

HARRISBURG TELEGRAPH A NEWSPAPER FOR THE HOME Founded 1827. Published evenings except Sunday by THE TELEGRAPH PRINTING CO., Telegraph Building, Federal Square.

Member American Newspaper Publishers Association, the Audit Bureau of Circulation and Pennsylvania Associated Dailies.

Eastern office, Story, Brooks & Finley, Fifth Avenue Building, New York City; Western office, Story, Brooks & Finley, Peoples Gas Building, Chicago, Ill.

By carriers, ten cents a week; by mail, $5.00 a year in advance.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 2 Amid the howling Wintry sea, We are in port if we have Thee.

THE HOME GUARD MEN beyond the age of military conscription, but active enough to shoulder a gun and render very effective service in an emergency.

These men are not imbued with a desire to don a uniform and parade at home while their younger brothers do duty on the firing line.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

What we arise to ask, has become of our old comrade in arms, the Over Act?

SCHOOL BOARD CHANGES

RESIGNATION of A. Carson Stamm as president of the School Board, while it came without warning, was the logical result of the worse than stupid conduct of a majority of the board with respect to the selection of architects to design the new high schools.

As the official head of the board its president is generally, and perhaps properly, looked upon as the exponent of its policies and the representative of its accomplishments and responsibility.

Further, Mr. Stamm says, he is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Mr. Stamm has done what he believed to be for the best interests of the people. The childish behavior of the five members of the board who willfully foisted upon the people a high school building "program" unworthy of the term might have been enough to disgust him to the point of leaving the board entirely.

Mr. Stamm is now a minority member of the board, and as such would be out of place as its president.

Politics in Pennsylvania

By the Ex-Committeeman

Governor Brumbaugh's veto of the Sprout bill to devote all of the proceeds of the foreign fire insurance premium tax to the municipalities for firemen's relief organizations on the ground that the Legislature has no power to provide for a police revenue thus diverted from the State's own fire insurance fund has not improved the general legislative situation very much according to people at the Capitol.

The opinion of people at the Capitol the veto message rather emphasizes the lack of harmony between the Governor and the men who make up the Legislature.

Chairmen Buckman and Woodward, of the appropriations committee, have been checking up the bills so that there will be no differences between the way they are sent to the Governor and the amounts determined upon.

The revision of the general appropriation bill will be started next week as the heads of the departments have sent in letters outlining the amounts needed for salaries.

The indications are that the appropriation bills will be reported out carrying something around $80,000,000.

In the TELEGRAPH of Friday last is a front page article concerning Charles Fahnestock of Mt. Holly Springs.

A light is threatened in the House as the highway appropriation bill is reached.

The Philadelphia Inquirer today says that the transit conference in Philadelphia yesterday forecasts the reaching of an agreement on the transit situation.

Collector of the Port William H. Berry, who has always been quite a friend of William Jennings Bryan, is out in a statement in favor of a big army.

The increase of salary for Philadelphia magistrates carried by the bill approved by the Governor yesterday will make the place very attractive.

Third-class city representatives may ask another hearing before the Senate committee in charge of the bills.

What is needed most now is to make the U-boats permanently submarine.

BECAUSE of a fatality near Scranton in which a canoe played a conspicuous part, the editor of the Scranton Republican thinks that canoes should be barred from all summer resorts and feels that perhaps the Legislature with propriety might pass a law forbidding entirely the use of the canoe in this State.

It is well that the editor of the Republican does not live in Harrisburg. He wouldn't be at all popular here if he continued to voice sentiments of that kind.

What is needed most now is to make the U-boats permanently submarine.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

AND YOU PUT IT ON - AND LOOK AT YOURSELF IN THE MIRROR

WHEN THE WIFE DIGS LAST SUMMER'S SUIT OUT OF THE ATTIC AND ASKS YOU "DO YOU WANT IT THIS YEAR?"

AND YOU PUT YOUR HANDS "CASUAL LIKE" IN THE POCKETS AND FIND IN ONE OF THEM -

A WHOLE QUARTER THAT HAD BEEN OVERLOOKED WHEN THE SUIT WAS PUT AWAY -

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Not a Desperado To the Editor of the Telegraph: In the interest of simple justice would you kindly give the following a place in your paper?

In the TELEGRAPH of Friday last is a front page article concerning Charles Fahnestock of Mt. Holly Springs.

The mother of Fahnestock is also represented in a very unfavorable light in the article.

The proposition that mere election or appointment to an important office does not give a man any intellectual superiority is illustrated by the promotion of a certain man to the office of chief of police in the city of St. Louis.

W. H. DOOLITTLE, Pastor of Mt. Holly Lutheran Church.

"We Can Have No Bungling" Not until universal service had removed the war in England from party lines was there anything adequate done.

Charles M. Schwab says: Jimmie Ward, one of our vice-presidents, used to be a stenographer.

ON WITH THE DANCE

IT is night. The tables are grouped about a skating rink of artificial ice. Between rink and diners is only a narrow race track.

The harsh lights fade and a soft rose floods the ice. There is a fanfare of trumpets and a troop of girls in furs and bare legs skate forward.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Somehow that night an American destroyer patrolled a little space in the North sea. It was a moonless night.

Ebening Chat

Members of the State Capitol Park Extension Commission, which was out of existence officially on Thursday night after carrying out a splendid service for Commonwealth in a notable manner, have brought on record their appreciation of their late colleague, Samuel Kunkel.

Confederated shop men and officials of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company have resulted in an agreement to raise wages 2 cents an hour for all craftsmen.

Confederated shop men on the Boston and Maine railroad have raised wages 2 cents an hour for all craftsmen and secured a Saturday half holiday during July and August without loss of pay or working extra time.

Women are helping South Jersey farmers grapple with the labor problem. A serious shortage of farmhands is reported, and farmers have been obliged in many cases to pay double and triple the wages which formerly prevailed.

Two years ago unorganized steamfitters and helpers at Hartford, Conn., were receiving $12 and $9 a week. Then they organized and their latest gain, the result of a short strike, guarantees fitters $27.50 a week and helpers $16.50.

Attleboro, Mass., jewelry workers have organized to reduce their workday from ten to eight hours.

Speaking of the Capitol park extension a good many people are wondering what will be done about the miles of curbing that are in place along the streets of the Capitol grounds.

The way Bethlehem advertises on the backs of envelopes of its business houses is well worth looking at.

—J. Benjamin Dimmock is working to get Colonel Roosevelt to make a Liberty Loan speech in Scranton.

—Judge H. H. Cummings, who decreed no liquor in Northumberland county on Registration Day, has advanced ideas on the subject for his county.

—Lewis Emery, Jr., former senator, is one of the incorporators of a big brick company in his home city of Scranton.

—Governor Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, will speak in Pittsburgh next week in behalf of the loan.

—Chaplain Charles Schall, of the Tenth Pennsylvania, has worked out a plan to place the names of those who go to war on tablets in their churches in his city of Connetquot.

—Dr. John B. Lowman, chief surgeon of the Cambria Steel Company, will go to France with a hospital unit.

—Reginald De Koven recently told a story in praise of modesty. "A group of tourists," he said, "visited in Bonn Beethoven's house."

OUR DAILY LAUGH

