BEER AND DANCES CANNOT BE MIXED

Important Liquor Regulation Bill Presented to the Legislature Today

Another blow was aimed at the saloon to-day when Representative E. R. Smith, of Bedford county, introduced one of the most stringent bills in the House that has made its appearance in that battleground of liquor strife for years. Mr. Smith seeks to eliminate everything from the saloon as an attraction with the single exception of the liquor itself and in another measure, presented some weeks ago, he proposes an amendment to the State constitution providing for prohibition.

The baby member of the House, as he is known, because he is the youngest assemblyman in Pennsylvania, this young man from the mountains of Central Pennsylvania has been quite active this session for a new member and his new bill will attract widespread attention and be the subject of many discussions. The bill he presents will make the cabaret a thing of the past; will banish vaudeville and dancing from the precincts of licensed liquor houses and will eliminate any display of moving pictures as an inducement to have men line up at the mahogany and give orders to the bartenders and in addition would be a severe blow to the diningroom feature of many prominent cafes operated in conjunction to a saloon.

Senate and House Have Completed Work on a Number of Bills This Week

The Senate bill introduced by Mr. Schantz amending the act to authorize foreign corporations to become corporations of Pennsylvania by regulating the manner and place of acknowledging and recording the certificate of incorporation has been passed, finally by the Senate and goes to the House. At least three of the directors must acknowledge the certificate before the recorder of deeds of the county in which the chief operations are to be carried on. The corporation is to be credited with any bonus due the Commonwealth at the date of letters patent if bonus had previously been paid in another State.

Another bill that has gone through the final stages in the Senate is the act that requires banks holding county funds to pay interest of one and one-half per cent. on active accounts per annum and 2 per cent. on inactive holdings. This bill was introduced by Senator Eyrer.

The McCaig house bill transferring part of the fire marshal fund to a fund for the contingent traveling expenses of the State fire marshal and his deputies for the reporting of fire and mileage incident thereto, for the services of clerks for the investigation of incendiary fires and payment of services and expenses of detectives employed for special work in the detection and prosecution of the crime of arson also passed finally in the Senate and goes to the Governor.

By a vote of 29 to 3 the bill increasing the salary of the clerks to workmen's compensation referees to $1,500 and the salary of each referee to $5,000 passed finally in the upper branch. The joint resolution on the third reading calendar proposing an amendment to the public other than the functions of the office of associate judges not learned in the law went over at the request of Senator Schantz, his author.

"To the Ultimate Dishrag"

As buyer for the home, the woman should know the costs and values of everything, should keep a record of every cent received and every cent spent, says John M. Oskison in an article on the high cost of living in the May Mother's Magazine. The husband should turn to his wife and say something of this sort: "Every time you bring something into the house, analyze its cost history. Put down what you pay for it, add whatever other costs must be incurred in order to make use of it—if it's a roast, consider the fuel used in cooking it, the vegetables served with it, the gravy's cost—and then keep track of the number of times the members of this family are fed with that roast. Count the cost of the jellies or other special inducements used to make the roast attractive when cold. On the day the last of the roast disappears, sum up your costs. Keep them to compare with the costs for a similar period when you're running another menu schedule."

So it goes all through the complicated processes of living. To know not merely costs, but values, too, is the secret of successful conservatism. FOURTEEN PIGS AT BIRTH Blain, Pa., March 22.—Hogs have reached record prices at the public sales, but suckling pigs are expected to be plentiful this summer. Breaking the record in number, Alton D. Where Is William Penn? Money Awaits Him Here

Unless William Penn appears in the Delaware county court at Media on April 9, he is in danger of losing seventy-nine silver English pennies a year, ground rental on a tract of seventy-nine acres of land in Springfield township. Judge Bromall had ordered Penn to appear, on request of W. I. Schaffer, a lawyer. In looking up title to some land, Schaffer discovered that 232 years ago Penn had an agreement whereby he was to receive a silver penny for each acre, to be paid on the first day of each year. The claim has long since been "out-lawed," because Penn and his heirs have not appeared to claim the rent, but the agreement is still on the books, and Schaffer wants it formally removed.
