FAREWELL PARTY TO MISS FLEITZ

Miss Marjorie Lutz Is Hostess to Popular Wellsboro Girl Visiting Here

A delightful farewell party was that given last evening by a number of friends, for Miss Hilda Fleitz. who will leave Thursday for her home in Wellsboro.

The party was held at the home of Miss Marjorie Lutz, 328 South Fourteenth street. Music, games and a general good time were en-joyed and Miss Fleitz was presented with a solid mahogany sewing table as a parting gift from the guests.

A daintily appointed supper in pink effects with an arrangement of pink roses and snapdragon followed. American flags in profusion made an effective decorative scheme for the house.

The guests included: Miss Ethel K. Baldwin, Mrs. Luther Hocker, of Westville, N. J.; Miss Blanche Fleisher, Miss Nelle Shrum, Miss Violet Cole, Mrs. John Losey, Mrs. Wayne Heckert, Miss Minnie Lutz and Miss May Lutz.

Miss Fleitz, who has been connected with the law offices of her uncle, Fred Fleitz, until his recent death, has made a host of friends in this city during her brief stay of two years.

It's Economy to Buy Diamonds Now

The world's supply of diamonds is controlled by a monopoly the declared policy of which is to increase prices continually. The supply grows scarcer and demand larger. Import duties are levied by the government, and it is likely an increase of 10 per cent. will be made in the new tariffs. Diamonds will never be cheaper. Diener's sale offers you an unusual opportunity to buy diamonds advantageously, choosing from a remark-Brooches, Pendants, Scarfpins, and other jewelry, priced from $50 to $550.

YOUNG COUPLE Miss Eshenower and Miss Lawton Heard in Recital WED IN CHURCH

A good attendance and keen appreciation were indications of a wide spread interest in the song recital given last evening at the Phillips studio, 121 State street, by Miss Flora Eshenower and Miss Martha T. Lawton. The program which was given entirely from memory evinced excellent talent and careful study. Mrs. Phillips accompanied both vocalists in their numerous and difficult renditions of the various classics.
