Sinclair Oil and Midvale Steel Attract Many Buyers With Market's Opening; Bethlehem Steel Scores Further Advance

By Associated Press

New York, March 29.—Wall Street—
Much of to-day's early trading centered around two new issues, Sinclair Oil and Midvale Steel. The former on very heavy dealings soon scored an extreme advance of five points to 59%, but Midvale made little headway, ranging between 60 and 60% as against yesterday's final price of 60% on the curb. Recent active specialities, notably Driggs-Seabury and Wilson Packing, were again prominent at gains of 1% to 2½ points.

Bethlehem Steel new stock, Lackawanna Steel, American Can, Texas Company and Hide and Leather common and preferred rose 1 to 2 points.

Women Poison Bandages in Newest German Plot Philadelphia, March 29.— Women onnected with the Red Cross of New ersey have been caught placing poison n hospital bandages intended for use n army and navy hospitals, according an army and navy hospitals, according the control of the Attantic Division of the American Red inntic Division of the American Red C. Mr. Staub made his sensational charges yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the officers of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Division of the American Red Cross, held in Red Cross House, 221 South Eighteenth street. The meeting was attended by the chairmen and officers of the twenty-two chapters making up the division.

Mr. Staub said that powdered glass and an odorless, colorless chemical were the agents used by the poisoners. Chemists in New York, he stated, were analyzing the bandages known to contain the poison, and representatives of the Department of Justice would make important arrests on receipt of the chemists report. Staub said, had been distributed among the army hospitals and efforts are being made by Red Cross agents to trace them. This will be difficult to do, he said, as the rolls carry no distinguishing mark.

Women to Get Suffrage From British Government

London, March 29. — The British government was squarely committed yesterday to woman suffrage.

In the house of commons Prime Minister Lloyd George declared strongly in favor of it when commending a program of electoral reform that had been submitted by Mr. Asquith, his predecessor.

A conference held recently, which was presided over by the speaker, recommended the following program:

Certain measure of woman suffrage. Six months' residence or the occupation o fbusienss premises to be the only qualification for voting.

Predistribution of seats.

Proportional representation in large urban areas.

All elections to be held on one day.

A small party in the commons in the course of the debate expressed their continued firm opposition to woman's suffrage, but their numbers were too small to carry great weight. The Nationalists announced that they would support Mr. Asquith's motion.
