

BOTH HOUSES TO TAKE A RECESS

Proposition to Adjourn Until June 6 Passed in Lower Branch After Fight

When the Pennsylvania Legislature adjourns to-day it will be to meet at 1:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, June 6.

The resolution for the recess originated in the Senate after Mr. Glass, Philadelphia, had presented a resolution in the House to declare Registration day a legal holiday.

Mr. Milliron, Armstrong, contended that the date should be made Monday, June 11.

Mr. Wallace, Delaware, declared the Legislature should stay here and "get down to business."

Mr. Ramsey, Delaware, opposed the Milliron motion and said he felt sure of quorums after Wednesday of next week.

Mr. Powell, Lackawanna, and Mr. Cook, York, supported Mr. Wallace.

Mr. Palmer, Schuylkill, said he was going to register on June 5 in person and not by mail from Harrisburg.

Mr. Wallace renewed his plea for staying at work, saying it would be a patriotic duty.

Mr. Milliron's motion was lost, receiving only a few votes.

It Works! Try It - Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost very little but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

Greek Diplomat Resigns Place to Join Forces Arrayed Against Kaiser

Washington, May 29.—S. N. Constantini, first secretary of the Greek legation here to-day presented his papers of resignation to the State Department and announced his allegiance to the forces of Venizelos.

His action, because of his long connection with the Greek foreign office, gave the diplomatic corps a shock.

Mr. Constantini declared he had been discontented with being connected with King Constantine's government ever since the United States declared war.

"As I see it," he said, "it is the duty of every humane and honest man to arraign himself on the side of America and the entente. The whole terrible situation has narrowed down to a simple question of humanity and civilization against German barbarity and hostility of a type almost beyond human belief."

When a nation of people calling themselves civilized human beings build up hospital ships, murder women and children and use their dead for manure, it is time for all decent men to turn their faces away.

Brazil's Decision to Break With Germany Little Short of War

Washington, May 29.—Brazil's decision to revoke her decree of neutrality is construed here as little less than a declaration of a state of war with Germany. Brazil's action is believed to indicate a general break-down of German propaganda all over the southern continent.

Unofficially it is believed that Chile would endorse and perhaps join Brazil in the stand against Germany now taken as added evidence of the growth of a friendlier spirit and corresponding decline of German influence.

War Bond Printing Keeps Government Plant Busy

Washington, May 29.—The Liberty Loan and other war finance measures compel the Bureau of Engraving and Printing these days to work 24 hours a day and employ 1,200 extra workmen and clerks to produce the 2,700,000 impressions which now are turned out daily.

Director Ralph estimated to-day that the bureau this year will make 25,000,000 notes and certificates of various kinds, compared with five billion last year.

TWO ARMY DESERTERS GIVE SELVES UP HERE

Two deserters from the United States army at San Antonio, Texas, gave themselves up at the local recruiting station yesterday afternoon. They were taken to the Dauphin county jail to await disposition by the United States authorities. They said they had grown tired of the army discipline and when loaded dice brought them $160, the temptation to escape was too great to resist.

After reaching Baltimore they worked their way to this city. Both admitted they knew the hopelessness of trying to escape once the wheels of the draft started working so decided to surrender.

Unnaturalized Germans Out of Work to Seek Places on the Farms

New York, May 29.—Unnaturalized Germans, hundreds of whom have been discharged by public service corporations and other private concerns, were advised to-day by Thomas D. McCarthy, United States marshal, to "get out on farms somewhere" if they are physically fit.

This advice was Marshal McCarthy's reply to many appeals from Germans yesterday when the government's restrictions on all waterfronts, as well as forts and arsenals, were drawn tighter as a result of apparent activities of Teutonic plotters.

The ban is expected to be carried so far as to prohibit absolutely the use by Germans of even private craft on any of the waterways about the port.

Senator Sproul Is Widely Known in City

Senator Sproul, of Chester, who will be the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Harrisburg Club to-night by Senator E. H. Vore and others is as well known in Harrisburg as the average citizen.

His long service on Capitol Hill, his connection with important business interests in this section of the State and his personal popularity have given him an acquaintance that extends far and wide. Many of his friends here attach great importance to the dinner to-night. They believe it means future harmony in the Republican party with the likelihood of Senator Sproul as the standard bearer in the gubernatorial campaign next year. In any case it is believed to be a friendly party, relations and less bickering than has been the case for many months.

