Many Fans Injured in Fall of Columbus Bleachers

Columbus, Ohio, April 18.—Forty-two men were injured, fourteen of them seriously enough to warrant hospital attention, in the collapse of a section of the west bleachers at Neil Park yesterday afternoon just before the start of the baseball game between the Columbus Senators and the Louisville American Association team. The accident occurred while the teams were practicing, following a patriotic demonstration which marked the opening of the American Association season in Columbus. More than twelve thousand fans had gathered to witness the season's inaugural and the west bleachers, just behind third base, were crowded with a dozen physicians in the grandstand responded to the call for help and gave first aid to the injured. More than 100 persons fell when the section gave way, but of this number only 42 were found to be hurt. Only one man, Elmer E. Crozier, is thought to be dangerously hurt. He suffered a fracture of the right arm and internal injuries.

First Protest For Tener Comes From Manager Moran

Boston, April 18.—The Philadelphia Nationals have protested against the twelve inning victory yesterday. Manager Patrick Moran announced last night. A decision by Umpire Bransfield, who declared Pitcher Lavender, of the Philadelphia's out for running off the line between second and third bases in the third inning when Philadelphia scored five runs, was the basis of the complaint. Lavender had started to cross the diamond from second, apparently believing he had been called out on a play at that base, but turned and reached third base before the ball was thrown to that position. Manager Moran said his protest was based on the ground that a runner cannot legally be retired for leaving the baseline unless intending to avoid being tagged.

SOMEBODY LIED.

The Sportlight by Grantland Rice (Copyright, 1917, The Tribune Ass'n.)

At the Edge Work is dull and play is duller. Where the mighty Shadow waits; Where the crimson flame draws nearer; And the storm is at our gates; With divided concentration, Each must grope across the bridge— What is sport or law or labor In the glow of Vimy Ridge? Once I thought of Cobb or Speaker, Once I turned to double plays; Now a Shadow seems to stalk me Through the length of restless days; Where the hand of Fate seems reaching Through the shades of forming lines, Where the air is full of murmurs, And the sky is full of signs. Once I felt the spell of April Through its sunshine and its rain; Now the putt no longer thrills me, And the fairway calls in vain; There are voices from the roadside, There's a whisper from the ledge, And the winds are rife with echoes As we wait upon the edge.

Johnson's Major League season with a shutout, attached to those who saw him work, the Idaho Shrapnel has as much speed to-day as he had ten years ago. This seems reasonable enough, despite reports that Johnson was slipping a bit.

The National star is not only a pitcher with rare physical power, but he has one of the easiest pitching motions ever known. There isn't a jerk or a lank in his delivery. The whole affair is a matter of perfect rhythm, and this means, as a rule, unusual length of service.

Johnson is now only twenty-nine years old. As he takes the best care of himself and rarely worries under fire, he should have at least eight years more. Washington may be no pennant contender, but there are seven ball clubs who will not be caught cheering on the days that find Weiser's favorite son in the rifle pit.

Dear Sir: Military training is one of the best things in the world for developing a man. It is not very different from athletic training—take baseball, for instance. You will find that the big leagues are filled with big men. To those of you who say, "I can think of lots of ballplayers who are small," I only ask you to go over a dope sheet showing the heights and weights of the members of a team, or, better, pick out the smallest man on the field at a game, and then meet him afterward for comparative measurement. Of course, this is not written to shot putters, but to average men.

Why not train our riflemen to shoot from the left shoulder? Left-handed hitters in baseball include Cobb, Speaker, Jackson, Sisler, Collins, Baker, Dauterbert, Crawford and most of the other leaders. In the old days the right-hander was king. Lajoie, Wagner, Delehanty were all members of this tribe. But the right-hander as a leading batsman is now fading gently and softly back of the ridge.

One of the favorite ballads of war used to be: "We were ordered to charge, and not to stop, and we charged right into a whiskey shop." But prohibition has knocked most of the melody from this ancient refrain.

April Voices O, Little Winds of April, You whisper in a song Of solitudes that linger Beyond the rushing throng— Beyond the crash and clamor— Beyond the greed and gain— Of life among the blossoms That crown the open lane. O, Little Winds of April, You echo in a sigh For those who may not follow To where your journeys lie; To those who may not follow Along the open lane, Beyond the hurt and heartache, The sorrow and the pain.

After concluding a series of burning debates with Heinle the Zim, National League umpires already appreciate the full effect of Germanic machine gun fire.

Not forgetting the ancient maxim—"One pound of assault weighs more than two pounds of defense."

CUBS TRAILING HORNSBY St. Louis, Mo., April 18.—That Mag-nate Weeghman, of the Chicago Cubs, intends to reopen negotiations with the Cardinals for Rogers Hornsby, was the secret information which reached President Rickey's ears Monday. It was reported that Weeghman was ready to pay $20,000 cash, and add infielders Hunter and Wolfe and Catcher Blackburn for the Cardinals' star. President Rickey gave out the following statement: "Hornsby is not for sale—to the Cubs, or to any other club in the league. Weeghman cannot buy him for $50,000."

