OPPOSE ORDER TO REMOVE MEN

Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce Asks Recall of Railroad Order

Unless there is a change in present plans, Cumberland Valley Railroad men, who run from Cumbo to Rutherford, will have to move to Martinsburg and vicinity. This order will affect a large number of Chambersburg residents, and the Chamber of Commerce has been asked to confer with President M. C. Kennedy of the Cumberland Valley Railroad, and endeavor to have the order changed.

The new order means the removal of 180 men from Chambersburg to Cumbo or Martinsburg. The trainmen operate freight from Cumbo to Rutherford. The trains come over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to Cumbo the new classification yards. From there they are run over the Cumberland Valley and Philadelphia and Reading Railroad to Rutherford.

Two Families Move Already two families have removed to Cumbo which is a short distance east of Martinsburg. The new classification yards are to Martinsburg what Enola is to Harrisburg, and the railroad company, it is said, figures that it pays to have the men near the terminal point.

The committee appointed by the Chambersburg Chamber of Commerce includes, A. N. Pomeroy, T. J. Breerton and Robert Criswell. They will meet President Kennedy this week and report the result of the conference next week.

Cleveland Girls Fear a "Jack the Snipper"

Cleveland, O., May 16.—"Be on the lookout for a Jack the Snipper." Such was the order flashed through the police and detective departments by Chief of Police Rowe when reports of women victims convinced him that a Jack the Snipper was operating in the city. "The Jack the Snipper" for whom Cleveland police are searching is different from the usual type that clips off children's hair or preys upon defenseless women. Cleveland's snipper is believed to be armed with a ring set with a small sharp blade the same as used by professional pickpockets who cut out men's pockets to obtain their wallets.

The snipper steals up behind his victims in a crowd and runs the sharp edge of his ring down their clothes and then steals as quietly away. Yesterday he preyed on two girls and a woman on their way to St. John's Cathedral. Their new spring dresses were slashed.

Cautions Holders of Gardens on Selection of Seed Potatoes

Shirley B. Watts, superintendent of the garden plots this morning issued a statement to holders who have taken ground from the Chamber of Commerce asking them to exercise as much care as possible in the selection of the seed potatoes. It has come to the notice of the Chamber that people have been buying and planting southern potatoes. These potatoes have never been allowed to reach maturity and even those reaching maturity require a lapse of several months before they give good results for seed purposes.

The Chamber of Commerce is very anxious to co-operate with the planters of the city's gardens through the agricultural committee. It states that potatoes grown in a climate farther north than this latitude are always good for seed but the early southern potatoes seldom are. By co-operation with the Chamber it believes the people who are planting the gardens will not be disappointed and gather the harvest that every gardener is now banking on.

CONSERVATION OF YOUNG IS URGED

Points Out Future Greatness of Nation Depends on Them; Dry Nation Is Pleaded For

At the final session of the East Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Representative Fletcher W. Stites of Montgomery county spoke on the conservation of the young men and young women of the country as the only means of assuring future greatness for the nation. Representative Stites laid emphasis on the fact that the young people of the country would be the backbone of the nation in a few years and unless good morals and good Christian training were taught them at the present, the nation must pay at some future date. Resolutions were adopted urging Congress to pass national prohibition at least during the war and to pass stringent laws that would prevent speculation in the foodstuffs of the nation. The fall session of the Synod will be held in Oberlin when new officers will be elected.
