

DESTINIES OF MAN ARE AT STAKE

Dr. Smucker Declares U. S. Is Fighting For Rights of Whole World

Before an audience which packed Stevens M. E. Church, the Rev. Dr. Clayton Albert Smucker last night preached a sermon on "The Nation's Call." At many points in the address there were outbreaks of applause.

Dr. Smucker said: "I am in favor of it. It is the only system under which the right man can be sent to the right place. The rich must bear their share of the common burden along with the sons of the poor. It is the only system which will hold intact our great industrial life. At this time every hour is big with destiny. Few generations have passed through more critical hours. Conditions call for earnest views of life and duty, for the serious note in every soul. A world is in its garden of Gethsemane and is being stretched upon its cross. Let us stand strong and sober. Let us stand together, stand for God, stand for democracy, stand for the nation, stand for the flag."

At the close of the service hundreds of folk took the minister by the hand and pledged their support to the great cause.

NO SURE WAY OF SEPARATING GOOD STOCK FROM BAD "There is no sure method of separating good stock from bad," says Albert W. Atwood in the Woman's Home Companion. "Even John D. Rockefeller can't always do that. But when you get a new stock offering, ask your local banker how much he will lend on it. If he will have nothing to do with it, throw the circular into the waste basket. If you want to be doubly sure, try another bank under a different management and in a different locality. If they also refuse to lend on the stock, you may be sure it amounts to very little."

ASKS TOO LITTLE "It is not because our Government asks too much of us that we seem to have lost respect for it," says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion. "but because it asks too little. If the Government were to demand one year of every man's life in service to it, there would be instilled into every man's being a respect for that Government which most men now never learn."

more and more aggravated and finally reaches down into the lungs, and everyone recognizes the alarming condition that results when the lungs are affected. Thus Catarrh is the forerunner of that most dreaded and hopeless of all diseases, consumption. No local treatment affords permanent relief. Experience has taught that S. S. S. is the one remedy which attacks the disease at its source, the blood, and produces satisfactory results in even the worst cases. Catarrh sufferers are urged to give S. S. S. a thorough trial. SENATE HAS BIG WEEK IN PROSPECT GIVE CORN CROP AN EVEN CHANCE

$2,000,000 Item For State Defense to Come Up For Debate This Evening

In the foreground in the Senate this week is the consideration of the $2,000,000 war fund asked by the Governor and delayed because of difference of opinion among senators as to the personnel of the disbursing board. The Governor's message urging the Legislature to act promptly is in the appropriations committee, of which Senator Buckman is chairman. This committee is to meet to-morrow to act on the big appropriation bill and the Governor's recommendations. The $2,000,000 bond issue bill is likely to receive attention also.

There is a big calendar for the Senate when it meets to-night at 9 o'clock. Many House bills have been sent to the upper branch besides the liquor license jurisdiction from the courts to the county commissioners and in the larger counties to excise commissions is on third reading. Other bills on this calendar include the Shattuck House bill fixing the compensation of banking department employees and authorizing an additional clerk; the Snyder act defining cold storage, regulating time of storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties; the Crow bill, making the assessments of property quadrupled instead of tripling; the Burke bill, increasing the salaries of public class city employees who receive $1,500 or less $150 per year; the Daix measure providing for a stadium in Philadelphia; Senator Snyder's bill to relieve the crowded condition of schools where the number of buildings is restricted and Senator Beideman's proposed act authorizing additional clerical help for the superintendent of the superintendent of public instruction.

There are 19 bills on the calendar of third reading bills postponed for the present either because of a hearing or because it had been thought wise to allow the sponsors further time before assenting to final passage. Senator Snyder's bill transferring the moving picture censorship from the present board to a commissioner of amusements under the supervision of the Auditor General's Department is on this calendar. It is a supplement to the act regulating the legal business of the Commonwealth and the employment of attorneys therefor.

Senator McNichol's bill which forbids the placing of compensation insurance with companies not operating under Pennsylvania laws may be called up during the week. Because of war hazards State companies have advanced the rates on this form of insurance, department officials say, and for this reason it had been decided to place large risks without a county agent's license is on first reading.

Senator Buckman's law advancing the automobile license fees and providing other regulations in the operation of automobiles is with the committee on public roads, recommended at the instance of the author so that opponents of the bill could be heard. The bill makes the minimum license fee $10 instead of $5 and raises the cost of the dealer's fee from $10 to $15.

Senator Beideman's act providing for special registration of voters for special elections is on the first reading calendar. The bill introduced by Senator C. A. Snyder forbidding brewers from having offices or agents for the solicitation of business without a county agent's license is on first reading.

