G. A. R. VETERANS OFFER SERVICES

Governor Brumbaugh Appreciates Patriotic Move of Post 58

Members of Post 58, G. A. R. last night received a reply from Governor Martin G. Brumbaugh, on their offer of personal services should war come.

Resolved: That the members of Post 58, G. A. R., hereby tender our personal services to the National Government in the present situation, for such military duty as we are capable of performing.

This resolution was forwarded to Governor Brumbaugh and his reply came through the Governor's private secretary, as follows:

"The Governor has asked me to assure you of his high appreciation of the patriotic impulses which prompted your offer to offer your services, individually and collectively in the event of a call to arms, for such duty as you are capable of.

"Your letter has been referred to the Adjutant General for his consideration and attention with the request that he communicate direct with you."

E. W. OF HARRISBURG CHURCHES

PASSOVER FEAST SUNDAY SCHOOL WILL INSTALL

Continues For Eight Days; Ceremonial Meal Big Feature

Passover, or the Feast of Unleavened Bread, begins this year Friday evening, April 6, at sunset, and continues for seven days. Orthodox Jews celebrate it for eight days, that is until sunset Saturday, April 14. Local synagogues will hold elaborate services.

The feast commemorates chiefly the deliverance of the Children of Israel from their slavery to the Egyptians, and so most of the ceremonial and ritual of Passover is intended to be reminiscent of the events and circumstances of that ancient deliverance.

has not been credited in the depositor's pass-book at this request within fourteen days after the date of deposit.

It is decided finally by the higher court that the State can require a report of escheat property, and after giving the published notice required by the act of 1915 can take over the deposits, these unclaimed millions will be turned into the State Treasury.

Points At Issue. — In the opinion in the case of the Union Trust Company, one of the three argued several months ago, Judge Kunkel states in part:

"We think it is settled, as it must be, that the Commonwealth possesses the power to escheat, whether to escheat clear title or to escheat property which has abandoned or has been determined to follow as a necessary incident to the exercise of the power that the Commonwealth has in the escheat law."

"We can conceive of no sound ruling which would give the Commonwealth the power to escheat property which has abandoned or has been determined to follow as a necessary incident to the exercise of the power that the Commonwealth has in the escheat law."

MODEL OF PAST

All Guests Must Vacate Before Tomorrow Noon; to Be Converted Into Office Building

Harrisburg's famous hotel, the Commonwealth, will close to-morrow at noon. Guests will be accommodated to-night but they must vacate their rooms before noon, J. A. Clement, the present lessee, will sell the hotel furniture Tuesday. He will vacate as soon as possible.

This property is a part of the McClelland estate, which was managed by the Dauphin Trust Company. It was hoped that someone would take the hotel for a year, until the new Pennsylvania Hotel was completed. No lessee turned up to-day and the doors were closed to all guests at noon to-morrow. The dining room has been closed for sometime.

Office Building. Plans were announced sometime ago for remodeling the present Commonwealth hotel building into an up-to-date office structure. Work, it is said, will start at an early date. The lower floor will be for store rooms, and extensive alterations will be made on the upper floors, for offices.

Many years ago this hotel started as The Cloverly. On his way to his first inauguration President Lincoln stopped at this hotel when it was the Jones House. In later years other distinguished men were registered. Subsequently, The Leland, the name by which the hotel was known prior to becoming the Commonwealth, was also widely known.

Wants to Throw Tire Away. Five minutes later a perspiring farmer from Shiremanstown asked a bystander to hold a tire for him. The tire without the police interfering for littering the streets. But a minute before he had come to the street and produced another article, a necktie, as part of the vast inventory of feminine apparel.

When the bottom was reached he decided that he was just as safe if he didn't take the suit home. It might involve too many explanations and wasn't in the mood for explanations. He pulled out an anxious nose and opened and ready to receive bids for his collection.

PLEDGED LOYALTY TO UNITED STATES

any action it may take in the present international crisis. All Philadelphia displayed the national colors and many stores and other business places closed at noon to-day to give an opportunity to participate in the demonstration. The patriotic rally was planned to be the greatest held at the shrine of liberty since the centennial celebration in 1876, when the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Police arrangements were made to take care of more than one hundred thousands of people.

Among the speakers on the program was Hiram W. Johnson, United States Senator-elect from California. Edgar Fahs Smith, provost of the University of Pennsylvania, was on the program for a brief address as the presiding officer of the demonstration.

Prior to the rally thousands of citizens of more years, mutual savings funds marched from various parts of the city to Independence Square. Two Philadelphia regiments of the National Guard participated.

U. S. Will Suffer Much. Senator-elect Hiram W. Johnson, of California, declared that the United States "will suffer much, even to the very heart of the nation, before going to war, but that for the nation to refuse to maintain its democratic ideals and protect its citizens, would be to sow within itself the seeds of dissolution."

"Democracy to survive must ever be ready to protect its own," he said. "Every normally constituted man abhors war. A nation such as ours, dedicated to freedom, dedicated to equality among men, determined that all of God's people must share in God's blessings, that common folks may have their fair share of common happiness, and a comfortable place in the sun, will suffer much, even to the very heart of the nation, before going to war, but that for the nation to refuse to maintain its democratic ideals and protect its citizens, would be to sow within itself the seeds of dissolution."

"We would have no selfish war of aggrandizement or aggression. We have no lust of conquest. We would, only when imperatively compelled by the transgression of our rights, by the destruction of our lives, enter the combat, and then in the spirit of America, the spirit that took no indemnity from China and returned Cuba into its own people."

Refreshments were served to Mr. Bayliss, of Reading; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coulter of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hodder, of Edgemoor; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fisher, of Edgemoor; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fisher, of Edgemoor; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fisher, of Edgemoor.

THINGS ARE NOT WHAT THEY SEEM

At Least at Blind Auction Sale; Daring Buyers Both Rejoice and Regret Their Purchases

"Things are not always what they seem," said a very much excited man, this morning, as he dug further and further into the depths of a huge trunk for which he had just paid $4.75 at the Adams Express Company sale of unclaimed articles. At every thrust he produced another article, a necktie, as part of the vast inventory of feminine apparel.

When the bottom was reached he decided that he was just as safe if he didn't take the suit home. It might involve too many explanations and wasn't in the mood for explanations. He pulled out an anxious nose and opened and ready to receive bids for his collection.

Five minutes later a perspiring farmer from Shiremanstown asked a bystander to hold a tire for him. The tire without the police interfering for littering the streets. But a minute before he had come to the street and produced another article, a necktie, as part of the vast inventory of feminine apparel.
