

MANAGER COCKILL COMES TO HARRISBURG TODAY TO START SEASON'S PLANS

LOCAL BOYS WIN LISTLESS CONTEST

First Period Was Slow, but Came Back Strong in Second and Won Out Easily

Taking advantage of the wire back-board and caging nine out of nineteen attempts from the field on Saturday night in the closing period of a game with the Vincome five, of Philadelphia, the Harrisburg Independent quintet was able to win out by the score of 37 to 24. It was the local losers in the Quaker City champs during the day, having dropped a contest by the score of 35 to 14 to the Shamokin team in the afternoon.

The Quaker City tossers played a strong defensive game during the opening period and only allowed the local team to score one goal from the field. This was made by McConnell on a hard bank shot from the side of the cage.

Second Half Fast
In the second half the visitors were unable to stop the attack of Captain McCord and his teammates. The first half ended with the score at 11 to 7 in favor of the local tossers. In this period both teams missed easy goals.

Report Record Entries For Penn's Big Spring Carnival

Philadelphia, April 2.—Three hundred and twenty entries are represented in the list of entries for the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival to be held at Franklin Field on April 27 and 28. The entries, which closed to-day, show that 75 colleges, 110 high schools, 53 preparatory schools, 75 grammar schools and seven parochial schools will have men in the various events on the two days' program.

No official action has been taken regarding the holding of the carnival in the event of war. It was said by the management, however, that the races probably would be held regardless of the national situation.

MICHAEL C. BRADY WINNER

Pinehurst, N. C., April 2.—When Michael C. Brady of the Oakley Club professional, took his stance for his last putt in Saturday's North and South open championship tournament at Pinehurst, he figured that the sinking of that 30-foot putt probably would mean the game and something approaching $1,000. Consequently Brady decided to sink it, and did so, winning the thirty-six-hole contest on his 41st stroke.

As matters turned out Brady would have won even if he had missed the putt, but he did not know that at the time. He had started out, on the second round of the day, at 67, three strokes ahead of C. H. Hoffman, and four strokes ahead of Fred McLeod and Gil Nichols.

TWO POPULAR EX-IDOLS OF FIST RING

BOB FITZSIMMONS & JIM JEFFRIES.

Here they are, Fitzsimmons, now fifty-four years old, and Jeffries, now fifty-one, once hated rivals in things pugilistic, photographed as they met for the first time in many years on the dairy ranch of Jeffries, near Burbank, Cal. It was on June 9, just seventeen years ago, that these two met in the ring on Coney Island. After eleven rounds of desperate fighting the championship passed to the young California brawler.

A Macedonian Yelp to Spring
Come on, Old Kid, in pink and blue,
Bring back your breath of rose and wine,
Bring back the braise, far and true,
Bring back the triple down the line,
We've drifted through the winter snow,
We've floundered on with burnt-out flame,
Come on, kick in and let us go,
Come on and give us back the Game.

On the National League Race

The National League race may rest in doubt, but none of this doubt is entertained by American League clubs. Without exception they all figure the Giants as their 1917 world series opponents, and few give any of the others even a look-in.

We have talked with anywhere from twenty to twenty-five American League players, and without exception they figure the Giants as sure a thing as sure things can ever go in baseball.

This belief, however, is not entertained by at least three men. You are entitled to one guess as to who the trio is, or are. You were right—Wilbert Robinson, George Stallings and Pat Moran. These three veterans have seen too many sure bets overturned before in this rickety pastime to lose heart before a blow is struck.

The Upset Margin

The one queer feature of this National League race is that so many believe the Giants have a good chance to be beaten just for the reason that they know how invincible.

They go well back and pick out the supposedly clinch episodes of the past where painful upsets resulted and knowing the devious ways of the game, they still accord Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston a good outside chance.

