

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

APPROPRIATION BILL ABOUT READY

Hearings Will Be Held by Committee to Decide About Some of the Charges

Prospects that some probes into departmental expenditures will be started within a week by the House Appropriations Committee loomed up to-day, and there was considerable speculation in Capitol Hill as to how far it would go.

The general appropriation bill will go into the House to-night over a week late, and in an unfinished state. It will contain departmental estimates as passed by the Economy and Efficiency Commission, which is to report to-night and lump estimates requested by departments whose figures the commission and the legislative chairmen have not had time to review.

The bill last session carried $40,000,000 in round numbers. The requests made this session call for $65,000,000, including the increases for highways and schools, which run about $10,000,000. The bill as it will go in will call for about $44,000,000 and the committee will start hearings as to the necessity for the sum.

In all probability the reports that activities of men connected with the State Labor and Industry, Agricultural and other departments played politics while traveling at State expense last year, will be taken up. Some of the legislators are said to charge that men connected with departments worked against them and there may be an evening up of scores.

The framing of the bill will take probably a fortnight and then the charity bills will be rushed out. There may be enactment of these bills thirty days before final adjournment or if that cannot be done there may be recesses taken.

The committee will rush the military bills so that there will be no question about the funds for the Guard and for the improvement of Mt. Gretna, which probably one-third of the amount carried by the army building bill will be made available.

REVENUE BILLS GO IN TONIGHT

Legislators Will Talk Over Them and Prepare For Any Emergency Action

The Pennsylvania Legislature will start some financial preparedness moves this week. Seven or eight bills looking to increase of the revenues from $12,000,000 to $13,000,000 a year are scheduled to be introduced tonight so that they can go to the Ways and Means committees for discussion. It is not the intention to pass them unless they pass easily.

While the bills are going in for the purpose of getting things in shape for action in event that war requires more money there are some legislators who consider that under the national defense act and the power of the President to raise volunteers the State would not be called upon to raise money. The Federal government paid all the bills for the border service from the time the men entered the service and reimbursed the State for what it paid out. It would be the same for reserve recruit camps and probably all the State would have to pay would be home guards and maybe not that except in cases of disturbances. The State might issue a million dollars of bonds at a time to pay cost of repelling invasion, suppressing insurrection and disturbances. The State sinking funds now equal debt and Pennsylvania bonds would be snapped up.

The revenue bills include the proposed constitutional amendment to permit graded taxation. Chairman J. F. Woodward, of the House appropriation committee, will sponsor that.

The other bills are to be presented by Mr. Woodward, as follows: Direct inheritance of two cents on the dollar of clear value of estates, which would raise $6,000,000 as it would affect estates owned outside of the State by residents. A five per cent. discount would be allowed for prompt payment.

A State tax of two per cent. ad valorem on all coal prepared for market, half to the counties producing coal, and to be dedicated to highways. This would mean about $5,000,000.

State tax on natural gas at the rate of two per cent. ad valorem at the well, which would raise $100,000 to be used for highways. A similar tax with similar deduction on petroleum is also planned.

State tax of one mill on capital engaged in manufacturing, laundering, etc., which would raise several millions.

A new theatrical tax and a proposed one-mill tax on real estate are talked of but not drawn and Mr. Woodward will not present them.

BIG CALENDARS IN THE LEGISLATURE

Members Will Have Plenty to Do in Addition to Getting Important Reports

In addition to some reports called for to-night both branches of the Legislature will have a big list of bills on calendars and a rush of new legislation is expected. The bills to enact the code governing decedents' estates, on which a State commission has been working, are due to appear.

The House has on its first reading list the State Police, the Mearkle automobile bill, the Philadelphia small council bill and measures to repeal the act forbidding employers' reports being used in court cases, allowing first class cities to support families of prisoners, Smith City Controller bill for third class cities and short title bills. The slot machine tax bill is on third reading with the bill to require employers to give men time off to receive, Campbell drug bill, fall primary bill, Senate bill making terms of inspectors of weights and measures four years, Snyder bill to increase salaries of compensation referees and many other measures. On second reading there is the Phipps bill to forbid any person from using milk containers not

COMPENSATION FOR MANY CAUSES

Loss of Arms and Legs and Feet and Eyes Promptly Paid For by Employers

During the first year of operation of the State workmen's compensation act $562,404 was paid out as compensation for accidents involving loss of 283 eyes and 209 arms, legs or hands of employes in Pennsylvania industries, according to a summary of reports issued to-day by Dr. John Price Jackson, State Commissioner of Labor and Industry. This sum does not include the cost of medical and surgical attention. During 1916, the same year, $4,224,375.43 was paid out in compensation payments.