Lebanon Valley Team Has Hard Southern Schedule

Anville, April 18.—Lebanon Valley begins their baseball season in earnest to-day when they leave on a southern trip which will last the remainder of the week. This trip includes Mt. St. Joseph, at Baltimore; Western Maryland, at Westminster; Mt. St. Mary's, at Emmitsburg; and Mercersburg Academy, at Mercersburg. The game with Temple University last Saturday, although it resulted in an easy victory for Lebanon Valley helped Coach Guyer in selecting his line-up for this week. Kerns, a new man, from Rome, N. Y., is filling the position back of the bat which was left vacant by the graduation of McNelly, of last year's team and his work on Saturday was commendable. The pitching staff is composed of Capt. White, ex-Capt. Zeigler, R. Swartz and Brown, all old men. The new men that have found berths on the team are Baynes at third; Fishburn at second; Haines at first; Anderson in the field with Barnhart, making a strong bid for a regular job.

FREDDIE WELSH DEFEATS NELSON

Champion Shows Clever Foot Work; Hits Opponent Hard in Final Round

St. Louis, April 18.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, easily bested Battling Nelson, in twelve rounds of boxing here last night. The champion backed up against the ropes, but Referee Ed Smith motioned the boxers together again. Welsh, apparently angered, then began his only real attack. He slashed Nelson with right and left hooks and pummeled his body. Nelson soon was bleeding, and at the end of round eleven, both men were crimson from a cut in the Batter's lip. Nelson weighed 132, Welsh 155.

KRAUSE WINS AT READING

Reading, Pa., April 18.—Johnny Krause, of Philadelphia, bested Paul Edwards of Brooklyn, at the Watson A. C. wind-up, last night. Krause's left jab to the face seemed to bother Edwards, the Philadelphian taking seven out of ten rounds, sending Edwards to the floor in the eighth with a wicked right to the jaw. The bout was marked with furious milling from bell to bell, Edwards fighting gamely. In the semiwind-up Frankie O'Brien, Reading, earned a good draw with Stanley Willis, of Detroit, after six hard fought rounds. In the preliminaries Young Sharkey, of Reading, shaded Lew Russell, of New York, while Johnny Cobb, of South Bethlehem, earned a popular decision over Mike Russell, of New York. Battling Paskos, of Reading, shaded Young Fulton, of Pottsville.

JIMMY O'NEILL WITH BUFFALO

Scranton, Pa., April 18.—Jimmy O'Neill, of Minooka, another of the famous O'Neill family of ball players, who was an alternate infielder for the Buffalo team in the International League last year, has been transferred to first base and is playing that position regularly in the Bisons' training camp in Norfolk, Va.

WELLY'S CORNER

Following numerous announcements that the Naval Academy would keep sports going, notice was given yesterday that all sports had been canceled. The first shot of the war made this move necessary. Penn's crew race with the Navy was called off. Much disappointment was expressed at University of Pennsylvania, but it could not be helped.

Harrisburg Academy is getting busy with baseball. This afternoon the varsity nine played Riverside. On Saturday Academy will meet a nine from the company on guard at the Rockville bridge. Both games will be played on Academy Field.

Steeleton is to have a strong team in the Bethlehem Steel League. "Shorty" Miller, who will be coach, has called his candidates for practice and a number were out this afternoon.

At a meeting Saturday the Four-City Trashing League will arrange a schedule for the summer and fall. It is probable that the majority of the shoots will be held on Friday instead of Saturday. This plan has met with some objection because on Saturday many have a half holiday. It is claimed that a Friday shoot will mean that employees of local industries will be obliged to lose a full day. Both Academy and Tech shooters will be out this week.

"Bill" Mickey, of this city, a well-known athlete who graduated at Lebanon Valley College last year, is making good at Harvard. He has passed an examination for service in the Coast Defense Squadron, and will begin his duties on Monday.

This is the day George Cockill set for his first line-up of players at Lehigh. He expects to get down to business to-morrow. Harrisburg fans are anxiously awaiting the first game in this city.

Kid Gleason, the veteran strategist and trainer of the White Sox, is getting credit for the good work. The pitchers have been showing great form. The Boston Braves are Academy fighters, and with a man like Gleason they look like winners.

CARBIDE BRINGS CASH TO BACKERS

Have De Grace, Md., April 18.—A day of surprises in the race track reached a climax yesterday when J. S. Tyree's five-year-old Carbide shot over the finish line in the lead in the sixth lightweight of 100 pounds, led the best of the day. The long odds were accounted for by the support accorded to P. Powers' crack sprinter Top o' the Morning and Harry Payne Whitney's Clapper Bill. Top o' the Morning landed in third place behind H. F. Carman's startling, another outsider, while Clapper Bill failed to get in the money.

This well-tried thoroughbred to show his speed without success. It remained for little A. Collins to turn the trick. He broke away from the barrier promptly and, carrying the light weight of 100 pounds, led the best of the day. The long odds were accounted for by the support accorded to P. Powers' crack sprinter Top o' the Morning and Harry Payne Whitney's Clapper Bill. Top o' the Morning landed in third place behind H. F. Carman's startling, another outsider, while Clapper Bill failed to get in the money.

McIvor Team Retains Its Lead by Taking Two Games From Owens Team

The Owens team dropped two games to the league leading McIvor team, which retained its lead in the race. The leaders came within one pin of winning all three games. The O'Leary team was defeated by the Myers team, but retained its hold on second place. The Banks team by taking three games from the Palmer rollers held third place.
