GUARDSMEN AT BRIDGE
Lemonyne, Pa., April 13:—Guardsmen on duty at the Cumberland Valley Reilroad bridge are encamped on vacant ground at the lower end of Hummel avenue. Six tents have been crected and a same: camp established. From this point of vantage, the guardsmen, when not on duty at the bridge, can see over to the Harrisburg side of the bridge. There are about forty men here.

LITERARY PROGRAM

Marysville, Pa., April 13.—The Airy View Literary Society is preparing an excellent program for rendition this evening. The question for debate is, "Resolved, That Local Option Is the Best Known Method of Dealing with the Saloon."

You never had a headache when you were well.

To keep well is to keep clean, inside.

To relieve headache, and to prevent it, keep the liver active and industrious and the bowels as regular as a clock.

Two generations of healthy, vigorous people have done this by taking one pill at bedtime, regularly—a larger dose when nature gives the warning.

to stop dandruff and loss of hair with Resinol

Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment that will almost always stop dandruff and scalp itching, and keep the hairthick, live and lustrous:

At night, spread the hair apart and rub a little Resinol Ointment into the scalp gently, with the tip of the finger. Repeat this until the whole scalp has been treated. Next morning, shampoo thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water. Work the creamy Resinol lather well into the the scalp. Rinse with gradually cooler water, the last water being cold.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment easily heal eczema and similar skin-eruptions. Sold by all druggists.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

The great nerve tonic—the famous Wendell's Ambition Pills—that will put vigor, vim and vitality into nervous tired out, all in, despondent poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily, relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating tox. A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile.

which temporarily, relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal. Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless; except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the read-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. The ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance, it is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Some Shepherd Traits

What can the city dweller in America, or even the occupant of the sheep wagon on the western plains, know about the intimacy and simplicity of the shepherd life of Syria? How often have I watched it, by night and by day—the shepherd leading his flock homeward, piping musically the while, beneath the eastern slope of Mt. Carmel; or the watchers huddled over a tiny fire beneath the cold starlight of the regions east of the Jordan. Very friendly and close is the relationship between the oriental shepherd and his flock. A glimpse of the qualities of the Saviour-Shepherd, who called himself "the good shepherd," may be obtained through it. In a moving book, "Beckonings from Little Hands," Mr. Patterson Dubois tells of the scrawl found among the possessions of a child who had been shepherded into the heavenly fold: "God is love. He loves lambs," That babe uttered the first great fact about the Good Shepherd; his care is tenderest for the weakest. He who gathers the lambs in his bosom has led the race into a new solicitude for the welfare of childhood. Out of this quality in Christ sprung the modern Sunday school movement, and the new pedagogy, and universal education and civilization's slogan, "women and children first."

The Good Shepherd knows his sheep.

Sunday school movement, and the new pedagogy, and universal education and civilization's slogan, "women and children first."

The Good Shepherd knows his sheep. There is not a weakness nor a perversity in any one of them that he does not wholly understond. He makes allowances. To him sheep are not mere sheep, as they are to the abattoir; they are his own flock, each named and loved for itself. The stupendousness of this truth, that God is not too great to condescend to the slightest need of the lowliest life, needs the simple faith of childhood to grasp it.

In weak times lee lers do not lead; they follow the crowd. But the Good Shepherd always goes before his flock. His leadership is real and active and continuous. Difficulties do not daunt him, problems do not perplex him. There is no standing still for the flock of Christ. They are not caged creatures in a park. They go in and out and find pasture, when they follow him. Life is large and enlarging; varied and abundant, when the shepherdship of Jesus is accepted. In the gravest and greatest times, such as we are now witnessing, the leadership of the Good Shepherd is adequate; he will lead his flock into new, sweet pastures through all the scarred and bloody paths of war.

One other truth about the Good Shepherd is that he lays down his life for the sheep. That is the supreme test of love and loyalty. Let us tarry for a moment to consider the millions who have been gloriously meeting it in the past three years. Men of most of the nations of the earth have given this last full measure of devotion; they have laid down their lives for the cause and country they loved. We are to prone to listen to the shriekings of sentimentalists who think that the loss of life is the worst thing in the world. They stay at home and sapend money (tevelly

What America Will Do To Help Beat Germany

The die is cast. The American people take up the gage of battle which has been forced upon them by the German Government, and will go into the war "up to the hilt" to defend American rights on land and sea, and the fundamental principles of democracy.

It will be no purely defensive war upon which America embarks, for President Wilson in his message to Congress called upon the country "to exert all its power and all its resources to bring the Government of the German Empire to terms and end the war" because "the world must be made safe for democracy.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for April 14th, public opinion as to the practical steps which should be taken is shown. The submarine peril is one of the first, and perhaps the most important, problems to be overcome. On this subject, press writers in London and Washington tell of plans already made for co-operation between the American and Allied navies. The various view-points upon universal military service, the dispatch of troops to Europe, an agreement with Great Britain, France, Russia, and Japan, for no separate peace, three steps advocated by the Chicago Tribune, are advanced, and arguments for and against them are presented, in addition to other plans.

Other significant phases of the world's news are also shown under these headings:

The Best and Latest Cartoons and Other Illustrations A World-Tour in An Observation-Car

Those of us who have traveled to any extent are familiar with that luxury of the tourist, the observationcar. It enables the voyager to obtain a clear view of all parts of the landscape through which he is passing. Its windows open impartially upon every side. It affords a panorama of the country to right and left, of the pass ahead and of the long trail winding out behind. It shows you mountain and plain, river and sea, green fields and smoky towns, and you are free to decide which of all these you prefer. There is no compulson, no touting. Your judgment is competely uninfluenced. Through the world of events THE LITERARY DI-GEST travels in precisely the same manner, giving its readers an unbiased view of all questions, all ideas, all diversities of thought. Here, as in the observation-car, you are free to decide upon your likings. There is no attempt to persuade or convince you. You are simply attempt to persuade or convince you.
