

NAMES CAST FOR H. M. S. PINAFORE

Central High Boys and Girls Rehearsing For School Play

The cast for the Gilbert and Sullivan opera "H. M. S. Pinafore," which will be presented at the Orpheum in June by the Senior Class of Central High School, was announced to-day by Professor Howard G. Dibble.

The selections made are as follows: Josephine, to be played by Miss Katherine Dubbs in the matinee and by Miss Getha High in the evening performance; Hebe, Miss Hazel Selbert; Buttercup, Miss Louise Johnson; Admiral, Frank Whitehouse; William Bretz; Boatwain, James Daugherty; Midshipman, Alphonso Cashman; Ralph, Jerome Hamilton, and Dick Deadey, Abner Hartman.

Prof. Edward G. Rose is directing the music for the play, with Prof. Dibble in charge of the cast. Rehearsals are being held regularly and are proving exceptionally successful. A number of beautiful musical selections are noticeable, as well as several places where skilled acting is required. All those who will participate are members of the Senior Class with the exception of Messrs. Hartman and Hamilton, who played the prominent parts in the "Magic Wheel," given by local talent last season. "Pinafore" promises to be an event of great local interest and a fine patronage is expected by the senior co-eds and their colleagues. Other members of the class will take part in various chorus assemblies.

SECOND VICTIM DIES

Philadelphia, April 12.—The second death as a result of the explosion Wednesday night in the Frankford arsenal, where small arms ammunition is manufactured for the United States army, occurred to-day. The victim was Joseph Miller, a civilian, 21 years old. The explosion was accidental.

ECKMAN'S ALTERATIVE

SOLD BY ALL LEADING DRUGGISTS BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.

EFFICIENCY MADE EFFECTIVE SLOGAN

High Qualifications Necessary in Christian Endeavor Work

Efficiency made effective is one of the latest programs in Christian Endeavor work by the societies of the State. Among the qualifications of an effective society are the following: First, high standards of the weekly prayer meeting; second, businesslike administration; third, definite progressive efforts; fourth, practical Christian service; fifth, fellowship and support by all societies.

Dauphin county, Harrisburg and Cumberland county are doing excellent work in the C. E. movement. Many societies of this section of the State are unanimous for definite service of the endeavorers during the year, which is in harmony with the goals set by the State C. E. Union. Thousands of women and girls are in active service of Christian Endeavor and many of them are holding important offices.

Miss A. Elizabeth Eckert of Wormleysburg, one of the livewire vice-presidents of the West Shore district, of the Harrisburg C. E. Union, has a record which no doubt is hard to match. She has been a member of the St. Paul's United Brethren Society during the past twenty years. She has been president of this society for thirteen consecutive years. The society has always been foremost in all progressive work and is constantly in harmony with the other fourteen societies of the district.

OLD MINE HUNTER PASSES "The prospector doesn't get any encouragement any more." Such was the remark of Charles James, a hunter for mines in every clime under the sun since the Civil war, 72 years old and still going strong, according to the Spokane Chronicle. His complaint was voiced at the miners' and prospectors' session of the Northwest mining convention.

"I came to Spokane three weeks ago," he declared in explanation. "I had on my overalls and my hobnailed boots, and I went into one of the big office buildings on some business. 'You take those shoes out of here,' a janitor yelled at me. 'Mister,' I said, 'wherever those shoes go I go, too. I took them out, through, but I went with them.' 'The cops all looked at me as if I was a criminal. Now my clothes were decent, but I decided if I didn't want to land in jail I'd better hunt up my other togs.' 'There was a time 12 or 15 years ago when I could get $300 or $400 at any bank in town any time. But now I couldn't get 15 cents.'"

PRODUCE, PRODUCE, PRODUCE It is a world challenge as we stand at the threshold of another springtime. Never before have farmers faced a growing season when their efforts to grow something to eat seemed so certain of reward. From Reichstag, Parliament and Congress some warnings that another half-crop will put whole nations on starvation rations. From a world viewpoint things are bad enough as they are, but the silver lining is the 1917 harvest. The genius of those into whose hands the soil is given is put to the test. How will it be met? Is the work of the year planned for maximum production? Will the seed grow? Will it yield heavily? Is the land to be put in good shape, or is the power enough or equipment enough? Is the soil fertility high, or can it be made so? Are the animals well enough bred to turn rough feed into maximum amounts of meat, milk, wool and power? Are the wastes stopped, the inefficiencies corrected? Is every man at his proper post in the farm organization? All that is left is the weather, and many centuries of work in the open fields have taught the farmer how to substitute faith for prophecy in that regard. Surely the world will be fed. And the feeder will be fed. The greatest year in the history of American agriculture may lie before us.—The Breeder's Gazette.

