The Spotlight by Grantland Rice

Copyright, 1917, The Tribune Association (New York Tribune). Babe Ruth vs. the Field

A contemporary a day or so ago referred to Babe Ruth, the Red Sox star, as "one of the greatest, if not THE greatest, left-handers of all time—either now or in the making." The latter phrase referred to Ruth.

Ruth is a great pitcher—a mighty purveyor of the baffling pill. He was the greatest pitcher in the game last year—and apparently the best left-hander extant this season.

But the time is not yet ripe to enlist him as the greatest—or even one of the greatest—the southpaw flock. For no such standing in the baseball community is built up in one, two or three years. Nor yet in five years.

A Few Southpaws Ruth, who is young, powerful and possessed of the winning stuff, may some day work his way to the southpaw heights.

But he has quite a distance yet to go before he passes the various crests left by such left-handers as Todd Ramsay, Theodore Brettenstein, George Edward Waddell, Doc White, Napoleon Rucker, George Witte, Edward Plank and several others.

Waddell had three things—baffling, blinding speed, fine control and a wicked curve. He may not have been the smartest pitcher in the world, but with these three things he was too well stocked to require anything else.

He had fully as much smarts as Babe Ruth, a better curve and equal or better control in the main, depended all in and through, but he had enough stuff left to strike out more men than any right-hander or left-hander in his league had ever done before—or has ever done since.

Smart Left-Handers Contrary to popular belief, the pastime has been replete with smart, brainy left-handers. We have never seen a smarter pitcher than Theodore Brittenstein, the old $10,000 wonder with the Browns and Reds. We can't recall pitchers any smarter than Nap Rucker, Eddie Plank, Doc White or Jesse Tannehill.

Plank is the warhorse of the left-handers. He has lasted longer than any left-hander in baseball history. Eddie is the veteran pitcher of his league—the oldest pitcher left in either circuit.

Babe vs. Babe Babe Ruth still needs the test of time to insure his greatness. You may still recall the flashy career of Rube Marquard. Rube won twenty-four or twenty-five games in 1911; in 1912 he won 27; in 1913 he won 28; in 1914 he won 29; in 1915 he won 30; in 1916 he won 31; in 1917 he won 32.

But quite a stretch of time still lies between Babe and lasting greatness. The halo which surrounds the festive beans, in memory of Waddell, Plank, White, Rucker, etc., was not grown in a year or two. Not quite.

PLAYERS MUST SHARE LOSSES OR NO GAMES

Minneapolis, Miss., May 19.—M. E. Cantillon, president of the Minneapolis club of the American Association, declared, "that unless the players are willing to accept a percentage of the losses, we will have to drop baseball for this season. According to Cantillon the players' salaries had eaten up baseball profits for the last four or five years."

The baseball situation has come to a stage where matters must adjust themselves to fit conditions, or there will be no baseball," Cantillon said. "With an attendance of about 800 on week days and 4,000 on Sundays we cannot pay out the money we did with a daily attendance of 2,500."

No Cheap Game Cantillon said he did not intend to cheapen baseball by replacing high-salaried players, but that players should accept reductions. "We now have seven players on the team receiving over $100 a month," he said. "If we reduce the salaries to $75 a month, we can save $1,000 a month."

SPECIAL BOWLING MATCH IS BANQUET AGREEMENT LARGE PURSE FOR VICTORS

One more important bowling contest will be finished in Harrisburg before the league season is ended. It will be a three-man handicap series between two teams selected yesterday and the winning team will receive a purse of $200. This is the largest single purse ever offered in Harrisburg for a bowling series.

During Thursday's banquet of the members of the Dauphin-Cumberland League each of the fifty guests present was given an opportunity to suggest something new in bowling. The three-match series for seven-man teams was one of the projects offered and fourteen players at once entered in the big series.

Selected Two Captains John O'Leary was selected to captain one team, and will have as his players, the three-man handicap series between Herb and Wharton. Under the captaincy of Arthur Fickes, these players will compete; Banks, Burger, Kimmel, Bentz and Washington.

