

READY TO START YOUR GARDEN?

All Right, Take Paper and Pencil and Plot It; Location Important

Are you ready to begin gardening? All right. The first thing to do is to sit down with paper, pencil and a straight edge and plan your work for the spring.

At the start, what about the location of your garden? If you intend to spade up the back yard you will not have so much to say about this; but if you can choose garden space in some vacant lot there are certain points to keep in mind.

First, get a southern exposure if possible; that is, ground gently sloping to the south or southeast. Such ground matures vegetables early.

Character of Soil Important Character of soil, too, influences the maturing of garden crops. Light, sandy soil, because it readily absorbs the warmth of the sun, is best for early crops.

Drainage is important, but most yards and vacant lots are sufficiently well drained.

Now when you have your garden plot selected, draw an outline diagram of it. The crops you must select for best results depends upon your space.

URGE PROHIBITION AS WAR MEASURE

Great Campaign Will Be Opened Here Tomorrow Night by Dr. Crafts and Mr. Howard

"As saloons are closed in a riot, much more should they be closed in war, as in Russia; not alone for efficient mobilization of troops and efficient manufacture of munitions, but here for the additional reason that we have had bread riots and peace riots, and may reasonably expect race riots and draft riots, if saloons remain to promote the 'contentions' for which liquors have been noted since the days of Solomon."

This is the argument for immediate statutory enactment of national prohibition as a war measure by majority vote in Congress, as a part of moral preparedness, which is the motif of a two weeks' campaign by Clinton N. Howard and Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, under joint auspices of the International Reform Bureau and various local churches and welfare associations, which will open here to-morrow.

Other meetings will be held in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, York, Lancaster and Coatesville. The details of the moral preparedness that will be asked of Congress will be left to the "National Legislative Conference," representing all temperance forces, which is to convene in Washington on April 17, of which both Mr. Howard and Dr. Crafts are members. This campaign was previously undertaken for the "bone dry" national prohibition, which Dr. Crafts assures, "all temperance leaders save one regard as not less but more in order because we are moving into the world war, in which the preme victory has been Russia's peaceful revolution, which would not have been possible if vodka had not been previously 'dethroned.'"

Scraping Skeleton Bone Dry Prohibition in the world's two largest republics will be made dynamic for the completion of the anti-liquor war in our oldest republic in an entertaining double-headed lecture sometimes described as "Scraping the Skeleton of John Barleycorn's Bone Dry" in the joint funeral and wake of John Opium, John Barroom and John Barleycorn."
