Colonial Dames Hear Essays Receiving Honorable Mention in State Contest

This was a gala day at the Camp Curtin school building, for this afternoon special exercises were held in Miss Baker's room by the Dauphin county committee, Colonial Dames of America, and two children of the school, Esther Stence and William Stenson, received honors.

Every year schools throughout Pennsylvania are invited to write essays on a given historical subject by the State Society of Colonial Dames, and three prizes are awarded, $25, $15 and $10 in gold and certificates of honorable mention.

After an interesting program, in which the school sang "Our Bright Starry Banner," Handel's "Largo" and the "Star Spangled Banner," and brief addresses were made by Dr. Frederick E. Downes, superintendent of city schools, and Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones, chairman of the Dauphin county prize committee, Mrs. Marlin E. Olmsted, county chairman, made a delightful little presentation speech, giving Esther Stence the State certificate for her fine essay on "Early Homes of the Continental Congress," and with it, as a surprise, a $5 gold piece from this chapter.

William Stenson, whose essay was unusually good, was given a $2 1/2 gold piece from the prize committee. These children are both 14 years old, and their training in English and composition by Miss Stambaugh has been thorough as is shown by this special work.

There were many relatives of the school pupils present to-day, as well as the Dauphin county committee of Colonial Dames which includes Mrs. Marlin E. Olmsted, Mrs. Robert A. Lamberton, Mrs. James Henry Darlington, Mrs. A. J. Herr, Mrs. Elizabeth Crain Kunkel, Mrs. A. P. L. Dull, Mrs. John Y. Boyd, Mrs. Mabel Cronise Jones and Miss Catharine Irwin Eggle.

UNIFORM RULES IN PUBLIC SERVICE

Chairman Ainey Holds Important Conference at the Capitol

Representatives of electric, natural and manufactured gas, water and steam heat companies to-day discussed with Chairman Ainey of the Public Service Commission, at the invitation of the commission, the framing of a general rule to govern the practice of companies requiring deposits from consumers until they establish a credit and what rate of interest should be paid on the deposits. It was found that practices differed according to localities. The representatives of the companies will file briefs. Among those who attended the hearing were Walter H. Johnson, vice-president of the State Electric Association; A. W. Robertson, various Pittsburgh light and electric companies; H. M. Curran and L. S. Williams, of the United Gas Improvement Company; J. H. Purdy, New York, representing water companies; D. I. McChill, and C. S. Jenks, representing the West Penn interests; L. S. Dutton, Philadelphia, representing gas companies and David O. Holbrook, Pittsburgh, representing natural gas producers. Adjutant General Stewart to-day announced the following appointments: Lieutenant Augustine S. The retirement of Major E. E. Keller, Philadelphia, field hospital No. 2, was announced with the transfer of Lieutenant O. M. Copelin, Harrisburg, to the reserve. He had been an officer in the Eighth Regiment for years. Commissioner of Health Dixon was 65 years of age to-day and members of his staff sent him flowers, while prominent men wired their congratulations. State officials also sent their cards to his office.

The Public Service Commission closed its hearings for the week to-day and will devote the early part of next to executive sessions.

Members of the Legislature are busy to-day discussing preparedness bills of various kinds which are pending and they will probably be speeded up next week. The training bills are the theme of general discussion.

Sociability and Specific Work Given Impetus by These Gatherings

Mrs. Harry Weidman, of 28 North Thirteenth street, and Mrs. J. W. Craver, of 1426 Zerkler street, were joint hostesses yesterday afternoon at a tea for the ladies of the Olivet Presbyterian Church. The idea of the teas is to promote sociability and to do specific work of various kinds for the church. Unique features of yesterday's tea were the guessing contest arranged by Mrs. E. A. Nicodemus, and the peanut contest arranged by Mrs. Craver. Assisting Mrs. Craver and Mrs. Weidman with the tea service was Miss Emma Sarvis.

A diamond is a business asset

The man who wears a diamond ring or scarfpin inspires confidence and commands respect, for a diamond is an emblem of prosperity and a mark of success. The man who owns a fine diamond has in it an asset much greater than the market value of the stone. Diener will be glad to show you diamonds, whether you intend to purchase or not. Our stock is noted for its "cleanness"—freedom from flaws and color blemishes. At $25 to $425 unusually wide choice is offered.
