VANDALS DAMAGE FRUIT ORCHARDS

Trees Cut Down and Bark Pealed From Others in South Mountain Region

Waynesboro, Pa., March 21.—Jacob W. Rock, who lives a half mile south of Quincy, has suffered from the depredations of miscreants. A year ago vandals went into his peach orchard, which was ready for bearing, and with hatchets or axes, cut down all the trees in the orchard.

Last Saturday night some one entered his apple orchard and ruined about fifty of his twelve-year-old apple trees by cutting the bark from them. The trees bore last year and gave a large yield. They also poisoned Mr. Rock's valuable dog the same night.

Two years ago vandals visited the young apple orchard of Mrs. Woolford, near Pen-Mar, and peeled the bark from one hundred of her trees, and two years previous to this the large fruit orchard of Charles O. Bonner, north of Waynesboro, was visited by vandals, who chopped off nearly all the apple and peach trees in one of his orchards. The trees were large enough to bear fruit.

CAN CONSCIENTIOUSLY RECOMMEND THIS KIDNEY MEDICINE

I believe and know that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a good medicine. Seventeen years ago I introduced it in this section and my knowledge of it has not failed to prove valuable in a single case. Many reports have come to me from people who claimed that Swamp-Root had cured them, and personally I am convinced that there is not a better kidney preparation on the market and I can recommend it conscientiously.

Very truly yours,

An Early Spring

will help the coal situation materially and will prevent any real suffering from the fuel famine.

The yards have less coal at this time of the year than in any past season, and there is barely enough for immediate needs.

We urge all our customers who need coal to order it at once and we will do our utmost to promptly fill all orders.

If war comes the railroads will be tied up with other transportation problems and no coal will be hauled from the mines. There is reason to act promptly.

Camp Hill, Pa., March 21.—Raymond A. Ketchledge, the newly-elected pastor of the Presbyterian Church, expects to locate here permanently in May. He is at present attending Princeton Seminary and will graduate in the spring.

Mr. Ketchledge has been active in church work nearly all his life. He was born November 19, 1891, at Brainards, N. J., and lived there until 1902, when he moved to Easton. In the fall of 1906 he entered the Easton High school in the classical course and graduated with honors in 1910, being class orator.

In 1908 he became a member of Olivet Presbyterian Church, at Easton, of which the Rev. Harvey B. Klaer, now of Covenant Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, was then pastor. He immediately became actively engaged in the Brotherhood, Boy Scout and Christian Endeavor work of the church. He pursued the classical course of study in Lafayette College, entering that institution in 1910. The following year he was a delegate to the International Christian Endeavor convention at Atlantic City. In addition to his seminary work he enrolled in the graduate school of Princeton University and will complete this course of studies leading to the degree of Master of Arts. ## LEWISTOWN IDEAL CONFERENCE TOWN

Methodists Finding it Delightful; Undergraduates Examined

Lewistown, Pa., March 21.—Lewistown is an ideal place for a Methodist Conference. The denomination has a church membership of fourteen hundred and a Sunday school enrollment of eighteen hundred in this little city of 10,000 population.

The town is not afflicted with the saloon business, having been made dry by the ruling of Judge Woods several years ago. The prosperity and good order of the people are evident on every side. A well-known citizen, wishing to direct his conference guests to the shortest cut from his home to the church said: "This narrow back street will bring you into close to the church."

Every one, even women, have no fears of traveling these narrow streets at night though they are not very well lighted. You are safe in Lewistown anywhere at any time. We have no lawless saloon element to terrify or harm anyone. They say the best people of the city are in the town, and it is very generally admitted that no man can be elected to any office in the county who is opposed by the church federation.

The church building in which the conference is held is among the most beautiful temples of worship in the conference. It is largely a monument to the skillful management and splendid work of the Rev. George W. Stevens, under whose pastorate it was erected. Many Harrisburg people remember the Rev. Mr. Stevens as the successful district superintendent some years ago. The church contains a beautiful Tiffany window, a $9,000 memorial gift which very greatly admired. The church in addition to having been beautified by the recent work recently has every convenience for the visitors.

