The trip, which took him up to the very firing line, was made about two weeks ago. Mr. Penfield character-ized the behavior of the German sol-diers against the population as "bar-barity and fiendishness," and their destruction of fruit and shade trees as "systematic murdering of nature." ception of distance and speed, a knowledge that all aviators must have. "If a military aviation school is established in Indianapolis I don't think that you will find many slack-ers among this adventuresome two thousand. I am told that there are about one hundred men in the national plant alone who are ready to enlist in the aviation corps, provided the government gives them an opportu-nity to learn to fly at the Indianapolis speedway. Many of them are waiting until an aviation school is established before answering the call to colors, preferring the more spectacular and preferring the more spectacular and hazardous air fighting to sea and trench battle and rightly believing that they are especially qualified to handle a warplane."

The Studebaker SIX is not an experiment-it is an evolution.

The Studebaker SIX is made of carefully selected materials developed, perfected and tested in the great Studebaker laboratories.

The workmanship in Studebaker cars is experienced, painstaking and carefully supervised. The inspections are rigid and exacting in the extreme.

What is true of the Studebaker SIX is also true of the Studebaker FOUR. Both cars are of the same basic design. Many of their parts are interchangeable-that is why it is possible for Studebaker to offer so good a car at so low a price. The quality of Studebaker cars is evident in their finish and equipment.

But the real proof of quality is durability. Studebaker cars stand up and give long, continuous service under the hardest usage.

Studebaker cars are guaranteed by the manufacturer for one year against defective workmanship and material. When you buy a Studebaker you get proved quality, proved economy and the guarantee of a great manufacturer.

Let us demonstrate to you the many points of Studebaker quality and economy.
