

SIMS TO BE MADE VICE-ADMIRAL

Pershing Also in Line For Promotion Because of Foreign Service

Washington, May 25.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today that Rear Admiral William Sims, now in charge of American naval operations in European waters, is to be appointed vice admiral by the President.

Shortly before the entry of the United States into the war, Rear Admiral Sims was sent abroad by Secretary Daniels as special representative and observer. After the outbreak of the war Admiral Sims held conferences with the British and French naval officials as to the best methods of co-operation of the navies of the nations at war with Germany. When it was determined to send American naval vessels to foreign waters Admiral Sims was placed in charge of the operations.

It was reported from an authoritative source to-day that before Major General John J. Pershing goes to France, or very soon afterward, he will be made a lieutenant general.

LABOR REJECTS PEACE PARLEY

Gompers Points Out Futility of Conference at Stockholm

Washington, May 25.—Another effort to get Americans to participate in peace parleys at Stockholm has failed when Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declined an invitation to send delegates to a Stockholm trade union congress to discuss the claims of labor in connection with peace negotiations. The congress will meet simultaneously with the Socialist peace conference, on which the State Department has put its stamp of disapproval by refusing passports to Americans expecting to participate and by warning citizens that such participation would be in violation of the law.

The Federation of Labor's invitation came in a cablegram from President Oudegeest of the Dutch Federation of Labor Unions. Mr. Gompers called this reply:

"Long before the United States entered the war the American Federation of Labor proposed an international conference after the war and at the time and place where the representatives of each government were to meet to determine the treaties and international relations. That proposal was rejected. Now after the United States is in the war, you propose a conference to be held at Stockholm at the same time and place when the so-called international Socialist conference is to be held at Stockholm, and this proposition too without consultation with trade union centers of United States and other countries.

"There is no time by which American organized labor could select delegates to attend the Stockholm conference June 7, and I cannot see how any good could come from our participation in such a congress at this time."

GUARD OFFICERS TO BE EXAMINED

General Stewart Says Guardsmen Must Register If Not in Service

Adjutant General Stewart to-day announced that all officers of the National Guard commissioned since June 3, 1916, will be examined under section 75 of the National Defense Act. The examinations will include physical, mental, professional and practical tests. "The dates for these examinations will be fixed later on," said General Stewart to-day. "The subjects for the professional examination will be under paragraph 30 of circular 13 of the Militia Bureau for 318 and I am preparing a list of officers commissioned since June 3 for certification to the War Department. I am informed that the examining board will consist of one officer from the regular army and two from the National Guard."

General Stewart called attention to-day to the fact that all members of units of the National Guard not in Federal service must register on June 5 under the conscription act. The First, Third, Thirtieth and Eighteenth regiments of infantry and Battery E, Third Field Artillery, are the only organizations of the National Guard in Federal service.

Colonel Richard Coulter, Jr., of Greensburg, commander of the Tenth Infantry, was to-day reappointed colonel of that regiment for the third time. He was first commissioned in 1907.

Dr. William Robert Jones, New Castle, was appointed a first lieutenant in the dental corps of the National Guard.

Col. Frank G. Sweeney, inspector general of the National Guard, designated by Adjutant General Stewart to represent him in the registration under the conscription act, and Major Howard S. Williams, appointed disbursing officer by the War Department, will be stationed here after to-day to co-operate with Colonel Lewis E. Beitler, of the State Defense Commission, in arranging for the registration. Governor Brumbaugh has received telegrams from sheriffs and mayors informing him of organization of registration boards in counties and cities and of many of them without compensation. The registration will be directed from offices outside of the Capitol but under authority of the Governor. Aid of State Police and National Guardsmen may be asked by State Commissioner of Health Dixon to enforce regulations for the rounding up and quarantining of persons in districts where smallpox has been discovered. Commissioner Dixon to-day received word of suspicious cases among laborers brought into the State and directed medical officers to make investigations.

The State College and University Council has approved the application of Marywood College, Scranton, formerly Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, to grant academic degrees and has named Chancellor S. B. McCormick, University of Pittsburgh; President W. H. Crawford, Allegheny College, and Superintendent Samuel Hamilton, Allegheny county, to visit St. Joseph's College, Greensburg, which has filed a similar application.

The Public Service Commission has arranged for hearings at Hellsburg next week on complaints that Blair county turnpikes are not being properly maintained and at Uniontown to take up jitney and similar applications in Fayette county.

Word was received at the Executive Department to-day that twenty counties of the State have completed their registration organizations and are ready to proceed. The national government will send 567,000 additional registration blanks, making a total for Pennsylvania of 1,600,000.

CARRIERS TO HONOR DEAD

Post Office Employees Will Hold Memorial Services and Decorate Graves

The annual Memorial Day services of Harrisburg Branch, No. 500, of the National Association of Letter Carriers, will be held at the Harrisburg Cemetery, Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock.

The local letter carriers have for some years been observing a custom originated by the National Association of Letter Carriers, to hold memorial services and to decorate the graves of deceased members of their branch, on the Sunday preceding Decoration Day.

