Sending President's Message to German Troops

PRESIDENTS MESSAGE.

CINTERMATIONAL.

Hundreds of thousands of copies of President Wilson's message to Congress were scattered over the German lines in France. Many of these printed copies, translated into German, were distributed by aviators and many by small balloons that burst when over the German trenches and scattered the copies broadcast. This photograph shows one of these balloons being started on its journey of enlightenment.

IS DISCUSSED

An attempt by Mr. Campbell, Philadelphia, to send back to the Health and Sanitation Committee the Senate antidrug bill, was voted down, Mr. Campbell said that he desired to make some amendments to the bill but Mr. Whitaker, Chester, objected, saying that the bill had been in committee for weeks and had been given a hearing. The House voted heavily in favor of retaining the bill on the calendar.

The House recommitted the following bills:

Imposing a tax on receipts of theatrical companies from other states showing in Pennsylvania.

Regulating disposal of unclaimed dogs.

Extending provisions of child is provided for the examination, regulation and dissolution of incorporated, fraternal and beenficial associations and societies. Salus, Philadelphia, permitting executive, legislative and judicial officers to serve in the army or navy, and allowing them the difference between their military compensation and their salary in office.

Governor Brumbaugh sent to the Senate the nomination of D. J. McCarthy, Philadelphia, to be a member of the State Board of Public Charities until July 3, 1918, vice Samuel E. Gill, resigned.

Extending provisions of child la bor act to various schools.

The Walker bill granting State right of eminent domain to take road material, defeated last week, was reconsidered, on motion of Mr. Hess, Lancaster, and held over for amendment.

mendment.

Bills passed finally included:

Creating municipal liens in boroughs.

Regulating return of boroughs to township control when charter is surrenderd.

The rule regulating display of firearms in windows was defeated.

"PETE" HERMAN EASY WINNER Philadelphia, May 22. — "Pete" Herman, of New Orleans, showed superior form over Gussie Lewis, of this city, in five of the six rounds before the Olympic Athletic Glub last night. Barring a flare up by Lewis in the third round, the Louisiana delegate had all the best of the other fifteen minutes of the bout.

In the second round Herman rushed Lewis to the ropes, swung a left hook to the jaw and Gussie went flat on his back for the count of nine. He managed to get to his feet and spent the rest of the round hugging and running around the ring to escape Herman's vicious punches. Then to the surprise of the crowd Lewis came back in the third round with a rush. He forced Herman on the defensive and for the three minutes actually had the best of the hot exchanges. Gussie, however, could not stand prosperity and he fell back in the rut when the fourth round opened and time and again had to resort to Fabian tactics to keep out of the way of Herman's hefty punches.
