

BARNES WINS HIS GAME FROM WILKES-BARRE BY GOOD WORK--ISLANDERS HIT BALL

Pitches Clever Game; Islanders Show "Pep"; Wilkes-Barre Takes Tumble

Barnes pitched clever ball yesterday in spite of the fact that he was badly directed at times. The Islanders played with thrills back of him and hit the ball, troubling two pitchers. Wilkes-Barre lost, score, 4 to 2.

The game was full of interest. Both teams showed "pep" and Manager "Red" Calhoun and his fast boys worked like Trojans to prevent defeat. Harrisburg's work was attractive all through the game and indifference on the part of one player having little effect. With the team was an enthusiastic crowd, not due to paying conditions, but the kind of baseball and will mean better things later on.

Barnes Gave Two Wilkes-Barre started with two runs. They came through wildness, Barnes hitting one man, walking another and Weiser tapping the pill for three bases.

Reichle was Harrisburg's star pitcher and player and with his taps brought in the runs and the kind of Harrison's two-bagger and Reichle's hit brought the first run. Elliott's two-bagger, Harrison's sacrifice and Reichle's double brought the next.

Welly's Corner "Kid" McPartland, referee of the Leonard-Fleish fight, is preparing a pamphlet for the public, backing up his action in stopping the battle in the ninth and giving Leonard the decision. He feared that Welsh would be killed if the fight continued and will tell some interesting facts.

Carl Morris and Frank Moran will battle ten rounds Monday night at the Harlem Sporting Club. McPartland will referee and expects a busy night as Morris is said to be a rough guy when he fights.

Jack Curley is looking after the funeral arrangements of Les Darcy who will be buried on Monday. He has requested floral offerings from New York and other cities. The burial will take place in San Francisco.

Benny Leonard will box six rounds with Joe Welsh in Philadelphia Monday night. This match was arranged prior to the big battle in which Leonard won his title. The champion says he will be on hand.

Further evidence that Harrisburg has a winning team with a good leader was shown yesterday when "Doc" Cook resumed his position at second base. He returned from Chicago unexpectedly and broke right into the game. Players on the Harrisburg team who are doing the best they know how deserve all the praise possible. Conditions are not encouraging, it is true, but time will bring an adjustment. Money is the thing most needed now.

Efforts to bring about discussions among Harrisburg players have to date been unsuccessful. Players who have a grievance should go to the manager in a businesslike manner, and not tell it to the world. Manager George Heckler is doing his best to adjust his business affairs and get the team moving smoothly, and it was a cowardly trick to wait until he left the city and start trouble.

Catcher Charlie Miller is responsible for a statement that in a certain poolroom the other day someone remarked that the Harrisburg newspapers did not advertise the games. Miller knew better. If nothing else, every paper prints the standing and schedule of games from day to day. Further than that, there is not a newspaper on the Farris circuit that gives the schedule of Harrisburg. If you want to know anything further along this line ask Manager John C. Calhoun, of Wilkes-Barre.

First Inning Record Comes in State League Game

Binghamton, N. Y., June 2.—Nineteen runs were scored yesterday in one inning, the first in a New York State League game between Binghamton and Utica. The game was called at the beginning of the fourth inning, because of darkness.

Pitcher Aucker's wildness and errors, coupled with three hits, gave Utica ten runs in the first half of the first inning.

In Binghamton's half, Pitchers Karpf, Gill and Ferguson tried to hold Binghamton, but the locals scored nine runs. Brower, Utica's first baseman, was pitching when the game was called.

It required fifty-five minutes to play the inning, with the baseball crowd in a frenzy. Seven pitchers worked in the three innings that were played.

The Sportlight by Grantland Rice

Copyright, 1917, The Tribune Association (New York Tribune). Frederickton, Canada, June 2.—Who would have predicted that no one set of men have contributed more to the cause than the sportsmen of Canada. You hear a lot about the stars of England, who have fought and died, and of the stars from the States who have started. But neither country has given a greater proportion than Canada has to the cause of crushing the Hun.

No one sport in Canada has given a greater number to the firing line than football. Practically every football player of note has gone overseas and many of the best have already been killed or badly wounded. The list of the dead includes Russell Britton, of Kingston, the star quarterback of the Argonauts and one of the best Canadian sports has ever known. Gordon Southam, of Hamilton, one of the Canadian all-stars, is another who has been killed in action. At the rate established so far there will be very few football stars left when the war ends and sport comes back to its own.

