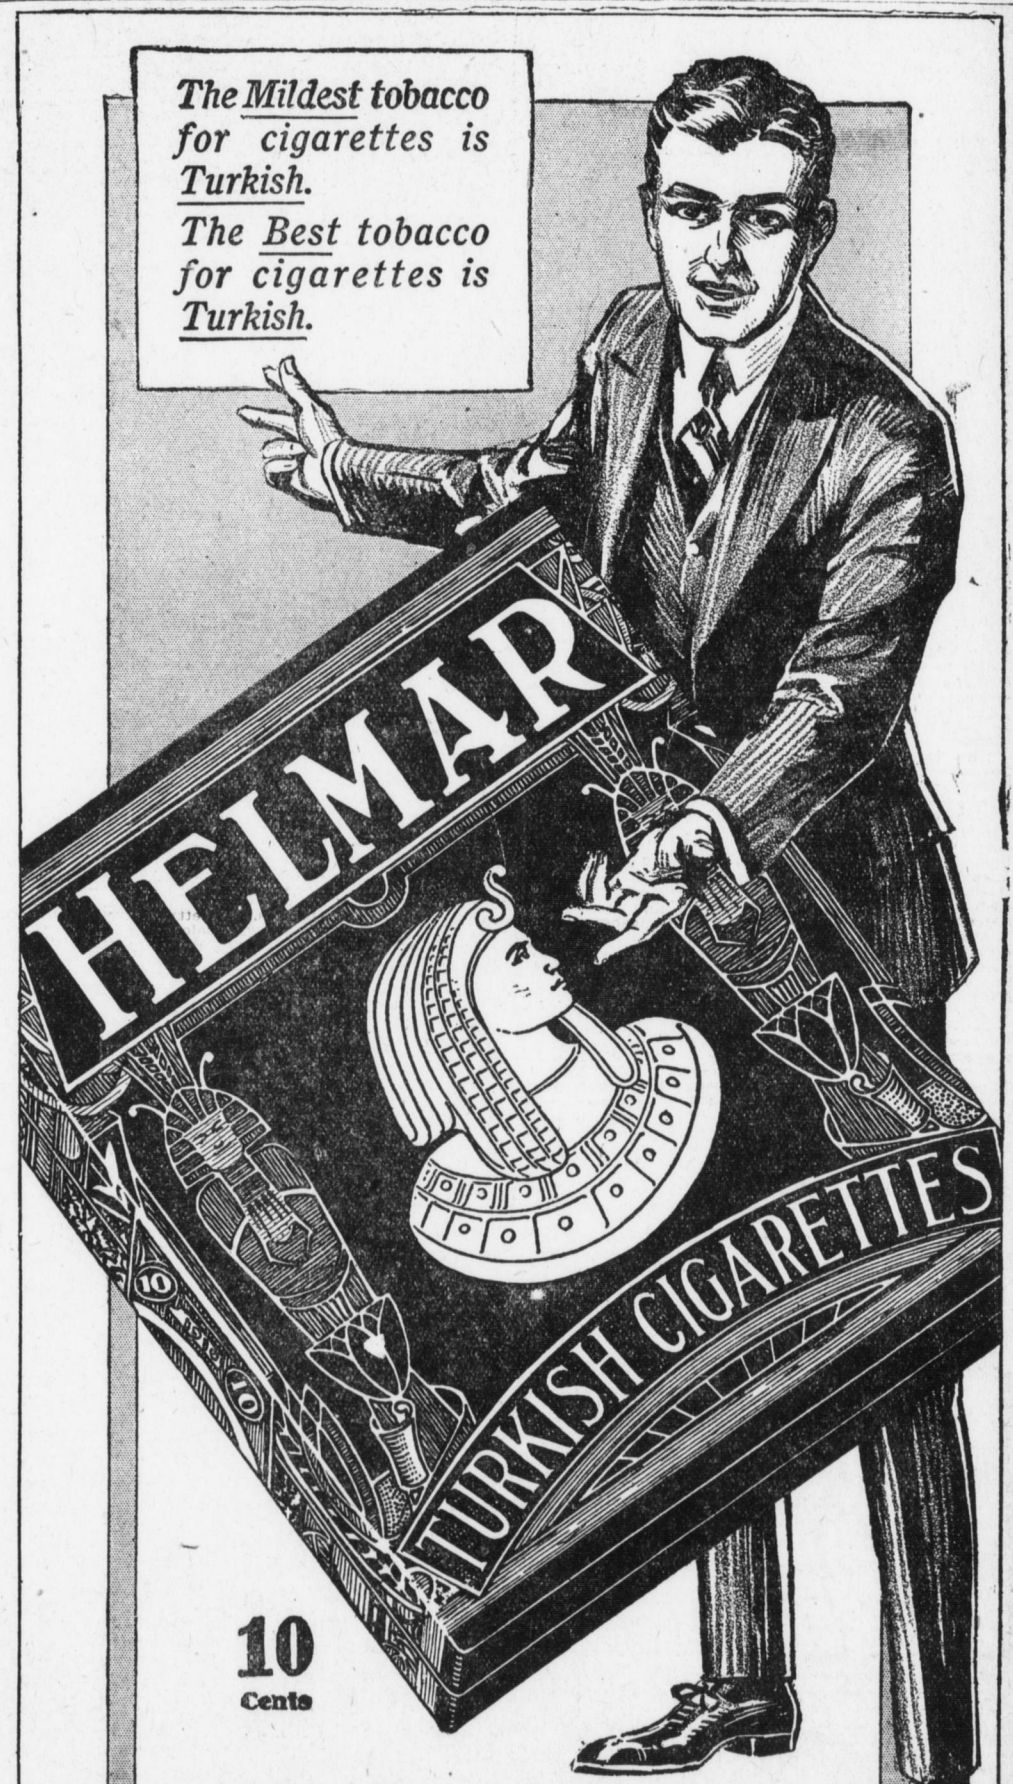

"But instead of keeping the appointment with a friend," Miss Ethel Kyle and her sister, Max Germantown, school teachers, stated that on the night preceding the murder Lewis had taken them home in a taxicab. The chauffeur testified he afterward drove Lewis to the apartment house at Fifteenth and Poplar streets.

Killer killed himself in an Atlantic City hotel after the murder as detectives sought to arrest him on a technical charge of defrauding the chauffeur.

Charges Brother Stole Wife's Love; Asks Divorce

Washington, Pa., March 17.—In filing a suit for a divorce from his pretty wife Morris E. Barrows, a wealthy glass manufacturer of Washington, named his brother, George Barrows, as co-respondent.

The Barrows were married December 3, 1910, and separated October 7, 1916. The husband declares he had suspected the attentions of his brother. Finally he accused his wife, and she frankly admitted that she had formed an affair with the co-respondent named much stronger than that she formerly had for her husband.

Miss Florence Snyder, an investigator for Detective Jensen, of the league, complained that she had been approached in court and told to pack up her things and "get out." Lift your corns or calluses off with fingers! Doesn't hurt a bit!

A noted Cincinnati chemist discovered a new ether compound and called it freezeone and it now can be had in tiny bottles as here shown for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of freezeone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freezeone or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! Seems magical. It works like a charm. Genuine freezeone has a yellow label. Don't accept any except with the yellow label.

New York, March 17.—Cornelius J. Sullivan, as special guardian of John Jacob Astor, 4 years of age, has filed a report approving the accounts of the boy's mother, Mrs. Madeleine Force Astor Dick. She reported that she had expended about $75 a day for the maintenance of the infant from the income he is entitled to as an heir to $3,000,000.

Sullivan praised Mrs. Dick for her self-sacrifice in behalf of her son, whose father died in the wreck of the Titanic. He calls attention to the fact that the boy has a sufficient allowance of the surrogate sufficient to maintain her young son and has to draw on her own resources.

The court permits her to expend only $20,000 a year from her son's income. She finds this sum not enough and spends some of her own money to make up the deficit.