Binderman, the police were informed, existed away from the property and raised an iron bar in an attempt to strike Taylor.

LITTLE, SHORT LEGGED BOYS FORCED TO "DOUBLE TIME" TO KEEP UP WITH LEADERS

(Special Correspondence Hbg. Tel.) Madison Barracks, N. Y., May 28.—The completion of the first two weeks' camp life finds the fifteen companies of candidates reorganized into uniform squads and platoons for the purpose of facilitating formations and drills.

The tall men are now permanently located at the head of the company and the little fellows with the short legs may be found any day double timing to keep up with the column. "Chow" has taken the place of food in camp parlance and an entirely new vocabulary is being developed among the shivering "dough boys" as the infantrymen are called.

The nights continue unseasonably cold and the ice cold showers in the exposed shower room offer a cheerless invitation to the devotee of cleanliness. The camp commander insists on two baths a week per man, however, and the nine companies housed in the wooden shacks are "the goats."

Rapidly Advancing - In spite of the drawback of the weather, rapid advancement is noted and the first month will find the instructors in a position to judge intelligently of the probable percentage of candidates who will make good as officers for "the first 10,000" at the end of the three months of intensive training. It is understood that from 25 to 30 per cent of the men in camp will be chosen as fitted to fill the positions of captain, first and second lieutenants in command of the provisional army. The remainder will be in all likelihood recommended for a second camp or will be placed on the reserve list subject to a call to active duty at any time.

The prevalent feeling in camp is that serious and concentrated effort is the duty of each man and although many are taking advantage of the week-ends to visit Watertown, the home of Secretary of State Lansing, and other adjacent towns, the relief from day and night drill and study has its effect in renewed vigor at the beginning of the week. There is already talk of going to France, but, inasmuch as it is still pretty early in the game, the talk doesn't go very far.

Advanced Work Soon - Signaling, company, close and extended order, interior guard duty, bayonet exercises, physical drill, manual of arms, practice marching, arm and sighting exercises, have kept the regiment busy during the past week. Advanced company and battalion work will be taken up shortly. The mess is good and the spirit of the camp excellent.

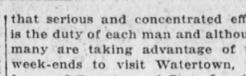

Many Must Register - The matter of recreation for the men has been solved by the week-end trips to Watertown every few weeks and the Y. M. C. A. building that is being erected at the reservation under the auspices of the Watertown Y. M. C. A. Letter writing, magazines and newspapers, moving pictures on Saturday evening and other forms of entertainment will be features.

Every man in camp who is not a reserve officer will be required to register under the conscription act prior to June 5. Arrangements have been made through the courtesy of the Watertown post office so that the candidates here may register by mail on blank forms that will be provided.

The Maxwell Is Mechanically Right We Waited Four Years To Say That

The makers of the Maxwell spent four years in developing the car. Patient, persistent, scientific refinement of one model—that was the method. An automobile that beats the world for endurance, efficiency, economy—that's the result.

You know the old story about the race between the hare and the tortoise: -how the hare skipped about the fields—nibbled clover tops—cut all kinds of capers, trying to "show off"; -how the tortoise stuck to his job—stayed in the middle of the road—kept on going—and won the race; -you know that story and its moral.

Some automobile makers have run around after novelties—like the hare, trying to add untried "improvements" which operate better in advertising than on the car. But the Maxwell makers held fast to one model, -and when some one made a big how-do-do about his latest novelty, the Maxwell makers strengthened a pin, -or simplified or improved a part of the Maxwell mechanism. So that, in the end, the Maxwell won by the tortoise method.

The Maxwell World Endurance Champion - A Maxwell stock car—a duplicate in every detail of your Maxwell—without stopping the motor, traveled 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights, -and at a rate of 25 miles an hour and 22 miles per gallon of gasoline. No other vehicle built by human beings ever did anything to compare with that feat.

The Economy Champion Too - P. D. Armour used to say that his packing houses "utilized all the hog but the squeal." That's the kind of economy you get in a Maxwell. Roadster, $650; Touring Car, $665; Cabriolet, $665; Town Car, $915; Sedan, $985; completely equipped, including electric starter and lights. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.