For the Duffers

One of the early golf writers had a system of scoring that would make a terrific hit with the duffers of to-day. Back in the gray dawn of the game in America this golf writer was switched from another assignment to cover a tournament. He had never seen a golf course, nor had he ever seen a golf ball struck. It seems that his boss was one of the entries. The aforesaid boss returned 100, while the low man had a 77. In his story the next day the golf scribe had his boss leading the field with a perfect 100, "the result of brilliant golf, 23 strokes beyond the worst score, 77."

On Looking Up

Sir—In a recent round of golf the only good holes I played were where I looked up, topped the ball and let it run to the cup. Whaddya mean, "Keep your eye on the ball?" Why should I.

Their Game

In their game across the water,
Fate has only this to spin—
When the Score comes in at twilight,
Those who live are those who win.

They are looking not to glory
In the wild dash of the fray,
If they live and breathe at twilight
They are victors for the day.

Within the next few days a livelier iris will come upon the burnished dove and Ty Cobb's batting eye.

Several American League ball clubs figure the Red Sox out of it this season.

But as we recall the vital statistics, the Red Sox were figured out of it last April, when they lost Tris Speaker, and later on in September, when they lost Jack Barry. Yet, when the world series kale was divided up in January you may recall which club collected the major share of the ultimate proceeds.

Philadelphia has waited a number of delayed seasons for a championship golfer, but in young Norman Maxwell she has one who, at the least, is now pointed in the proper direction.

This kid can't play golf any better than this Speaker can play center field. Not a bit.

MANAGER COCKILL HERE TO START BASEBALL ACTIVITY; PLANS NEW ASSOCIATION

This is the day set for the arrival of Manager George Cockill. He is due at noon and expected to start activity at once. His first duty was a conference with several prominent boosters the question of a new association. Plans were outlined late this afternoon for renewing the lease on Island Park.

When here on a previous visit Manager Cockill said he was not going to let any other manager fool him, and would have a line-up that would give everybody a chance for pennant honors. The list of players that are certain indicate a good bunch to start the season with.

The list of youngsters Manager Cockill includes some comers. He has had a little difficulty in getting a line on good men. The catching force while not including Wheat, according to the local leader, will have the goods.

Schedule is Out To-day

The New York State League schedule is out to-day. There are 63 games on the island program for the coming season, including 19 Saturday battles. Elmira opens here on May 8 and will play three games, Binghamton is the second attraction, Harrisburg will have Reading for the July After, and Elmira will go to Reading on May 26, and after afternoon games, Harrisburg also plays at Reading on Labor Day. The players will report April 12 for practice and will come to this city later for exhibition games. The team goes to Elmira on May 2 for three games and at the opening of the season, and from there to Binghamton.

HARRIS PARK NINE LOSE

The Harris Park A. C. nine of this city went to Mercersburg on Saturday afternoon and were defeated by the Mercersburg Academy nine by the score of 7 to 2. The local lads were no match for the Academy aggregation and played loose ball, the latter part of the contest developing into a run-away for Mercersburg. The score by innings:

Harris Park, . . . . .	14	9	21	5
Mercersburg, . . . . .	7	2	0	4

Harvard Sports Were Not Big Success During Year

Cambridge, Mass., April 2.—Although the income derived from athletic sports at Harvard for the college year 1915-16 was $155,000, the annual report of the Harvard Athletic Association, published by graduate treasurer of athletics, F. W. Moore, shows that the Crimson finished the year with a deficit of $368.

The football expenses were about $37,000 and the receipts $117,000. Neither hockey or track netted a cent, receiving, while rowing, the most expensive of all college sports, was conducted with a net outlay of $18,000.

Baseball showed a profit of $4,000, although the gross receipts from the varsity games were more than $19,000.

Harvard's receipts from its freshman sports were only $152, while the outlay was $8,400. The cost Harvard $20,000 for the upkeep of the athletic grounds, and the expense of general administration was $17,000.

York Turns Out For a Great Demonstration

York, April 2.—York witnessed its most remarkable patriotic demonstration Saturday when a parade of citizens more than four miles in length attested its historic city's allegiance to the Government in the present crisis.