HELPING GROWING CROPS "Celery, lettuce, chard, corn, tomatoes, and a few other vegetables are often benefited by application of food during the growing season. Oftentimes a side dressing of fertilizers of manures is used to hasten the growth of the plants and thus to obtain early maturity." Sometimes during the development of a crop of vegetables, the gardener notices that the plants are dwarfed, that the color, instead of being dark green, is light green, or that other indications of checked growth are apparent. At times the difficulty may be traced to disease or insects, at other times to poor soil preparation, lack of cultivation, and sometimes to deficient food supply. In the latter case it is possible to overcome the difficulty by applying fertilizers or manures as a side dressing."—Albert E. Wilkinson, New York State College of Agriculture, at Corney university, Vegetable Gardening Series No. 4.

SPREAD MANURE THIN The Ohio Experiment Station has found that four loads of manure to the acre is more profitable in proportion than eight. Eight loads of manure only increased the yield of grain 66 per cent, over four loads. Where manure is scarce, as it is on most farms, it should be applied lightly and this spring, especially for best results used as a top dressing. Last year Fred Burkley, Portage county, Ohio, top dressed a part of his potatoes at the rate of four loads to the acre and increased the yield by one-third. Since prices for crops are high it will pay to apply the manure light, which is the most profitable in the end and supplement it with commercial fertilizers. Apply the latter through the fertilizer attachment of whatever drill is used when the crop is planted.

1,000 Advanced C. E. Delegates Registered

The general committee of the Twenty-Eighth International Christian Endeavor convention to be held in New York city, July 4 to 9, 1917, has not called off the convention due to the present war, according to an unofficial report, but gives invitations constantly instead. The latest report sent out says: "Over 1,000 advanced registrations have been received by the committee in charge. New York has a larger pulling power as a convention city than any other city on the continent. Its hotel facilities are almost unlimited. It is a transportation center with summer excursion rates in effect from most cities. It has unnumbered points of historic, religious and general interest."

C. E. Notes

Pennsylvania will shine in July, Pennsylvania will shine, Pennsylvania will shine in July, that be fine. Pennsylvania will shine in July, Pennsylvania will shine. When the sun goes down and the moon comes up, Pennsylvania will shine.

The following invitation was received by the officers of the United Society of Christian Endeavor prior to the decision of the place of meeting of the International C. E. convention which will be held in New York, July: "The Merchants' Association of New York which is broadly representative of the civic, industrial, commercial and professional interests of the city, invites you to bring your next convention to New York, that you may reap the benefits and advantages of meeting in the metropolis, receive its hospitality, and attain a maximum of success and enjoyment. New York offers you every conceivable facility for your convention, as well as warm-hearted hospitality. The convention Bureau of Merchants' Association is organized and maintained expressly for the purpose of assisting and cooperating with organizations holding their conventions in New York. Its services are at your command."

It was in July, 1892, that a mighty Endeavor host journeyed New Yorkwards to the eleventh International C. E. convention. The convention of '92 made a profound impression, stirring New York to its depth and caused the city to recognize and appreciate the force of Christian Endeavor. The program for July 4-9 is being prepared with exceptional care and will be as practical as possible. The evening mass meetings will be well provided for with strong speakers. Interdenominational fellowship and international brotherhood will be emphasized.

A chorus choir of 2,000 voices will be led by Homer A. Rodeheaver of Billy Sunday fame.

The registration fee is $1.00, which includes reserved seat, program, song book and badge.

Over 1,000 advance registrations have been received by the committee in charge.

Miss Esther Frank will have charge of the C. E. services at the Second Reformed Church on Sunday evening.

The oldest Christian Endeavor local union, that of New Haven, Conn., has published a booklet of suggestions for committees and for current prayer meetings.

At the Sixth Street United Brethren Society, C. McCaslin will conduct the service on Sunday evening.

The Samoan Endeavorers support a missionary, Mr. Li, the first fruits of whose work is the conversion of thirteen young Chinese men.

DARING STEEPLEJACK CLIMBS CUPALO OF CHURCH FOR REPAIRS

The accompanying photograph snapped yesterday while a steeplejack was at work on the spire of the First United Brethren Church, Boss street, shows the overhanging cupola that has been causing the people in the neighborhood great alarm. The pavement was roped off for the protection of passing pedestrians, as no one could understand what was supporting the cupola torn loose by the wind. As soon as a man could be procured who was willing to climb the steeple, repair work was started.

The subject for discussion in next Sunday's C. E. services.

Military Expert Warns Germany Against Taking U. S. Forces Too Lightly

Amsterdam, via London, April 13.—Captain Persius, writing in the Berlin Tageblatt, criticizes those who treat America's entry into the war lightly. "It would be a fatal mistake," he said, "to regard America's economic strength as the only important factor for an enemy. The military strength of the United States is not to be met with a shrug of the shoulders, otherwise we shall make the same mistake as we did about the military strength of the British."

LODGE GRANTED INJUNCTION

Members of Lodge San Michele di Sanastretta, of Steelton, yesterday were granted a preliminary injunction by the Dauphin county court against officials of the organization to prevent them from transacting business of the society. The trouble started last fall when a vote was taken to sever the Steelton lodge from the national organization of Sons of Italy. This did not carry. Hearing of the complaint will be held in court April 17.
