CAMP HILL CIVIC CLUB'S CARNIVAL

Thanks Due to Helpers and Friends Who Made Event Such a Delight

Mrs. James Milhouse, president of the Camp Hill Civic Club, has called a meeting of the Board of Directors for to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. Z. Zook, for a final settlement of the carnival affairs.

The club regrets that so few of their Harrisburg friends were able to attend the community carnival held last Saturday, in Zacharias Park, which proved such a wonderful success. Through the courtesy of President Bishop, of the Valley Railway Company, the park was brilliantly lighted and business went on briskly until 9:30 o'clock. The club also owes Mr. Bishop thanks for car advertising, to Koons Brothers, for the use of their auto trucks, to the honorary members of the club who labored faithfully afterward to clear the park and burn the debris, and to the fire company, which generously loaned tables and chairs.

The most attractive feature of the carnival was undoubtedly the charming Maypole dancing, directed by Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Sharr. The crowd of admiring spectators watching the graceful children never realized that back of all the wonderful dancing lay the work of directing and thinking out scenes cheerfully given by the Sharrs. When the booths closed it was found that the most money was turned in by the advertising booth in charge of Dr. and Mrs. Slegmund. Mrs. Slegmund is one of Camp Hill's most interested club-women and always succeeds in cleverly putting through her plans; this time they went far beyond expectation.

While the club feels it quite impossible to express their gratitude to all who so kindly aided them in the great undertaking of Saturday, special thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Harvard Zacharias for the use of their park and kitchen and to Mrs. Carl K. Deen, of the Emergency Aid Committee, who ostentiously sold the buttons of the order, but whose courtesy and help were evident on every side.

Mehring-Bright Wedding Memorial Day Morning

The marriage of Miss Katharine Elizabeth Bright, of 37 North Cameron street, to Harry E. Mehring, son of Mrs. Mary L. Mehring, 201 Harris street, was a quiet event of Wednesday morning, May 30, at 9 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Reinhold Schmidt, pastor of St. Michael's German Lutheran Church, at the parsonage in North street.

The bride wore a gray traveling costume with hat to harmonize and a corsage bouquet of violets and lilies of the valley. There were no attendants.

Following the service a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bright, and later the young couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and New York. They will be "at home" to their friends after June 15 at Linesville, Pa., where Mr. Mehring, a graduate of Central high school, class of 1910, is located in business.

CAMP FIRE PLAY GREAT SUCCESS

Susquehannock Girls Show Special Features of Their Helpful Organization

MISS MARTHA SHARTZLER MISS BERTHA G. ADAMS

Miss Martha Shartzler, a gifted reader and singer, scored a big success in the title role of the Susquehannock Camp Fire play, as "Any Girl." Miss Bertha G. Adams, a talented elocutionist, as a City Camp Fire Girl, won unusual merit for her fine work.

The play was given in the Shilmell school building, under the supervision of Mrs. Roscoe G. Bowman, the guardian of Camps 1 and 2, before a large and interested audience. The plot suggested in a broad way the work, life and interest of a Camp Fire girl, and their great delight in nature. The parts were well taken, and the girls received much applause and comment for their excellent work. Judging from the attitude of those who saw it, the play has accomplished its intended aim—that of promoting greater interest, evincing the noble ideas, healthy life and practical work of the Camp Fire girl. The proceeds of the play will be used in furthering their work.

Prior to the song "America," which closed the entertainment, the Rev. Alfred L. Taxis presented Mrs. Bowman with a large bouquet of flowers as a gift of appreciation from the girls.

Those participating in the play included: Miss Jane Wallace, Miss Sara Colsher, Miss Julia Shartzler, Miss Dorothy Weidman, Miss Virginia Storey, Miss Edith Holbert, Miss Frances Todd, Miss Georgiana Fathemore, Miss Bertha G. Adams, Miss Helen Gable, Miss Effie Blough, Miss Mildred Smiley, Miss Mary Unger and Miss Marion Shiley.

Miss Elizabeth Schwartz, who has been assisting with the kindergarten this winter, will play several piano solos. Miss Dorothy Hill will sing "The Little Home" and sing solo and a social hour will close the evening.

At the annual Mayday exercises of the kindergarten, which were enjoyed songs and games and filled pretty May baskets they had made themselves with wild flowers for their mothers, Miss Hill and Miss Schwartz are the teachers.

The party was arranged by Miss Bright and Miss Ulrich.

Laurence Shepley, of DuBois; Mrs. George McCurdy, Miss Faye Renn, Miss Kathryn Carl, Mrs. William Flocks, Miss Anna Bauder, Miss Ruth Pasnacht, Miss Opal McCann, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Miss Ulrich, Miss Bright, Miss Carl and Mrs. T. May Die in Hospital, But He's No Slacker

Chicago, May 31.—"Well, I tried, anyway. They can't call a slacker now, mother, can they?" Watchers at the bedside of Perry A. Ball, 18-year-old Chicago boy, have learned these words by heart, for in his delirium he has repeated them over and over.

