THE SPIRIT OF HOPE

"I hope you appreciate the fact, sir, that in marrying my daughter you marry a large-hearted, generous girl?" "I do, sir"—with emotion—"and I hope she inherits those qualities from her father!"

Appoint Miss Edsall as Director of New Work

A few months ago the women and girls of Pine Street Church and Sunday school were gladdened by the announcement that there had been placed in the hands of the treasurer of the church a generous check to pay the salary of a director who should lead work for them that would parallel the work being done in the John Y. Boyd Memorial Building for men and boys. Since that time the session of the church, through a committee, has been hunting for the person to undertake this work. Miss Marion Edsall has at last been chosen and has accepted the position and comes to this work with a training that fits her for it in a peculiar way. She is a graduate of Teachers College of Columbia University, New York City. For the past three years she has had practical training in this kind of work. Part of this time was spent with the Broadway Tabernacle Church of New York. This church has one of the greatest institutional works of any church in the Metropolis. The remainder of the time has been given to similar work in the Ethical Culture Society of New York. Miss Edsall's work will be varied comprising classes in home economics, gymnasium work, etc.

An advisory committee has been appointed by the session to immediately direct this work and consists of the following persons: Mrs. E. Z. Gross, Miss Mary Cameron, Miss Caroline Patterson, Elders John Campbell and Dr. Ridgeway with the pastor of the church, Dr. Mudge, as chairman of the committee. Miss Edsall will begin her work probably in June.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. McCarey, of Philadelphia, announce the birth of a son, James R. McCarey, 3rd., on Wednesday, April 4. Mrs. McCarey was formerly Miss Elizabeth Eby, of this city, and is the niece of Miss Fannie Eby, 613 North Front street.

$3,400,000,000 NEEDED FOR WAR [Continued From First Page]

amount was required for the period of one year from the date the appropriation bill was passed. It is considered imperative that the amount be appropriated immediately for military expenditures necessary for the national defense.

Need Money For Navy

To raise the authorized enlisted strength of the navy and marine corps to 150,000 men and 30,000 marines, $175,825,000 was asked to remain available until June 30, 1918.

For actual and necessary expenditures for the naval establishment in addition to any and all other appropriations to be expended at the discretion and in the discretion of the President, $292,538,790 was asked with the provision that limitations imposed by existing law should not apply to the expenditure of the fund.

For the coast guard $600,000 is asked to enable it to bring its present telecommunication system of coastal communication to a high state of efficiency. Immediately the estimates were referred to the Appropriations Committee.

To Issue Bonds

Formulation of tax measures for the war has not reached a definite stage, but there are indications that the treasury will endeavor to raise by one bond issue as much of the $3,400,000,000 asked to-day for the army and navy as cannot be obtained by new and increased taxation.

Unofficial estimates to federal reserve board officials indicate there would be no great difficulty in raising $2,000,000,000 at once by bond issue at 3 1/2 per cent. Governors of the banks now in session have discussed the contemplated issue to-day and the interest rate. A rate of three and one-half per cent., rather than three per cent., was favored. The general opinion was that the first issue should bear the same interest rate as contemplated for subsequent issues.

To Increase Taxes

Through present internal revenue taxes the government will obtain approximately $750,000,000 this year. Suggested increases in the inheritance tax rate alone, it is estimated, would increase the return from that source alone to $500,000,000. One plan being considered is to raise the rate of taxation on large estates up to 30 per cent.

Springtime in the Shops

Of course quantity has nothing to do with quality, yet selling in quantities often makes it possible to offer better quality at lower prices, and for that reason it is interesting to know something of the tremendous coffee business done by the Grand Union Tea Co., 208 North Second street. Every week a shipment is received which fills their room from floor to ceiling with bags and bags and bags of coffee, each bag containing one hundred pounds, and every week this vast quantity is sold out and more is received. This certainly shows how many people in Harrisburg have found this coffee satisfactory, and it has been noticed that nearly everyone who tries it becomes a regular customer.

A Charming Pump

One of the most attractive of spring pumps is a new model in ivory kid shown at the Walk-Over Shop, 224 Market street. This shop has made the new shades, such as ivory, bisque, nutan and special combinations of colors a feature of their delightful spring displays, and this last addition to their numerous models is attractive styles and colors is one of the most pleasing. It is a charming shade, which looks well with either light or dark costumes, and this pump is made on an exquisitely graceful tapering last with square throat and Louis heel and sells for $9.00.

A Callot Model

Wonderfully smart in its studied simplicity is a charming model designed by Callot which is reproduced in the French room at Astrich's, Fourth and Market streets. The shape is unusual and distinctive, the brim fitting close to the head and then rolling out as it reaches the top of the crown. The entire hat is made of hand-sewed lisse braid, which is offered only on the most exclusive models. A band of flat, uncut jet underneath the brim with a jet quill jauntily placed in Scotch effect form the only trimming. The models of equally correct design are shown in charming assortment at prices less than half what is asked for the originals in Fifth avenue shops.

New Collars of Georgette

Just $1.00 is the interesting price asked for some of the loveliest georgette collars which have been shown this season and this splendid value is offered at the Woman's Exchange, Third street at Herr, in connection with their charming showing of Easter neckwear. The gaintiest of fine folds, combined with several deeper folds, and pretty rows of hemstitching form a square design, which emphasizes the smart cut of this sailor collar, and the georgette used is of excellent quality. Dainty edges of lace are used on other collars, while insets and borders of colored georgettes give distinction to many of the new models.

Spring Draperies

Charming new fabrics for spring draperies, cushions and upholstery are shown now at the Black Shop, 225 North Second street. The colorings are as restful and airy, in suggestion, as the linen finish is cool and practical, in fact, and they seem delightfully suited for combining with reed or willow furnishings. There is a charming new fabric in gray and yellow tones, with fine roses in a medallion effect outlined in black, while an accent with deep blue is a very cool and pretty combination. The designs are entirely different from anything that is seen elsewhere, and a number of these have just been received. Other fabrics in linen and cretonne are shown at most moderate prices.

low the new bridge on the west side of the island. It is said the discovery was made by Cumberland Valley Railroad officer and the dynamite was taken to Chambersburg on Monday. Railroad officers deny the story. However, a man who was present when the explosive was discovered faintly says the story is true.

Shortly before 1 o'clock this morning Special Officer Guy H. Dull was making his rounds at the west end of the Rockville bridge. He noticed two men acting suspicious near the Overview tunnel and called to them. One of the men ripped out an oath and fired two shots at the officer. The latter returned shots and the men ran in the direction of Enola. The Harrisburg police department was notified and kept close watch on all night cars from Enola, but did not locate any suspicious characters.

Rain Holds Up Ash Collections Still More

Rain to-day held up ash and garbage collections again in the city causing another delay in the promised clean-up which Commissioner Gross told council has never been fulfilled.

With four gangs in the district and two on Allison Hill progress has been made, he reported, but inclement weather and lack of co-operation at times by the Pennsylvania Reduction Company has prevented a rapid removal of the big accumulations of refuse.