The first game will take place in the city this May 24, the second on May 25 and the third on May 26. The first game will be played at the field or behind the bat. Both are good hitters.

O'Leary, last one of his best pitchers Saturday. Roth, the best right-hander who held over from the 1916 season, quit the Stars. He received a letter last Saturday from the manager of a large iron foundry in the west part of Pennsylvania offering him a good position and a place on the pitching staff of the team that represents the foundry on the baseball field. The job will be good twice months in the year and will allow him to receive $2,000, and Manager O'Leary consented to allow Roth to take it. He will be placed on the suspended list by the Stars so that if he returns to professional baseball he will have to report to Syracuse.

A meet with Gettysburg was scheduled for Wednesday, May 23, but a letter was received last evening from the institution's officers, who had cancelled the meet set for next Saturday. The only outside event remaining is a lacrosse game with the Lehigh Athletic Club at Brooklyn on May 26.

BUCKNELL DROPS ATHLETICS

Lewisburg, May 19.—For the first time in the history of Bucknell the schedules for the current season in baseball and track are completely cancelled. For the past two weeks each baseball player and trackman have been leaving daily for various branches of the military service. Peale was called to the office, Mr. Peale and Brenner went to the Harrisburg team of the New York State League.

Y., May 19.—Pitcher Carmichael, whom Manager Pat Moran, of the Phillies, sent to Manager Jimmy Jackson, of the local New York State League team, for further seasoning, was yesterday turned back to the Phillies. Jackson gave Carmichael a chance for his white alley against the Elmira club, but for some reason he did not seem to be able to go. Jackson has also announced that he intends selling infielder Bender to the Elmira team, of the Eastern Association. He has closed a deal for Pitcher Pepper Clark, of the Sioux City team of the Western League.

WELLY'S CORNER

Harrisburg was idle yesterday because of wet grounds at Syracuse. The Islanders wind up the series with the Stars to-morrow and then slip back to Utica for another series. They will be home for a series with Syracuse starting May 24.

Indications are that baseball weather, to the liking of the fans, will be in order when the team gets back home. Harrisburg has not had a good opportunity to show their support. With new men in the lineup Manager George Cockill expects to get into a winning stride and stay there.

In the selection of Charles J. Householder as assistant manager for the West End A. C., more good sport is assured. It is in touch with many good teams outside of the city and will also be able to keep a line on players who may be needed if the war-draft breaks up the present lineup.

Members of the Motive Power Athletic Association to the Pennsylvania Railroad had an ideal day for a baseball opening. Philadelphia was the attraction at Island Park. There was a big parade this afternoon. Many rovers came here from the Quaker City. Harrisburg members were out in force with their noisemaking machines.

Shorty Miller and his league team to-day entertained the Enola team. On Wednesday the Bethlehem Steel Company aggregation will play Villanova College and constitute Miller has a promising aggregation.

The Tech High school team left yesterday noon for Pittsburgh, where they will participate for the first time in the Pitt interscholastic meet. The Maroon lads will run up against some real competition to-day at the western university, and to win will give them their biggest victory.

That Allison Hill League is faster than ever and contains some of the best amateur material in the city. Five innings are now being played, but with the longer evenings six and seven innings will constitute a game. Each nine plays twice a week.

machine, he had just received from the factory, to visit his dealers. His first stop was Pottsville. From there through the Hexter Valley and over Gordon mountain to Ashland. From this point he went up the mountain to Centralia. It occurred to him that, with the single exception of stopping and starting at his dealer's place of business, he had made the entire trip on high gear. It goes without saying that Mr. Wagner felt very proud, not of his own driving, but of the car.

The return trip was made by the way of the Gordon mountain pass. This was selected because the drive is one of the hardest to be found in Pennsylvania. The entire return trip was made on high gear. Mr. Wagner not making a stop until he reached Reading.

When interviewed all Mr. Wagner had to say was, "Yes it is true, but the car was an Apperson." The Apperson has always been noted for its wonderful hill-climbing features. Apperson owners themselves are responsible for the expression "Wizard of the Hill." And the car is known as well if not better, by this name than Apperson.
