

UPHOLDS SWISS TRAINING SYSTEM

Hildegarde Hawthorne Asserts It Would Greatly Benefit America

We have been told that, in the event of a general conscription, America would be dismayed by the enormous number of men rejected as unfit for military service.

look as though they could take a ten-mile walk without breaking down? How many have pasty complexions, undeveloped muscles, how many slouch or slump along rather than walk, how many seem to prefer leaning up against some convenient wall and watching the passersby, to any other form of exercise?

the whole a healthy, lively, springy lot of youngsters, taking the best sort of physical exercise, able to run and yell and throw ball and wrestle with the youth of all time.

to take plenty of violent exercise, no more is asked. From fifteen to nineteen the adolescent youth is given one hour a day of physical training and drill. This keeps him fit and active, teaches him to use a gun, makes him a walker, gives him endurance, and keeps him under observation, so that any weakness may be corrected, any disability cured.

spirit of militarism, but capable of instant and intelligent defense when threatened. In the early days of our history this was the type of young man who fought for our independence and won that fight.

money and sacrifice. This the Swiss system gives. It is up to every American to study and understand it. Hildegarde Hawthorne.
