Coaches Peet and Hill will take a squad of Technical High School track men to Reading Saturday in a final effort to bring back two much coveted trophies offered by the Readingites in their annual track meet. Tech has two legs on the Joshua Dives trophy and to win again this year will bring the cup to Tech for permanent possession.

Another cup that will be hotly contested for and the local aggregation is the only team that has won legs on it.

After Relay Trophy
Another cup that will be hotly contested for by the entrants will be the trophy offered to the winner of the relay race. Tech has two legs on this cup, but so have several other schools. Camden High School can get it permanently by winning this year, as they have won twice in previous meets. So does Reading have two legs on it. For nine years it has been fought for, but no one team has been able to win it three times. This Saturday Tech hopes to cop it permanently.

Henry Eyster has returned to his studies after having been out for two weeks with tonsilitis. The toaches will try to whip him into shape for the meet. His entry will be good for a number of points in the dashes and 440.

OVER A 40-YEAR SPAN

When the job on which you're toiling gets your goat;

When you curse the grip of poverty and such;

When existence seems to have you by the throat

As you stagger daily onward in its clutch;

When it seems that Fate has nicked you good and hard,

When you've only known the run of fortune's shreds,

When you figure with a curse, life could offer nothing

worse, Well, suppose that you'd been drafted by the Reds, Old dog. Just suppose that you'd been drafted by the Reds?

When they have you on the run across the trail; When they copper every bet you try to make; When you start out in the morning, dull and stale, And the boss begins to brand you as a fake; When they double cross or slam you on the bean, Among the under-paids and under-feds, Ere you figure, ever gruffer, life could offer nothing rougher.

Among the under-palds and under-feds,
Ere you figure, ever gruffer, life could offer nothing
rougher,
Just suppose that you'd been traded to the Reds,
Old dog,
Just suppose that you'd been traded to the Reds?
Boston, Philadelphia and Brooklyn in turn dashed out of the rut in 1914, 1915 and 1916 respectively. The Reds were due to round out the quartet this season, but so far the forty-year curse is still harrassing them at every turn. They are still wearing bare spots deep in the second division.

THE ALL-AROUND CLUB
Sir—Among the all-around boys what's the matter with Harold Janvrin, of the Red Sox? I have seen him play first, second, third and short, and play all four positions well. This should put him up among the first.
J. M. J.
Sir—In regard to Charlie Ferguson, who once caught for Virginia University, I once saw him pitch the first four innings with Philadelphia in faultless style and then go back of the bat and catch the remaining five innings with equal brilliancy. He was a wonder. But did you know that Buck Ewing, the best catcher that ever wore a mask, filled every position on the old New York Nationals? And that George Van Haltren, with New York and Chicago, caught, pitched and played every infield and outfield position during his twenty years? Those were the days when the ball players had the stamina and the stuff. Men like Buck Ewing, Van Haltren and Mike Kelly could play almost any position on the team well enough to hold began his major league career a trifle over twelve years ago.

and Mike Kelly could play almost any position on the team well enough to hold the gap.

NOT YET—

Ty Cobb began his major league career a trifle over twelve years ago. He is now sliding on past thirty. But up to the moment of skidding to press he hasn't yet started sliding down hill.

"I have no idea what I'll hit this year," he said a day or so ago, "but I see no reason for any slump until I begin, to lose my speed. That means down hill the rest of the way. But as far as I can tell I have been able to get around this spring as well as ever. It's the speed that always goes first—not the batting eye."

Last September when Cobb was batting .354 he told us that he expected to finish around .370. His concluding average was .371. He is still confident that he can finish above .350 as he hasn't been below this mark in a good many campaigns.

DONT'S AND BE'S

In behalf of the Senior Service Corps, Walter Camp has extended a brief list of Don'ts and Be's that should e incorporated in every corral, whatever the game—

Gyer. Miller is at present manager of the Bethlehem Steel Company League team at Steelton. He was football coach at Tech last fall.

JUNIORS WIN IN EXTRA INNINGS

West End Juniors yesterday defeated the Pansy A. C., score 13 to 11. It was a ten-inning game. The battery for West End was Simmons and Kipp; for the Pansy team, Gorman and Morpfor the Pansy team, Gorman

We should say third place has the edge. Cobb bats third and so does Tris Speaker, these two being the best hitters in the game. Eddie Collins and Dave Robertson, both bat third, and so does Eddie Roush, the leading hitter of the Reds.

But on the Yanks Pipp bats fourth and Baker fifth: Stuffy McInnis, the best batsman on the Mackmen, also bats fifth. Joe Jackson bats fourth, and so does Hal Chase. But if there is any margin it is decided in favor of Cobb, Speaker, Collins and Robertson.

FROM PLATTSBURG

er, Collins and Robertson.
FROM PLATTSBURG
We have left the brassie behind;
The nacquet rests in its frame;
We are pointed now in another way,
Facing another game.

And what may rest ahead No man may know or tell, But we'll hold the slogan we knew of old, The slogan of "Give 'em 'ell."

MAYBE—AND MAYBE NOT

"You are all wrong about the Red Sox," writes a bystander. "Outside of two or three good pitchers, they don't belong and will be lucky to finish second." Maybe—and then again, maybe not. If a ball club that wins two pennants and two world's series in succession, and then, after a long road trip, returns home in first place, is a bum ball club, just where do the others belong?

The Red Sox are frequently rated as a fair club or a poor club, with great pitching. Whereas it is a smart, aggressive, powerful machine even beyond the pitching staff.

Baseball help is needed. The sooner the better for the good name of Harrisburg as a real live baseball city. President J. H. Farrell is anxious to keep Harrisburg on the map.

Once the necessary financial support is forthcoming, these will be no question about Harrisburg's team. The material is there. With new men here and others coming, it will not be long until the team is up in the race.

Steelton is showing more activity as a baseball town than this city at present. League baseball starts there on Saturday, the Steelton team of the Bethlehem Steel Company League meets Bethlehem in the opening game. It will be some big event. To-day Susquehanna University is playing Shorty Miller's team.

With nice weather to-morrow the annual grammar school track meet will have a record crowd. All schools were drilled to-day for marching to-morrow and the young athletes were busy limbering up.

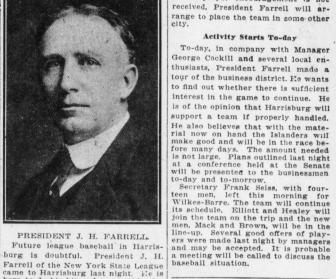

An important meeting of the Dau-phin-Perry League is scheduled for to-night. Representatives will dis-cuss plans for the future and take up grievances.

Only one game was played yesterday in the New York State League. It went five innings and Wilkes-Barre shut out Reading; score, 3 to 0.

sity is playing Shorty Miller's team.

Interest is growing stronger in the major legaue race. Both the Nationals and Americans are showing score, 3 to 0.

FUTURE LEAGUE GAME IN DOUBT; FARRELL IS HERE

burg is doubtful. President J. H. Farrell of the New York State League came to Harrisburg last night. Le is here to do his bit and wants this city to remain on the baseball map. Whether President Farrell will be successful as a life-saver depends on his conferences to-day and to-morrow with businessmen.

This city is the only one on the Farrell circuit that does not have an association back of its baseball team. Manager George Cockill, who purchased the franchise last season in order to show his loyalty to the city, has stood the burden of expenses and is ready to sell out and quit unless he gets help. Too many post-ponements have cut down the receipts.

Men who have heretofore stood by the game will not finance any more baseball enterprises alone. They are willing to help if proper organization
