"DAREDEVIL" SMASHES AUTO

James Koch Drives Machine Over Stone Wall and Kills William Martin

Mount Joy, Pa., May 2.—James Koch, of Lancaster, formerly of Mt. Joy, better known as "Dare Devil Luke," while intoxicated, ran through Mount Joy in an automobile, carrying seven passengers, on a joy ride Monday afternoon in a reckless manner at such a high rate of speed that a few miles east of town, at a curve in the road, the car upset, ran over a stone wall and against a tree, with such a force as to kill William Martin, one of the occupants and injuring the others. Dr. Jerome S. Kendig, of Salingsport, was hurriedly summoned and as was the ambulance from the General Hospital at Lancaster.

Martin, however, died before he was removed. Koch has figured in a number of arrests for reckless driving and has been employed around garages for some time. The machine he was running was borrowed from J. L. Grimm on the pretext by Koch of taking his mother to the cemetery. It is likely that a charge of manslaughter will be brought against him. The dead man was a son of Joseph Martin and was twenty-one years old. He is survived by his parents, his wife and one son, Gerald Paul.

FLAGRAISING IN RAILROAD YARDS

Marysville People Have Big Celebration at Unfurling of National Emblem

Marysville, Pa., May 2.—Marysville turned out en masse yesterday afternoon for a patriotic parade to celebrate the raising of a large flag on the yard master's office. Teachers and pupils of the public school, headed by the Marysville Cornet Band, left the school building and marched to the office, where the exercises were held.

After patriotic selections by the band and prayer by the Rev. R. E. Hartman, the oration of the day was delivered by the Rev. S. L. Rice, R. G. Cunningham, assistant freight train master, made the response to the speech. M. C. Dick sounded taps prior to the playing of the national anthem and the unfurling of the flag by Chief Burgess A. M. Fisher. A white pigeon had been concealed in the flag and when its folds were unfurled the pigeon darted over the town toward the mountain. The pigeon was meant to symbolize the incalculable breadth of influence felt each time another flag was unfurled. The money for the flag was raised by popular subscription among the railroad men of the town. The committee in charge of the flag raising were J. C. F. Geib, A. C. Eppley and M. C. Dick.

75 STUDENTS ANSWER CALL

Activities at Dickinson College Greatly Affected by Enrollment of Young Men

Carlisle, Pa., May 2.—Just as in Civil War times the activities at Dickinson College were practically suspended, so many of the students at the institution have responded to the call to "farm and arm," and have left for their homes or for examination for the various branches of the naval and military service of the United States.

Following the announcement that credit will be given those who enroll for training courses or engage in agricultural activities, many men have left the school, practically every train being sent on its way by a cheering delegation sending some man off for examination or to the plow. In all 35, mostly seniors, have enrolled for Fort Niagara work, and about 40 more have gone to work on farms in their home communities or in this county.

Reports to the effect that the Carlisle Indian School would be made a training center for troops during the coming summer were today stated by Superintendent Francis to be without foundation, so far as he was officially informed. Carlisle school boys are enrolling for farm work, following the decision of the school board that provision and full credit will be given those who take up farm work for a three month minimum period. This applies to all above the grammar school age and over 100 are all ready to go as soon as final arrangements are made.

Lemoine, Pa., May 2.—Whether or not Hummel avenue and Rossmoyne street will be oiled to abate the dust nuisance now depends upon donations of the residents of these streets to a fund to be used in purchasing the oil. A committee from the Welfare League of Lemoine met council at its session last night and asked permission to place the oil in the street. Council gave its consent and will furnish teams to haul away the surplus ground from the streets. A committee of the League will hold a conference with Burgess Raymond Shur to have a day set aside for "good roads day" when each property owner will be requested to shoulder a hoe and dig the surplus dust from the street in front of his property. Council also consented to furnish stone to fill up all holes in the streets. "Good roads day" will not be set aside until enough money is obtained to get the oil. Several hundred dollars are yet necessary. A letter from President M. C. Kennedy, of the Cumberland Valley Railroad Company, giving his views on the request for a new bridge made by council several months ago was read. Mr. Kennedy stated that he did not think it was up to the railroad company to fill up the approach at the lower end of Rossmoyne street. Council is now devising means for the permanent improvement of Rossmoyne street and fixing the borough lines in the street. A meeting of council will be held in about two weeks, when the matter will be further discussed.

Annville, Pa., May 2.—Miss Pauline Clark, formerly of Harrisburg, now a resident of Hershey, was Queen of May at Lebanon Valley College. Miss Clark is the daughter of S. D. Clark, general manager of the Hershey Store Company, and the park. He was formerly a department manager at Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, at which time Miss Clark attended the Central High school and was a sophomore in the 1913 class, when the family moved to Hershey. Miss Clark entered Lebanon Valley in the fall of 1913 and the honor recently conferred upon her is merely the culmination of her popularity during her four years as a co-ed at that institution. The May Day celebration will be observed on May 5, at which time a May-pole and other fitting homages will be paid to the queen.
