Eddie Foster Stands Out As Star in Losing Game New York, April 21. — Eddie Fos-ter, Washington second baseman, was on the losing side at the Polo Ground Thursday, but whether or no he de-serves an encomium or two, all by himself. The reason was, he made four hits. Four hits in one game by one man are not unheard of, but they are not common. Fosters hits, all singles, were clean, ringing line drives, each and every one of them. More-sover, they played a part in all of the scoring the Washingtons did, which was not sucient to accomplish the de-sired end. Without Foster's hits the fatten his batting average greatly to has the melancholy satisfaction of stated of a defeat. Consciousness of work well dome is its own reward.

REPAIRING CAMP HILL STREET Camp Hill, Pa., April 21.-A force of workmen employed by the Central Construction Company, of Harrisburg, is engaged placing Market street in good condition. This street has been a problem of a summer's work for Council for several years. The worst places in the thoroughfare are being ripped up and repayed. It is probable the street will be olied later.

It has stood as the "Master Motorcycle" for fifteen years. The new models are marked by even greater speed - even more power-a motor full of vim and snap.

Make this a Harley-Davidson summer and you will know the joy of living as you have never known it before.

Come in and let us tell you how easy it is to get a Harley-Davidson, and how little it costs to run it.
