"I'm Working Every Day Now" He Says

"Tanlac is sort of a friend of the family with us," says Matthew Croler, a well-known borough employer, who lives at 210 Bossener St., Steelton, Pa.

"I suffered a lot during the past few years," he goes on to say, "and I couldn't seem to hit on anything that would help me."

"I had particularly a bad spell last fall while my son and I were cutting corn and I hadn't been right since. I had been bothered for years by rheumatism, my appetite was poor and nothing I ate agreed with me and I felt so tired all the time."

"But when I started taking Tanlac my troubles vanished like smoke in the wind. My appetite picked up fast, my stomach has been toned up and I can eat anything and enjoy it and I sleep soundly and restfully all night. Now my wife is taking Tanlac too and I can already see a big difference in her."

Tanlac, the famous reconstructive tonic, is now being introduced here at Gorgas' Drug Store, where the Tanlac man is meeting the people and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Men on Front in France Would Like to See U. S. Send Troops to Line

Paris, April 9.—Visiting Canadian headquarters and the Canadian trenches correspondents were greeted everywhere with outbursts of congratulations. One young captain, whose mother is American, said:

"I feel like hugging everybody in sight. Everywhere I have been to-day I wanted to call out the soldiers and ask them if they had heard the good news. We Canadians now feel that our American family has been reunited. This will mean wonders for the future relationship of Canada and the United States. We feel more like brothers than ever before."

"There was much speculation along the front as to the manner of American participation, and an almost universal wish that the United States should be represented on the fighting line at the earliest possible moment, if only by a brigade or division. Mingled with the universal desire that the war should soon be ended was the generally expressed hope that it would last long enough to give the Americans a chance at the Germans."

Apart from the purely military view the soldiers keenly appreciated the moral weight of America's decision. "We know how delighted we are and cannot help feeling that the news will equally depress the Germans," was the expression, not of one British officer, but of scores.

The Daddy of Football Anxious to Do His Bit

Walter Camp, class of '80, Yale University, the foremost authority on American football, is responsible for the first step in the formation of an Internal Defense League, to be a national body with local branches for the purpose of conditioning for service men who are beyond the age limit of the army.

The plan is to enlist as many able-bodied citizens as are not available for active war service and train them as home guards, in order that younger men might be released for active duty. Governor Holcombe writes of the plan as follows:

"In the first place, it does not interfere in any way with enlistments in any branch or with special home guards or industrial reserves. It is supplementary to all these. It deals only with those who are over military age. As a rule all the preparedness plans have been either directed toward the enlistment of those of military age or to volunteering regardless of age. Everyone recognized that it would be simply suicidal to put the average man of fifty to sixty in with men of twenty to thirty-five and expect intensive training which should put the younger man into condition for severe work, because it would take too much out of the men from fifty to sixty."

"The Naughty Princess" opens a How Is Your Weight? While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to feel well and to look well, and this calls up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists by experiments have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nucleic tablets, and this is always followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months according to directions with package.—Advertisement.

DIXON CALLS ON PEOPLE TO FARM

Work in Gardens Healthful as Well as Productive of Food

Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon to-day issued an Easter day summons to the people of Pennsylvania to do some gardening as much for the sake of their health as to increase the food supply. The commissioner calls upon the leaders of society who are influential, the business men and the workers to do their bit in the garden. "Now is the time," says he, "to call for moderation, co-operation and the recognition of the necessity on the part of men and women in all classes of society to make some sacrifice. The war on the home fronts, at the very time when gardening can be started and it should be the duty of everyone to take up the work."

The statement of Dr. Dixon is as follows: During the activities of a war such as the world is now experiencing, millions of men and women are engaged in manufacturing munitions for every requisite of warfare, both on land and water.

Food supplies the very sinew of war, therefore, the guarding of meat, milk, vegetables and grain becomes one of our imperative measures of defense. These essentials will have to be looked after to supply those active at the front and those guarding the great treasures of our republic.

Unfortunately, at the present may be more than ever before in the history of the world, our people are restless and demand to be entertained. They do not to-day, as much as in former times, make their daily occupations their play. For this reason they are turning to the theaters and are amused by various forms of entertainment. This robs the farms and gardens of our country, which we can ill afford at such a time as this to be in the face, our attention is turned to a serious condition which threatens a nation that may be long engaged in active warfare. No one can guess the length of time the United States of America will be involved in protecting herself from foreign interference with her national rights. To-day, the war on the home fronts, at the very time when gardening can be started and it should be the duty of everyone to take up the work."

Gardening and farming furnish health and profitable activities for women. If many idle women, and those who engage in sports of various kinds simply to pass away the time, should become active and spend their time in some useful occupation, such as gardening, it might be more profitable to them physically, mentally and morally, and of inestimable value to the country.

This is the time of all times for the leaders of society who are influential, to induce all those engaged in frivolous habits to make gardening and farming fashionable. Competitive farming and gardening by women would help to maintain their health and in many cases make the weak strong. With better health and less burden of the time, life becomes lighter and the nation would become stronger.

SCHOOL TEACHER Anaemic, Run-down, Nervous — How She Recovered.

There are so many cases like this right here in Harrisburg that we are publishing this interesting letter with the hope that some of our customers will try Vinol and get the same happy result that Miss Baez did.

Key West, Fla.—"I am a teacher and became anaemic, nervous, run-down, no energy or desire to do anything, I could not sleep and had that languid, nervous feeling that made me a burden to myself. I had taken various tonics without benefit. I heard of Vinol and tried it. Soon I had a good appetite, could sleep all night and it built me up so I have the ambition to do any kind of work."

Mary L. Baez, Key West, Fla. The Vinol used was so successful in this case because it is a constitutional remedy that goes to the seat of trouble. The peptonate of iron manganese and glycerophosphates contained in Vinol enriches and revitalizes the blood, while the strengthening, tissue-building properties of beef and cod liver peptonate aid in building up the tired, overworked, run-down system.
