

HARRISBURG DISTRICT OF M. E. CHURCH IS IN FLOURISHING CONDITION

DISTRICT SHOWS HIGH PROGRESS

Report at M. E. Conference Displays a Splendid Growth

Levittown, Pa., March 24.—Lifting before the members of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, in session here, a standard that will compel them to measure up in some degree to that type of Christ who was so gloriously illustrated in the life of the Master, Bishop McDowell pleaded for a preaching that will hit the mark and a pastoral work that will bring results.

Not that kind of pastoral visiting that is known as peddling civility around the community, declared the speaker, but a kind which leaves the man physically and mentally exhausted at the end of the afternoon as if he had just gotten over a spell of typhoid fever.

Commend Eaglesmere Report of the Williamsport district was read by the superintendent, Dr. H. L. Jacobs, which brought to light some interesting data concerning that territory of changing conditions.

Reference was made by Dr. Jacobs to the fact that an invitation will be extended to hold the 1918 session of conference at Newberry.

Dr. J. F. Heisse, editor of the Methodist, published in Baltimore, Dr. Goucher and J. L. Alcock, a layman, all of Baltimore, spoke in behalf of the Methodist as a church paper.

Harrisburg District Flourishing Dr. A. S. Fackel, superintendent of the Harrisburg district, read his report, which showed the following figures: Organized classes, 196, with more than 5,000 members; 45 home departments with an enrollment of 1,200; 52 cradle rolls with 1,500 babies; 70 Epworth Leagues have a membership of 3,715 and 40 junior leagues with 1,954 members.

Many Big Improvements Two new churches have been built in the district during the year, the Camp Curtin Memorial, Harrisburg, and one at Ridge Avenue, York; also two new parsonages were erected, one at Fort Loudon and one at Fayetteville, Greenvillage charge.

Improvements on churches aggregate an expenditure of $18,777. Stevens Memorial has had the property adjoining the church for a new Sunday school and parish house. A total of $15,365 was paid on indebtedness. A grand total of $39,939 was raised for benevolences. There was an increase of $1,875 to pastors' salaries.

Of this amount $250,000 is for Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport; $150,000 for Dickinson College, Carlisle; $50,000 for Goucher College, Baltimore, Md., and $25,000 for the general educational board.

Program of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society was carried out in full, Dr. Belle J. Allen, of India, portraying most vividly conditions in India, but expressing an optimistic spirit with reference to its future. The program:

Hymn, "O Zion Haste," devotional exercises, Miss Catherine Maxwell, superintendent children's work, Central Pennsylvania Conference; letters from Miss Purdy, secretary, Central Pennsylvania Conference; duet, the Rev. and Mrs. D. N. Miller, "Thoughts on the Forty-fifth Anniversary of the Lewisstown Auxiliary," Miss Anna Mothersbaugh; hymn, "Christ for the World," address, Dr. Belle J. Allen, of India; hymn, "The Kingdom is Coming," benediction, the Rev. J. H. Ake.

OFFERING FOR DISABLED MINISTERS' FUND WILL BE GIVEN BY LUTHERANS HERE

The opening gun in the campaign in this district for the Lutheran Church of the General Synod to secure an endowment fund for the care of the aged and disabled ministers, will be fired to-morrow in city churches when the first offering will be taken.

The Rev. G. M. Diffenderfer, of Carlisle, who is greatly interested in the movement, said: "The campaign to secure pensions for aged clergymen, now being carried forward by nearly every Protestant church, is one of the most important and most vital movements that ever engaged the attention of a religious organization. To turn a faithful minister adrift after forty years of faithful service or to put a pittance in his hand in 'charity' is a libel on both civilization and christianity. But do the leaders of this campaign realize that pastoral pensions mean church consolidation. This fact 'leaps to the eye' as the French say, if one turns to the small town and rural districts. A certain village with 150 inhabitants has eight Protestant churches. It is a very prosperous little place, but it cannot pay adequate salaries to these eight pastors even during their active career. How then can they hope in pensioning them? It can't and there are thousands of communities in the same fix. A fund must be raised to care for the old of the clergy now in active service and for those already superannuated, and then the churches must face and solve the problem of getting together or see all their work go for nothing."

GREAT WEEK AT MARKET SQUARE

Dr. Russell, Dr. Hawes and J. R. Henry Conducting Splendid Series of Services

The activities at Market Square Presbyterian Church during the past week have been directed to the one great end of converting men and women.

The work has been carried on under the leadership of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. George Edward Hawes, with the Rev. Robert McWarty Russell, D. D., L. D., of the Moody Bible Institute, as the preacher, and J. R. Henry as the leader of the singing.

The work has had two phases, the Bible teaching for Christians at the 4 o'clock service each afternoon and the gospel preaching, especially adapted for those who are not Christian or have made a confession of their faith, at the evening service at 7:30.

Dr. Russell has made an exceedingly favorable impression in both kinds of work. Studies in "The Acts" and in "John" were marked by a keen interest and earnestness in the great facts and truths to the daily experiences of men and women living in the twentieth century. Simplicity, interest and consistency were marked characteristics of all his sermons.

The after-meetings which have been held at the close of the regular evening services have been marked by a deep spirit of prayer. The same simplicity and directness which mark the meetings as a whole are evident in the manner of extending the invitation to any who desire to make a confession of their faith. The session of the church meets immediately at the close of the after-meeting and those who will be invited to come to the new church at 1:45.

The regular service next Friday evening will be in the nature of a preparatory service, preliminary to the Communion service which will be held on Sunday, April 1.

At the Bible reading in Market Square Church yesterday afternoon there was a good attendance despite the weather, and a very deep interest. The speaker, Dr. Russell, dwelt principally upon the petition of Christ's prayer, for he believed "I pray not that thou wouldst take them out of the world, but that thou wouldst keep them from the evil." The points made by the speaker were: (1) Christ's prayer for the world; (2) Christ's prayer for the church; (3) Christ's prayer for the individual; (4) Christ's prayer for the future.

In the evening the Ethiopian Eunuch was considered under the two aspects of a Model Seeker and a Model Christian. As a seeker he was earnest, persistent, teachable, and obedient. As a model Christian he went on his way rejoicing over new truth, over new relation to God and over new opportunity for service.