The compensation for the eye accidents amounted to $268,889 and the amputations $293,515, the average compensation awards running $950 for an eye, $1,537 for an arm; $1,463 for a leg; $1,347 for a hand and $1,241 for a foot. Details of the reports collected by Paul N. Furman, chief of statistics show: During 1916, industrial accidents caused the amputation of 66 legs at a total compensation cost of $96,553. Sixty-nine hands were amputated at a total cost of $92,974 in compensation. Forty-one arms were amputated at a cost of $63,029 in compensation and 33 feet were amputated at a cost of $40,959 in compensation. Of the 283 eyes destroyed two were lost by women workers, struck by flying objects, and of the 69 hands am-

$635 Now—$665 May 1st Maxwell Quality has been and will be rigidly maintained in spite of the big and constant increases in the cost of materials. That's the Maxwell policy, fixed and immutable as the Rock of Gibraltar. For years the Maxwell Company has been proving it in the Maxwell car, which has come to be recognized as the "World's Greatest Motor Car Value,"—as the car of power—of ease of control—of stability—of endurance—of economy. 200,000 satisfied Maxwell owners attest to the success of that policy. More than three thousand Maxwell dealers owe their business stability to the fulfillment of that policy. The First Consideration is—Maxwell Owners' Protection No matter what other motor car manufacturers may do in the face of the greatly increased cost of raw materials, —the Maxwell Company is going to maintain the high Maxwell standard of quality and only make a slight increase in the cost of the car. While we are sorry that there is any increase, it can't be helped —because the first consideration is Maxwell quality, —the quality which has given the Maxwell the two world's non-stop records of 22,000 miles; the 1916 record, and 23,500 miles, the 1917 record, at amazingly high mileage per gallon of gasoline. This Small Increase is Your Big Insurance Policy If the Maxwell Company didn't make the increase, slight as it is, it would have to skimp here and there in materials, construction and refinements, —and that the Maxwell Company will never do. No manufacturer can make a car today for the same cost as he could a year ago. The fact that the price of the Maxwell on May first will be raised is your assurance that the Maxwell Company is still putting the same quality into the car, —your guarantee of still getting the "World's Greatest Motor Car Value." In Fact, Better Value Than Ever Before As a matter of fact, the Maxwell is now an even better "buy" than ever. Not because the model or design is changed in whole or in part, —but because the Maxwell you buy today is the super-refinement of the original highly successful model of four years ago. —the super-product which time and experience in manufacturing this powerful car have demonstrated to be right, —the same proud Maxwell car which, in recent competitive tests held by the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale and Prof. Gallup of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, proved itself the most economical of all the automobiles tested. The Car That Everyman Can Own Maxwell economy of upkeep has made it everyman's car. Thousands upon thousands of Maxwell owners have told us that their running costs are as little as six to eight dollars per month—an amount which the average man spends on casual luxuries. The Maxwell gives an amazing mileage per gallon of gasoline. Instance, the world's non-stop record run of 22,000 miles, when a Maxwell stock car averaged 22 miles per gallon of gasoline. Own a World's Non-Stop Champion Car There is no reason why you shouldn't. It's first price is small—far less, when you take into consideration its complete equipment and luxurious refinements, than any other car made. Then its cost of upkeep is so little as to make the cost of a family's ordinary luxuries extravagant by comparison. With the power in its motor to make up hill and down dale like a level road; —with the ease of control that makes driving sheer troubleless pleasure; —and with the stability and endurance that makes the Maxwell, not a one season, but a many-season car; —the Maxwell is beyond doubt the "World's Greatest Motor Car Value"—everyman's car. May 1st, the new price—$665—goes into effect. But you do not have to pay the increase in price if you buy your Maxwell now. Miller Auto Co. 68 S. Cameron St. HARRISBURG, PA.