Arranged as a "flag demonstration," the parade witnessed the most lavish display of the national colors ever seen in the city.

Hugentugler rode at the head of the parade with Mayor Harry Trout, of Lancaster, an arrangement regarded as appropriate in view of the twin white and red rose cities. Firemen, the two York companies of the National Guard and a larger number of civic and secret organizations than ever had joined in one procession here participated.

The demonstration was arranged by a committee headed by Mayor Hugentugler, and immediately after the parade the Mayor sent the following telegram to President Wilson:

"Five thousand men of York and vicinity, which, during the American Revolution, sent to the first British army on the west of the Hudson River—here, where the Continental Congress, fugitives from Philadelphia for nine months from September, 1777, to June 17, 1778, during the most trying period of that struggle, found a safe retreat; and here, where two of the signers of the immortal Declaration of Independence, James Smith, of York, Pa., and Philip Livingston, of New York, are buried—to-day turned out in an inspiring flag parade, manifesting the same devotion to our country which which characterized our forefathers 150 years ago."

PATERSON-MOORE WEDDING

New Bloomfield, Pa., April 2.—A pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. L. P. Hayes at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Moore, here, on Saturday afternoon, when their only daughter, Frances, was united in marriage to Frederick Paterston, of New York City. They were attended by Master Richard Sponser, as ring bearer; Laura Barnett and Rebecca Sponser, as flower girls; Blanche Treat, Marjorie and Evelyn Bower and Grace Grubb as ribbon bearers. After a wedding supper amid showers of rice the bride and groom left for an extended trip to Western cities. The bride is a graduate of Wellesley College and the groom holds a prominent position with the American Oil Cloth Company of New York. Sixty chaperons were at the ceremony. They will live at Brooklyn, N. Y.

DAVID N. PAUL DIES

The following children survive: Mrs. William Givler, Churchtown; Mrs. A. C. Sheaffer, Camden, N. J.; Mrs. H. E. Neisley, Carlisle; Harry S. and J. Frank, of Philadelphia. His brother, John S. Mechanicus, also survives. Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from his late residence. Preaching at the Church of God at Churchtown. ## Harrisburg Naval Recruit Has Remarkable Physique

THEODORE C. LOSCH

This photograph shows the remarkable development of Theodore C. Losch, Thompsonport, Juniata county, 18 years old, who enlisted as an apprentice seaman at the local navy recruiting office. Quartermaster Quirk stated that he was a perfect specimen.

Marysville is one month shy of being 18 years old, stands sixty-four inches in his bare feet and weighs 130 pounds stripped. He has worked on a farm all his life and has never used intoxicating liquor or tobacco in any form. He has appeared in several amateur and boxing bouts and recently trained with his brother, who returned from an enlistment in the United States army.

Camp Hill Stars Trim Bulldogs by Big Score

The Camp Hill Stars defeated the Camp Hill Bulldogs on Saturday afternoon in a swat and run-getting feat by the score of 12 to 1. It was the opening game of the season for both teams, and the Stars showed up remarkably well for the first game, coming through without an error, while the Bulldogs committed eleven. The Bulldogs swatted the ball for seven safeties, while the Stars secured ten. The line-up:

Stars: Bawman, p. Balmer, c. Preese, p. Truver, p. Puts, 2b. Eber, 1b. Traub, 2b. M. Morgan, 2b. Jones, ss. Mell, ss. Drawbaugh, cf. H. Spicer, 2b. Robinson, rf. J. Morgan, cf. Morgan, 1b. J. Traub, 2b. Spencer, 2b. S. Jones, lf.

WELLY'S CORNER

Rowdyism is starting early this year with the major league players. As the season is not open until April 11, neither President John K. Tener nor Ban Johnson have any jurisdiction over the Cobb-Herzog incident.

