Common Sense Advice On Care of the Stomach

If dyspeptics, sufferers from gas, win or flatulence, stomach acidity or sourness, gastric catarrh, heartburn, etc., would take a teaspoonful of pure bisurated magnesia in half a glass of hot water, many would soon forget stomach trouble, and dectors would have to look elsewhere for patients.

Physicians tell us that most forms of stomach trouble are due to stomach acidity or fermentation of the food formach in the stomach. A cup of hot water taken with a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia before meals will wash out mucus and fund to prevent food fermentation of the cook, as follows:

Two trains arrived at the station at the excess acidity. Shipping Proceeds as Usual Despite Activity of Undersea Campaign

London, March 20 .- A visit around the harbors and docks of London, Liverpool and Manchester undertaken

Liverpool and Manchester undertaken with a view to observing how the German submarine blockade has affected them shows that "business as usual" is the rule in the British ports.

There has been no apparent slackening of trade at any point and the slight holding up of neutral shipping has not yet had any reflection in the weekly tonnage and trade reports of the port authorities. In each of the three ports visited the figures of arrivals and departures make a favorable comparison with the figures of three months or a year ago, and in each of these ports the stocks of foodstuffs and other merchandise stand at better than a peace time basis.

A few Dutch and Scandinavian ships have been held in port under their owners' orders and some of these have now been paying dock charges for nearly a month. Most neutral ships, however, after a few days' delay at the outset of the submarine blockade decided to lift their anchors and go on with business. Dock charges are heavy and profits in trade too large to allow a ship owner to hesitate very long, especially when insurance is easily obtainable to cover any and all risks. There is plenty of evidence on the other hand that the British admiralty is taking up the submarine question with the greatest energy. The arming of merchant ships goes on under rush orders at every port and few British ships are now leaving without guns and gun crews. There are other safeguards and protections also that the admiralty can offer. There is little that is permissible to tell as to the measures for obvious reasons, but some evidence of their effectiveness is found in the confidence of the sailors and the fact that none of them show any inclination to avoid sea duty. A few Dutch and Scandinavian ships
