

Y. M. C. A. ERECTS FRAME HOUSES

200 to Be Built at Various Training Camps; Provide Entertainment

Plattsburg, N. Y., May 24.—Major General J. Franklin Bell, commander of the Department of the East, has officially opened at the Reserve Officers Training Camp here, the first of 200 big frame buildings which the Y. M. C. A. has in course of construction for the various military training camps throughout the country.

This building is a fac-simile of those under construction at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., Logan H. Root's camp, Ark., Leon Springs, Texas, Ft. McPherson, near Atlanta, Ga., and Ft. Oglethorpe, Chattanooga, Tenn. It is capable of accommodating 500 enlisted men simultaneously and in the neighborhood of 5,000 men every twenty-four hours.

Formally opening the building, General Bell said: "I am not here to talk shop. This is the Y. M. C. A. night. But I'll be here often during your training and will do a lot of talking. There are some military matters about which I shall speak to you, but I shall wait until you are all here, for I am determined that every one shall hear me.

"On the battle line it's character that wins—not ability or knowledge so much as character. You know what I mean. You have only one life to live and one life to give, and it does not matter when a soldier leaves this life, but it does matter how he leaves it. A soldier must think only of his duty and must do it in a way that all who survive him will be proud of the way he gave up his life.

"Gentlemen, you sang 'The Star Spangled Banner' to-night as I have heard it sung few times before. From you will be selected part of our first 10,000 officers and I want you to take it upon yourselves as a duty to see that every company of our army has its marching time, and that the men learn to sing it. You don't know how much further men can march when they sing. Any rousing air will do. 'A Hot Time in the Old Town To-night' has a swing to it that will put ginger and cold storage in the hearts of men. Go to it. Sing and fight."

Pays Tribute to Work

In inaugurating the association work at the Plattsburg camp, Major General John F. O'Ryan, of the New York National Guard, in paying tribute to the military services rendered by the Army Y. M. C. A., said: "Military morale is difficult to define, because so many factors enter into its make-up. It means more than zeal and enthusiasm. In a substantial manner it is dependent upon confidence, and confidence in turn can exist only where efficiency and dependability obtain. Dependability is very largely dependent upon moral character, and so we find that in war the standard of moral character of an army plays an important part in the attainment of success. In this field the Army Y. M. C. A. has contributed very materially in raising the standards and assisting the military authorities in their work in more than I think are generally appreciated. The Army Y. M. C. A. is already an important part of the army."

The first Plattsburg building, measuring about 40x120 feet, is splendidly lighted and ventilated and is representative of the association buildings in course of construction for each U. S. A. brigade, smaller buildings or tents being provided for smaller units. All these buildings are equipped with tables and seats for reading and writing, piano, phonograph, motion picture machine, checkers, chess, dominoes, billiards and other games. In addition, is a complete athletic equipment for each building, circulating libraries, current magazines and daily papers from the home town.

This service is requiring 1,100 secretaries and three million dollars, of which nearly two million dollars has already been paid in or pledged. It is hoped that the full amount will be subscribed by, or before June 1. It is to be noted that an army of one million men which these buildings will accommodate, will require an equipment of: 200 pianos and piano players, 268,000 feet of films a day, 600,000 sheets of writing paper daily, 10,000 pens a day and a barrel of ink, 95 automobiles and trucks, 1,100 experienced association secretaries, 200 moving picture machines, 200 graphophones and 10,000 records, 40,000 pounds of ice per day, A Bible to every man, Magazines by the hundred tons, Each building will be in charge of five men. There will be the general secretary, physical director, religious work secretary and two desk men, one of whom will be an experienced moving picture man, and the other to assist in social work.

It is expected that a hundred Y. M. C. A. buildings will be completed and fully equipped at the various army mobilization camps in short order, and the rest as rapidly as they are needed.

Freddy Welsh Does Not Want Referee For Monday

New York, May 25.—Freddy Welsh took a hand in the controversy over the referee for the Welsh-Leonard bout at the Manhattan A. C. today when he instructed his manager to come to a quick settlement with Billy Gibson and the club officials as to who shall be the third man in the ring on Monday night.

Freddy waxed exceedingly wroth at the idea that he needs a "protective" referee to help him retain his title.

"What do they think I am—the world's champion, and that means I ought to be better than any man in my class. If there's to be any advantage I should be able to let the other fellow have it and still beat him. Otherwise I'm not deserving of the title.

"I don't care WHO referees the bout between Leonard and me. I don't care if there's ANY referee. I can protect myself thank you. If it comes to a case where a count may be necessary let the timekeeper do the counting. He's the only one who can do it absolutely right, anyhow. A referee CAN'T count ten in ten seconds flat to save his life, no matter how hard he might try. Let the old stop-watch tick off the count."

