

SPRIT OF REVOLT SPREADS IN RUSSIA

With or without lease, spread the news of the revolution and lead the peasants against the landowners. This is chiefly the case in the Saratov government, where the people are often inclined to be turbulent.

Peasants' conferences, to which delegates are sent from even the smallest communes, are being organized in every province of Russia to discuss peasant needs. Those already held have insisted on a proper distribution of land.

Peasants' conferences, to which delegates are sent from even the smallest communes, are being organized in every province of Russia to discuss peasant needs. Those already held have insisted on a proper distribution of land.

Considerable ill feeling is shown in some districts toward landowners. Bessarabian peasants in one instance sacked a country house and estates belonging to a rich family.

Peasants are highly reactionary and in one district, especially the Odessa, military authorities have taken strong measures to suppress a counter revolutionary movement.

Will Start Military Training Next Week

Through the courtesy of Quincy Bent, general manager of the local steel plant, in giving a leave of absence to ten men from work during the day, the Military Training method has been given a send-off at the high school. Mr. Bent has consented to allow Sergeants Harry Bretz and Frank Harder, employees at the steel works to take time off during the day to attend these boys' training. A meeting will be held this evening, and it is probable the training will be started Monday. There are more than 100 boys who are members of the temporary organization formed sometime ago.

VICTIMS OF AUTO CRASH

DAVID H. MCINTYRE. Killed instantly.

AARON S. BENDER. Badly hurt.

THREE KILLED, FOUR HURT IN CRASH

William Grace and Harry Smeltzer, both railroaders, were thrown from the machine to the road. Smeltzer struck the road face first. His chin and forehead are badly cut. Grace was so cut and bruised that he was unable to be out of bed this morning. After passing the car driven by Mr. Neff, it is said Simonetti's car struck a slight stretch of mud and wobbled from side to side. According to the statements of survivors, the car was not going more than 30 miles an hour.

Simonetti organized the party for a little pleasure jaunt yesterday afternoon, intending to give the two women at his home a short ride. Eyewitnesses of Accident

Conductor R. L. Kieffer and Simon Page, motorman of Paxtang car No. 509, were eyewitnesses of the crash. They declared that the car swung from side to side before striking the pole. The striking of the concrete guard also helped to throw the car across the road.

David McIntyre has been employed on the Pennsylvania railroad for 25 years. During that time he has never been in a single accident. He has just returned from work when Simonetti invited him for the ride. He is survived by his wife, two sisters, Miss Flora, of Columbia, and Mrs. Annie White, of Lancaster, and three brothers, William, of Fairview, and John and James, of Columbia. Harry Smeltzer is also employed by the Pennsylvania railroad. This morning he held up a finger and displayed a small scar. "That," he said, "is all the injuries I ever received during 18 years of service. I am badly bruised up," he said, fingering a deep cut on his face, "but I'm all right."

Mrs. Snyder is survived by her daughter, Mrs. J. Jacob Simonetti, and one brother, George Stevick, of Pittsburgh; two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Hartzell and Mrs. Sadie Hoke, both of this city.

When spectators arrived on the scene the dead and dying were scattered about the road for a distance of 20 feet. One of the employees of the hospital, who was hurried to the scene of the accident, with the ambulance, when asked about the car, declared, "I didn't see any car, all I saw was blood."