Canadian football, contrary to general opinion, is very like our own. They play a lot of soccer and Rugby here, but, in the main, football in Canada means just about what it does in the United States. One of the first to go was Eric McDonald, of Fredericton. McDonald, in addition to being a star football player, was also a noted sprinter and famous all-around athlete. He carried out the original idea of the football entries which was to rise through valor or fall on the field. In this case, McDonald has survived to rise from the ranks of lieutenant to that of colonel, and it would be no surprise to see him soon promoted to the ranks of a brigadier general for his military efficiency. His record at the front has been even greater and finer than his record here in sports, where he was regarded much as the U. S. of A. would look upon a Ned Mahan or a John Kilpatrick.

Longboat is still remembered as one of the greatest marathon runners of all time. He has put the long distance efficiency of a dispatch carrier on foot, where he has done remarkable work and has been mentioned more than once for his daring, stamina and efficiency. The idea of an Indian dispatch runner proves again that this war is not entirely a matter of make-up, despite the U-boats and the Zeppelins. Longboat-to-day is running greater distances at greater speed than he ever used in his best marathon days, to judge from reports that have been received from the front.

Percy Molson, McGill's star sprinter, and Frank Lukeman, of Montreal, are other track men who have done distinguished services. While Victor Buchanan, president of the Montreal Athletic Association, was killed at the front while going over the top with the Fighting 13th. He was one of the best known sportsmen of the city and was captain of the championship Montreal football team, is still another who has rendered brilliant service in France.

These names are mentioned to show what Canadian sportsmen have done in the cause of their country. There is no football team in the United States who will soon accomplish. There is no football team in Canada, no track team, that hasn't lost enough star players to break up the organization, and that hasn't contributed the finest sort of fighting material—game, resourceful, alert, and always to be found on top of the job, making good or remaining on the field of No Man's Land, with the game over for all time.

Middleweight Boxer Dying, Was Battered on Head

Pottsville, Pa., June 2.—Michael Seuk Kelly, a middleweight of Shenandoah, who fights under the name of Young Ketchell, is dying at the Miners' Hospital following his collapse in the ring at Shenandoah yesterday. Kelly was defeated by Eddie Revolve, of Philadelphia, Thursday night. He had been subjected to a severe beating in eight rounds and was on the St. Louis Nationals. At the end of the eighth, but in the ninth he seemed fresh and commenced to rush Revolve. Revolve caught him with a right and left about the head and Ketchell stopped as though dazed. Revolve, referee Frank ("Pop") O'Brien, of Philadelphia, and the seconds of both fighters are being held without bail.

Ketchell is suffering with hemorrhage of the brain and the hospital authorities say he will die.

RETURN LEW MALONE

Toledo, Ohio, June 2.—Manager Mike Kelly, of the St. Paul American Association Club, announced here yesterday the release of infielder Bohne and Lew Malone. Bohne was sent back to Brooklyn. Malone was sent back to Brooklyn. He had a tryout with the Athletics last year.

CHARLIE TAFT IS NO BIRDLING

Laughs at Hoots; Wins Ball Game For His Team; Now Hero

CHARLES P. TAFT Washington, D. C., June 2.—Charles P. Taft, a private in Battery D, Third Field Artillery, did not have to wait for foreign service to prove his courage. He was enlisted for a baseball game, and when he came to the bat in the third inning he found a teammate on second and another on third, with two out and one run needed to tie the score.

Private Taft happens to be the son of William H. Taft, and when his distinguished father came to Washington to see him a day or two ago the former President remarked to Adjutant General McCain: "No More a Birdling."

"I've got a birdling over here somewhere." The "birdling" phrase caught the eye of the newspapers and gained wide publicity, and young Taft's appearance at the plate was greeted by a chorus of shrill and earnest, if somewhat inaccurate, imitations of various feathered warblers.

"Oh, look at the little birdling," came from a soldier roofer for the opposing team, while a voice from the bench implored the batter to "forget your old man used to be President and lay hold of a good one."

Taft allowed the pitcher to waste a couple and then singled, scoring both runners. His mates don't call him "Birdling" any more. He is now known as "Charlie." He was a star on the Yale basketball team and an all-round athlete.

BOSTON AFTER SUNDAY BALL. Boston, June 2.—Ban B. Johnson, president of the American League, called at the state house yesterday to see if he could obtain Governor and get permission for the playing of Sunday games during the month of June for wartime charities. When informed that the Governor was on his way home from Washington Mr. Johnson went to New York with the hope of seeing him there. Sunday baseball is not permitted under the laws of his state.

WON ON HARLEY Ray Heagy, who won the five-mile sidecar race at Lebanon, Decoration Day, piloting a Harley-Davidson and not an Indian, as was erroneously announced.