Splendidly Equipped

Telephone, post office, book tables, with latest publications of devotional character, and a large social hall where preachers and laymen meet and exchange experiences of a year and where appointments are made and made as often as rumors concerning appointments are put into circulation. These lobby appointments, like the prophecies of the weatherman sometimes come true.

The Board of Examiners, whose work began Monday night and ended Tuesday night, is composed of the following ministers: J. E. Bell, E. A. Bucke, B. C. Conner, C. T. Dunning, G. M. Glenn, J. W. Glover, B. H. Hart, W. W. Hartman, E. R. Heckman, D. N. Miller, J. H. Morgan, B. H. Mosser, R. C. Peters, J. H. Price, J. M. Reilly, W. P. Shriner, J. E. Skillington, M. E. Swartz, A. S. Williams and G. S. Womer.

All Passed Belief

The results of the examinations have not been announced, but the undergraduates wear a satisfied expression and it is presumed they have all passed with the required grade. The Tuesday evening meeting opened with a large congregation present for the anniversary of the Conference Home Missionary Society which plans to give to every pastor in the conference a comfortable support by supplementing from the general fund the amount the local church pays, if that sum is below eight hundred dollars. The first speaker, E. W. Dickson, of Berwick, compared the wage of the average mechanic in these days and that of the average country pastor. He pleaded that the church at once give itself to another work, also that of establishing a home for the orphan children and another home to take care of the aged who are in need of such a sheltering place in the world.

The Rev. A. S. Williams, corresponding secretary of the society pleaded for more attention being given in the annual sessions to the discussion of our real problems and at home. The thought being made clear that "We can best serve the general interests by taking good care of the pressing problems of conversation within the boundaries of our own conference."

Each charge has been asked to contribute this year a sum for conference work which will be at least one-third of the amount given to the general Home Mission Board. He exhorted his hearers to apply the principles of the Gospel to the solution of the rural, city, industrial and social problems of our own great State.

Constructive Revolution

The closing address was made by Fred B. Fisher, of New York City, who took as his keynote the statement that the world is in a spirit of constructive revolution. In his own forceful way he discussed the world conditions, showing that democracy and liberty are everywhere coming to the forefront.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Graham, who are always in made favor as musicians at conference gatherings, sang, the session closing by the singing of America by the great congregation.

The Thursday program includes, morning business-session, afternoon institute hour when the Rev. Dr. George Edward Reed, of Harrisburg, will deliver an address on "The Preacher's Preparation For His Pulpit Work."

The evening meeting will be the anniversary of the Board of Education, and the Freeman's Aid Society, the Rev. Dr. B. C. Conner presiding. The address will be made by Dr. J. H. Morgan of Dickinson College, Carlisle. Dr. P. J. Maverty, of Cincinnati, and Dr. A. W. Harris, of New York.

Choose a Chalmers as You Do a Watch

Compare two watches. They may look exactly alike. They may be equal in diameter and thickness. They may weigh the same. Perhaps your eye can't distinguish any difference between the gold in the two. One may seem to keep as good time as the other.

Big Differences There
Yet there may be a vast difference. One may be a Tiffany Swiss and the other a non-descript.

True of Automobiles
The same is true of automobiles. Some other car may closely resemble a Chalmers. It may weigh about the same. Have about the same wheel base. The paint may look more or less alike—at first glance.

Yet there may be a vast difference. Differences you can discover only by the closest scrutiny and comparison.

Go Deep
If you are to get the correct idea of the Chalmers, you must go beneath the surface. There the big, important differences lie. Differences in materials. Differences in methods of building. Differences in quality of workmanship.

To look only at the exterior of the Chalmers you wouldn't discover that the gears and shafts of the transmission are of crucible nickel steel, case hardened and carefully heat treated.

All of the above means quality—the kind of quality you need in the car you buy, and the kind of quality you GET in the Chalmers.