University of Pennsylvania athletic officials will not call off the Spring relay carnival until they are compelled to. Until the war plans are fully outlined it will be impossible to make any definite arrangements regarding athletics. Those already planned will be carried out unless otherwise ordered. The only thing the locals can do is to keep on training.

This is the day for the arrival of Manager George Cockill. Baseball fans would like to see him every day and are longing for the time when the players will be busy at Island Park. Harrisburg patrons are anxious to get busy.

The Motive Power League of the Pennsylvania Railroad is ready to start May 5. Games will be played every Saturday. The circuit this season will include Harrisburg, Washington taking Camden's place, Trenton, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Meadows, Wilmington and New York. The officials in charge include W. H. Runk, the well-known athletic director of Harrisburg.

The Phillies will start North to-day. Pat Moran is more than pleased with his men and looks for a fast bunch from the start. He has had few kicks, the holdouts giving him the only trouble.

COBB AND HERZOG HAVE FIRST FIGHT

Dallas, April 2.—Ty Cobb and Charlie Herzog staged the initial fist fight between big leaguers Saturday afternoon during the third inning of an exhibition game between the Tigers and Giants, thus proving that this pair of stormy petrels are rapidly approaching midseason form.

In slipping into second base in the third inning, Cobb spiked Herzog, cutting a long gash in the latter's left leg. The players started fighting at once with Cobb on top of Herzog and Fletcher on top of Cobb and players from both clubs participating in a battle royal. Police finally separated the players and Cobb was banished from the field by the umpires.

Following the Cobb-Herzog fracas, Fletcher and Bobbie Jones, a Detroit recruit, nearly battled when Jones got in the way of the New Yorker as he was rounding third. McGraw headed the Detroit youth as he picked himself out of the dust and started for the Giants' bench. McGraw was given over to the clubhouse in the seventh inning by Umpire Kane when the manager protested decisions too vigorously. No further punishment will be meted out.

CHAMPIONSHIP CAGE GAME TO DECIDE SCHOOL HONORS

Reading Scholastic Leaders to Play Altoona Tomorrow Night; Mountaineers Hold Record For Victories

With the close of the basketball season and a third game between Central and Tech unlikely, local fans will turn their attention to the championship contest between the East and West that will be staged at Altoona tomorrow night with Altoona and Reading High schools as the participants.

Those who follow basketball know the Reading team's record to date. Altoona boasts a record of 24 out of 26 victories. The team came into the spotlight in January when the Mountaineers took a five-day trip and won every one of the games played on foreign floors on successive nights. The defeated teams included Lewistown High school, Shippensburg Normal, Chambersburg and Waynesboro High schools and the Crescents of Hagerstown, Md. The team won the last 20 games played without a defeat.

Two teams to defeat the Mountaineers were Dubois and Hollidaysburg High schools.

Reading Wins Strong Opposition

Reading will without a doubt have strong opposition at Altoona. The home team always has the decided advantage in the cage game, and in addition to this, the strength of the Altoona lads must not be overlooked. If the Berks county crew can bring home a victory it will add to the glory of the Central Pennsylvania League. It is a big undertaking for Coach Lightner's crew. The fact that a championship will be decided for State honors, adds to the argument that Tech and Central should play off their tie.

Veterans on Each Team

The Altoona quintet is coached by Sharradin, the former Bloomsburg athlete, who pitched for the Harrisburg Tri-State team for a season. A coincidence in the line-up of both teams is the fact that both quintets contain four veterans from last year, with but one new player on either team. Altoona has a real star in "Pat" Healy, who has scored more than five field goals in 11 of the 26 games played this season. Reading will look to Nyquist to bring home the honors for the "Dutch." Both teams have a guard named Dietrich.

The probable line-up for the championship game to-morrow night will include:

Altoona: Reading Nyquist, f. Vaughn, f. Wilson, f. Braucher, c. Dietrich, g. Irwin, g. Rhoads, g.

Reading: P. Healy, f. Nyquist, f. Wilson, f. Braucher, c. Dietrich, g. Rhoads, g.
