FARM MEETINGS RECRUIT KILLED ON WAY TO ARMY Charles Beard Crushed by Train Just After Volunteering For War Service

Mechanicsburg, Pa., May 1.—The most important and extensive series of patriotic and agricultural meetings ever held in Cumberland county have been planned for this week by the Public Safety committee.

Wednesday, May 2, at Cedar Grove schoolhouse, just south of Shiremanstown; local committee, J. P. Leever, Dr. Longman and J. G. Senneker, speakers; Prof. E. B. Tietrich, of Carlisle, and Prof. E. H. Hess, of Granton.

Thursday, May 3, at Liburn; local committee, A. E. Kunkel and J. S. Leever; speakers, J. L. Young and the Rev. Ferguson, both of Mechanicsburg.

Friday, May 4, at Sunbury; local committee, F. H. Bowman and R. Bowman; speakers, Dr. Lee, President of the Chamber of Commerce of Carlisle, and H. A. Surface, of Mechanicsburg.

There will be an auto load of extra-supplemental speakers at each place, and plenty of lively, patriotic music. The public is welcome, but the farmers are especially invited to attend, as one purpose of the meetings is a practical address on timely agricultural subjects, at each place.

Among the patriotic speakers are some of the most eloquent men of the platform, and persons who fail to attend these free meetings and hear these gifted orators will make a mistake.