An appropriate program has been arranged for the occasion, which will be carried out by the members of the branch, assisted by the other post office employees and their friends who are invited to attend. At the conclusion of the exercises, the graves will be decorated with flowers, the emblem of the association and with flags. A committee will visit other cemeteries to decorate graves there.

Admiral Sims is a son of the late Colonel A. W. Sims, who was superintendent of the Rockhill Coal and Iron Company and the East Broad Top Railroad Company until his death in 1895. In 1876 young Sims was appointed to Annapolis from the Huntingdon congressional district by Congressman Stenger. His mother died about two years ago, and both his father and mother are buried in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia. He has two brothers, Harry N., a civil engineer located in the west, and Alfred T., also a civil engineer graduate from the University of Pennsylvania, now located in New York. He has three sisters, two of whom are graduate nurses—Louise and Mary Sims. Miss Mary Sims was recently secretary of the State Nurses' Association of Pennsylvania. They live at Haverford, as well as another sister, Adelaide, wife of James C. Newlin, a railroad contractor and builder.

Clean-up Forces Are Stalled in West End

Because of the big accumulation of ashes in the west end of the city and the fewer number of men at work this week, according to city health department officials, the annual spring cleanup will not be completed before next Tuesday afternoon.

Two of the four gangs at work are in the district north of Hamilton, one north of Cumberland, and the fourth between North and Cumberland streets. At noon to-day the force employed to collect garbage was added to the gangs on the ash and waste cleanup, increasing this force. Without this help, according to Dr. Raunick, the cleanup could not be completed until the latter part of next week.

ANNOUNCING A GREAT SUCCESS

212 THE OVERLAND HARRISBURG CO. 214

TO-DAY WE CELEBRATE OUR SECOND ANNIVERSARY

On May 25th, 1915, we came to Harrisburg — and in the days that have passed we have built a business in which we take much pride. We feel that, in point of efficiency and service, it ranks with any similar organization—even unto the cities with many times the population of Harrisburg.

But we didn't do it alone, no—that would have been impossible. It was, accomplished thru the confidence and loyalty of the thousands of Overland enthusiasts that have made our dream an accomplished fact.

We want to tell you about it, Overland Owners—because you have helped us build wonderfully and substantially.

You have helped us grow from a modest beginning to a Million Dollar Business. Think of it!

You have helped us develop and we say it modestly, one of the greatest, if not the greatest, automobile sales and service organizations in Pennsylvania outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

You have helped us make the name Overland a household word, and one synonymous with health and happiness.

You have, by your purchase and daily use of Overlands—demonstrated your confidence in the car—and the organization back of it.

This confidence has been the bulwark of our very effort — and has finally culminated in a finished organization that is thoroughly capable, down to the minutest detail of giving service to the fullest satisfaction of every owner.

Forewords of Success
Service and Satisfaction — have been the forewords of our every thought and deed. Of every plan that has been born to make Overland Sales and Service pre-eminently successful.

That we have succeeded—we have only to point to the myriads of Overlands—count them on the streets of Harrisburg — and they will substantiate our claim.

Our development has not been of the mushroom variety—but step by step, a steady, onward, upward, substantial growth, in which every detail has been watched and carefully worked out so that the big wheels in this mighty business would run—along smoothly and accurately—thus assuring the greatest efficiency in service and satisfaction to the ever increasing army of Overland owners.

It is with no little pride that we dedicate this vast organization to Overland enthusiasts — and also to our many faithful employes.

New Cycle of Development

So, to-day—on our second anniversary—we will start on another cycle of our development by the opening of our new and enlarged show rooms, complete with every appointment to enable the prospective buyer to view and minutely inspect each and every one of the many different models that comprise the Overland line.

Plenty of room, show rooms flooded with light—and courteous salesmen to point out and explain every feature that has helped make Overland the popular choice in moderate-priced cars.

We've also added another feature an innovation, unique in the annals of motorcar history in Harrisburg—our new Used Car Department.

Here we will have on display a number of reliable thoroughly rebuilt cars that have been taken in trade for new Overlands, and which will be offered at prices that will compel quick buying. But more about this department later.

A Realization—Will Be a Revelation

We have felt, in fact know, that there are but very few people who really have the slightest conception of the vastness of the Overland-Harrisburg Co.'s organization; of our facilities for caring for Overland cars after purchase; of our constant efforts to increase and better our service facilities in anticipation of our customers' needs.

Our central or main offices—212-214 North Second Street—are ever on the alert to answer your call. There's a phone handy everywhere. A call instantly puts into speedy action whatever department your needs may demand.

We could go on—but we'll tell, in a series of feature talks every few days, the step by step development that has wrought this big, intensified sales and service organization.

Our desire—throughout this entire campaign — is to get better acquainted with you—Mr. and Mrs. Overland Owner and Prospective Buyer. Every talk will explain some feature of our organization that will give you an insight into how thoroughly and carefully we have planned for your benefit.

Get our Service and Satisfaction policy clear to yourself—and you'll always be an Overland Booster.

All the world loves a winner.