URGENT PROHIBITION

Kane, May 25.—Nation-wide prohibition was urged in a resolution adopted today at the closing session of the congregational conference of Pennsylvania. The following officers were elected: Moderator, Dr. Charles E. Shelton, Pittsburgh; assistant moderator, J. R. Thomas, Scranton; registrar, the Rev. A. Northington, Greentield, Mount Carmel, and auditor, Thomas Adenbrook, Bradock.

TIPS FOR ANSWERING ALL QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED IN DRAFT QUIZ

Official Guide Published by Government Explains Details Men Must Give Under Universal Service; Sole Support Is Only Excuse to Evade Duty

Washington, May 25.—The Provost Marshal General and his staff, who prepared the questions which will be asked candidates for the national army when they are enrolled June 5, also have prepared an official guide as to how the questions should be answered. Of twelve questions, it is expected that the most knotty problems will arise in connection with the last, which reads: "Are you claiming exemption from draft (specify grounds)?"

The official guide explains the questions as follows:

"Because you claim exemption from draft, if by no means follows that you are exempt. For the information of the War Department, you should state briefly and to the point the reasons why you intend to prosecute it. Some persons will be exempted on account of their occupations or offices; some on account of their age; some on account of their physical condition; some on account of their religious beliefs; some on account of their family situation; some on account of their educational attainments; some on account of their social position; some on account of their political opinions; some on account of their moral character; some on account of their financial condition; some on account of their personal habits; some on account of their general conduct; some on account of their special services; some on account of their special talents; some on account of their special achievements; some on account of their special contributions; some on account of their special services to the community; some on account of their special services to the nation; some on account of their special services to the world."

The guide continues:

"Consider your answer thoughtfully. If it is true that there is another man in your own family who alone have a duty to feed, do not let your military ardor interfere with the wish of the nation to reduce war misery to a minimum. On the other hand, unless the person you have in mind is solely dependent on you, do not hide behind petticoats or children."

Naturalization Explained

The fourth question in regard to naturalization reads:

"Are you (1) a natural-born citizen, (2) a naturalized citizen, (3) an alien or (4) have you declared your intention? (Specify which)?"

This question is explained as follows in the guide:

"(1) If you were born in the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, you are a citizen of the United States, no matter what may have been the citizenship or nationality of your parents. If you were born in Porto Rico you are a citizen of the United States unless you were born abroad you are still a citizen of the United States at the time you were born, unless you have expatriated yourself.

"(2) You are a naturalized citizen if you have completed your naturalization; that is, if you have taken 'final papers.' But you are not a naturalized citizen unless you have declared your intention to become a citizen (that is, if you have only taken out first papers). In the latter case you are only a 'declarant.' You are also a naturalized citizen if, although foreign born, your father or surviving parent became fully naturalized while you were under 21 years of age, and if you came to the United States under 21.

"(3) You are a declarant if, although a citizen or subject of some foreign country, you have declared your intention to become a citizen of the United States. Receipt from the clerk of the court of the certified copy of such declaration is often called 'taking out first papers.' You are not a declarant if your first papers were taken out after September 26, 1906, and is more than seven years old.

"(4) You are an alien if you do not fall within one of the three classes above mentioned."

Enemies Must Register

Alien enemies will be required to register, but will not be drafted. A companion question is No. 6, "If not a citizen, of what country are you a citizen or subject?" The answer to this question must be answered only by aliens and declarants. Remember that a "declarant" is not yet a citizen of the United States. If an alien or a declarant, state the name of your country, as "France," "Japan," "China," etc.

Another question in which possible confusion is cleared up in the guide is No. 10, which is made up of the following questions:

"Married or single (which?) and race (specify which)?"

This does not ask whether you were once married, but whether you are married now, explains the guide. In answer to the question as to your race, state briefly whether you are "Caucasian," "Mongolian," "Negro," "Malay" or "Indian."

Citizens living in foreign countries must register, but will not be drafted. Consular office. Citizens who are absent from home on registration day must register by mail or blanks procured from the county clerk or, in a city above 30,000 in population, from the city clerk.

ed by the Governor to mobilize the food resources of the State easily broke the combination and restored prices to the old level by a little well-directed effort. He commended with several producers of seed and obtained options on eight carloads.

Then he called a meeting of the seed dealers and asked them the reason for the advance in prices. Upon being assured that it was because of the difficulty in obtaining carloads and the prices of the same with which he was ready, it need be, to supply the gardeners of the city. Of course there was then an immediate readjustment of prices to the consumers.

Home gardening and extra farming should be wholly for the common benefit. Those who are unpatriotic enough to go counter to the President's appeal and sordidly seek selfish profit where they should instead give service can readily be checked.

If prices of seeds are on any pre-extended advanced gardeners and farmers should follow the example cited and should also communicate with the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.