Ball, who graduated from high school last February, tried to enlist three weeks ago, but was refused when he stated his age. He returned later with his mother's permission to enlist and was then refused for a minor physical disability. He underwent an operation for this trouble, and after eleven days in a hospital he was accepted by the Illinois Field Artillery. While waiting the call for active service he went back to work, and Friday suffered a relapse from his recent operation and consequent illness, and now is in a serious condition.

A happy gathering of young folks from Tabernacle Baptist Church left the city early today morning in a large truck, decorated attractively with the national colors, to picnic in a grove four miles south of Hershey. The picnic of the day held something. After dinner there was a baseball game, the two sides being equally divided among the young folks. On the aggregation was called the "Preacher's team," due to its being managed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. M. O. Baird. The other was styled as the "Laymen's team," having a layman for its leader. The final score was ten to six, in favor of the pastor's team. Following the supper in the grove the party motored home.

NEW HOME IN AN OLD HOUSE

Not every bride is fortunate enough to be able to move into a new home or one that is built to suit her taste, but every bride can be perfectly satisfied with her home, new or old, if she enlists the services of the Blake Shop, 225 North Second street, for they can help her in planning her rooms, and will furnish and repair a woodwork and repair the house so that it really looks just like new. They offer a most interesting assortment of rug, carpets, curtains and upholstery fabrics with which it is possible to make a charming and beautiful home at moderate expense, even the shabbiest of old houses.

THE GROUP PICTURE

The photograph of a wedding party is always more or less difficult to take, for, besides the necessity for well-balanced grouping, it is necessary to get an easy and natural expression on each face, and it requires a skilled photographer to photograph a group so that every single person looks his or her best. The Roshon Photo Studio, 225 North Second street, is particularly noted for the excellent group photographs which they take either in the studio or at the home, church, or hall, and their charges for work

WOMEN SHOULD CREATE CHEER

There is joy in making a Home Attractive and Caring For Others

There are hundreds of women in every city and town who ought to cultivate their natural instincts in some particular way—in some way that will inspire them to do greater things for themselves and make home life more enjoyable, to create within the home that spirit of genial cheerfulness; they should know the joy of caring for their health, the scientific practice of economy in all they do, wear and eat.

The management of this paper offers just such an opportunity to its subscribers, believing that no woman with the love of self and home and the present great necessity of economy will permit the offer to pass unheeded.

In another section of this paper will be found our advertisement, which should be read by every subscriber. It tells the part we are playing in trying to help the great cause of economy and health, as well as establish proper deportment and manners in social and business life, by offering six practical home study courses in the following subjects: Physical and Beauty Culture, Millinery, Sewing and Plain Dressmaking, Cookery, Home Management and Etiquette.

These are not merely courses; they teach practical everyday essentials that are an absolute necessity to home and personal life. They teach the thrills of practical economy, the joy of correct living, creating delightful interiors of the home with simple means, yet effective and attractive. They teach grace and good judgment. Any one of these courses offers an opportunity by correspondence to obtain a personal life. They teach the way to better and greater economy in everyday living, to teach the scientific method of doing things with less work and effort and giving the housewife more time to herself. The day of greatest economy has come. Every woman needs to practice the cultivation of home and personal expense, and there is no better way to do this than by learning how to do your own sewing and plain dress-making and millinery and save at least one-third of the present cost you are obliged to pay; the scientific method of cooking and how to know food values, the economical way to prepare foods, the method of utilizing every possible thing with the least possible waste in making appealing dishes; how to save and plan a room depends upon good judgment and economy rather than lavish expenditures to make it delectably cheerful and pleasing beyond expression; the importance of knowing the many little courtesies in social and business life and the proper conduct of oneself on every occasion, whether in business or in the home; the proper care of the health, the scientific method of developing the body, obtaining a graceful figure and a beautiful complexion and hundreds of other practical everyday essentials.

Each course in this offer is essential. Every unimportant subject has been omitted, leaving only those which will give the most practical instruction and benefit. The courses were prepared by world renowned experts, who have had years of practical experience in teaching students the most practical of their kind that have ever been prepared.

MAY BE DRAFT-DODGERS

Laredo, Texas, May 31.—Federal officials here to-day disclosed the fact that from fifteen to twenty young Americans with little baggage and carrying plenty of money and apparently of good families, are crossing into Mexico daily.

They go south, ostensibly to mine, prospect for oil, or pursue other occupations for which apparently they are not trained, and it is believed by officials that they are leaving the United States to avoid conscription. Most of the young men are from eastern states, some being from points as far east as Maine and New Hampshire.

A full description is taken of each American leaving the country for future identification.
