VEGETABLE CALOMEL

Vegetable calomel, extract of the root of the old-fashioned may-apple plant, does not salivate. As a liver stimulant, it's great. It's a perfect substitute for ordinary calomel (mercury); in fact, it's better, because its action is gentle instead of severe and irritating—and it leaves no mean, disagreeable after-effects.

Combined with four other standard, all-vegetable remedies, may-apple root may now be had at most any druggist's in convenient sugar-coated tablet form by asking for Santanel Laxatives. If you forget the name, ask for the box that has the picture of the soldier on it.

INDICTMENTS FOR NEWSPRINT MEN

Six Accused of Controlling 55 Per Cent. of the Entire Output
New York, April 13.—Charged with controlling 55 per cent. of the news-print paper production of the country and using their power in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, six paper manufacturers and a banker prominent in financing news-print paper companies were indicted by the Federal grand jury here yesterday.

The men indicted are: George H. Mead, Philip T. Dodge, Edward Backus, George Chahoon, Jr., G. H. P. Gould, Frank J. Sensenbrenner and Alexander Smith, a Chicago banker.

Mr. Colby added: "The Federal Trade Commission in its preliminary report to Congress declared that there existed in the news-print industry a combination in restraint of trade and that while there was no actual shortage in news-print paper, a very delicate equilibrium between the available supply and the demand had been brought about artificially in the trade. The grand jury as the result of its independent investigation, has in effect reached the same conclusion and has indicated the men whom it regards as responsible for these conditions, brought about, in its opinion, through a violation of the Federal anti-trust laws."

The indictment states the inquiry covered the period since December, 1914. The total daily output of news-print paper, chiefly used by newspapers, is put at 6,300 tons in Canada and the United States, with a value of $250,000. Of this amount, it is alleged, 5,600 tons were controlled by 45 specified companies, whose trade the defendants are accused of engaging in a conspiracy to restrain.

The association is described in the indictment as a voluntary trade association, composed of 45 firms and having "no constitution, by-laws nor minutes of proceedings." The defendants and Steele, the association secretary, it is alleged, through the association and the firms they controlled, carry on 55 per cent. of the news-print trade and having facilities to carry on 65 per cent., were able to dominate the business.

ANCIENT TOMBS ROBBED OF PRECIOUS JEWELS

Tokio, April 13.—Desecration and despoliation of imperial tombs near Nara for purposes of robbery has led to the discovery that other ancient tombs scattered through different parts of Yamashiro province have been broken open and contents of value removed.

The treasures disinterred from the tombs of members of the Imperial family who reigned both before and after Christ include objects of rare and nonappreciable value. Some of the jewels and ancient mirrors are said to date back as far as 2,000 years.

The hieroglyphics on the back of the mirrors are entirely new to archaeologists though they are presumed to be of Chinese origin. The previous stones are valued at many thousands of yen and are supposed to have come from China. Traditions have long been current as to the value of relics buried in the imperial and other ancient tombs including the tradition that on tomb contains a wonderful golden coronet of fabulous value. The relics and jewels which have been recovered since the arrest and sentencing of the robbers will be turned over to the imperial household department.
