

REVENUE BILLS ARE PRESENTED

Would Raise Between Four and Five Million Dollars Every Year They Say

Four revenue raising bills which it is estimated will raise between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 per year were introduced into the House last evening by Chairman James F. Woodward, of the Appropriations Committee.

The revenue bills call for one mill tax in capital invested in manufacturing and laundering, the proceeds to be devoted to highway purposes, for a two per cent. ad valorem tax on each ton of coal mined in the State, one half to be devoted to highway purposes; the balance for general State uses, and two per cent. ad valorem on crude petroleum and natural gas, proceeds to be devoted to highway purposes.

Game Code Lost The game code bill which has been under consideration in the House and its game committee for weeks was passed in the House last night by a vote of 116 to 53. The bill was made a special order on third reading and an attempt made to go into committee of the whole to insert an amendment to prevent sale of eggs was voted down 81 to 79.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Stein, Philadelphia, and passed for the first time which would carry into effect the constitutional amendment relative to Philadelphia debt increase election approved in 1915.

ling the affairs of that committee. The western interests want the business completed and the committee put to sleep for the rest of the session while the eastern men are not so keen for that procedure.

The committee will likely go back to the Smith Cabaret repealer. This was introduced by the youthful member from Bedford county and positively prohibits cabarets in licensed saloons and clearly defines what the saloon may offer in the way of entertainment for its patrons.

Various measures relating to the liquor business will also be reported. The committee will discuss premium bills, one dealing with signs that will be permitted over saloons and others of a technical nature which have been considered by the Liquor Dealers' Association.

SECOND DRUGGIST IS UNDER ARREST

Many of the forms had been drawn on local druggists but an investigation proved that they were not on file locally, but had been filled out of the city.