BEST "SPRING TONIC" "Rhubarb," says a writer in the Woman's Home Companion, "is one of our best spring tonics. It is cheap, it is plenty. Anyone with a bit of a back yard can grow a few plants. It can be used in a variety of ways and what cannot be used at once can be packed away in cold water in sealed glass jars ready for winter. Nothing is more acceptable than the first sauce-dish of sliced rhubarb. Rhubarb can find a place anywhere on the menu, from a cold rhubarb soup, a rhubarb cocktail with white grapes, a sauce to serve with fish, or a conserve with meat, a jellied rhubarb salad with mayonnaise to desserts without number (hot or cold), including ice cream with strained rhubarb sauce. There is no course in which it may not appear, though in only one at a meal. Remember, there is a great difference in the quality of the fruit, so see to it that you select a fine-grained, tender variety."

THE PACIFIST OF '76 The pacifists of '76 are quoted as follows in the Woman's Home Companion: "Think of plunging into war because of a petty dispute over taxes," they must have said. "No lives have been lost; our territory has not been invaded; our homes have not been burned. And yet we purpose to fight, why? Because England puts a petty tax on a luxury like tea. She offers to meet us more than half way, she even promises to spend the whole proceeds of the tax right here in America. And yet we are going to war over it! Could anything be more wicked, more insane?"

in the northern third of the United States are: Thoroughly Dry Seed 1. Seed corn that matures properly and is thoroughly dried as soon as mature and kept dry will give a strong germination. 2. Seed corn of strong germination can be planted several weeks earlier than ordinary seed. Ordinary seed will rot where proper seed will not. Valuable points in connection with seed of strong germination are its ability to stand planting earlier, to utilize more fully the growing season, to mature earlier and to produce a larger and a better matured crop. 3. Very early planted corn makes slower growth above ground than late planted corn, is not so tender and consequently not so badly injured by spring frosts. 4. In general, earliness of maturity means earliness in size and yield. It is a mistake to choose the earliest maturing varieties where a larger and more productive variety can be ripened by earlier planting. With seed corn of strong germination (which is not as scarce as usual this spring), it is not advisable to wait until danger from frost is past before planting. The ten days more of growing weather so anxiously needed in the fall can be secured by planting several weeks earlier than usual. With seed of strong germination, no fear need be felt because of cold soil or frosts. A good root growth will take place and the growth above ground will be so slow and hardy that it will withstand cold weather and frosts better than later planted corn. Plant Thick Thick plantings should be made, so that although the weakest plants are killed by frosts and insects destroy some, a sufficient number of the most vigorous plants will remain to maintain a full stand. After planting, the soil surface should be kept dry and warm by frequent cultivations. In the District of Columbia, good stands have been obtained from plantings made in February where the ground froze several times after planting. In North Dakota, good stands have been obtained from plantings made in April and in Northern Ohio, one hundred bushels of mature shelled corn per acre have been produced by plants whose leaves were frozen off after the plants had attained a height of twelve to eighteen inches. It is the fall and not the spring frosts that should be feared. Early planted corn matures earlier and usually yields better than later planted corn. Earlier planting will result in larger and better crops in the northern third of the United States and cause sufficiently early ripening to reduce the enormous losses which frequently occur through failure of the corn crop to mature before growth is stopped by frost. SHE'S A FEMINIST She had often enjoyed the harmless pastime of dividing one's acquaintances into two classes, "Bromides and Sulphites," "Your Kind and My Kind," or whatever happened to be the latest fad in classification. Now she found that all the men she knew naturally fell into one or the other of the two great classes: Those you can borrow suspenders from. Those you can't. — Margaret Busbee Shipp in the Woman's Home Companion.

TOO MUCH MEAT AS BAD AS TOO LITTLE "Too much meat is as bad for the body as too little," we are told in the Woman's Home Companion. "During the digestion of meats, fish and eggs, acids are formed. In order to prevent the accumulation of too much of this acid in the system it is necessary to eat also fresh vegetables and fruits, which have properties that neutralize the acids formed by the meat. This is one reason why meat and potatoes are usually served together. It is safer to have too little meat than to eat too little fruit and too few vegetables."

Don't Experiment with Catarrh; It Often Leads to Dread Consumption

You Will Never Be Cured by Local Treatment With Sprays and Douches. Catarrh is a condition of the blood and can not be cured by local applications of sprays and douches; this has been proven by the thousands who have vainly resorted to this method of treatment. Catarrh should not be neglected or experimented with. The wrong treatment is valuable time lost, during which the disease is getting a firmer hold upon its victim, and making it more difficult for even the proper treatment to accomplish results. Though Catarrh makes its first appearance in the nostrils, throat and air passages, the disease becomes
