

MILLIONS GOING INTO WAR BONDS

Commissioner Lafean Makes Some Interesting Comments on Letters to Governor

State Banking Commissioner Daniel F. Lafean, to whom were sent the letters received by Governor Mar-

Among the letters received by Mr. Lafean was one from Secretary of the Treasury W. G. McAdoo of the Governor thanking him for his efforts, and another from the secretary to the President, Mr. Lafean said that the letters he had received showed Scranton taking far beyond the $2,000,000 promised.

Another letter gave $50,000,000 as an estimate of what could be taken in Pittsburgh, with the Westinghouse Airbrake, Pittsburgh, McKeesport Tin Plate and other companies each $500,000.

30 Miles in Paige "Six-51" in 22 Minutes and 4 Seconds

Bowling along at a steady, unvarying speed of 80 miles an hour, a Paige car, "Six-51" stock chassis, covered 30 miles in 22 minutes and four seconds in the Cincinnati races Memorial Day and thus scored a distinct achievement that its sponsors regard as significant.

The event was the 30-mile invitation race open to stock cars, there being no restrictions as to motor size. The regular Paige "51" model chassis was used. There was no enlargement of the motor, no enlargement of the valves, and the crankshaft and camshaft were the same as those employed in all "51" models.

The rear ratio on the rear axle was changed for greater speed, which is an alteration that can easily be made for any purchaser and therefore not a vital departure from the regular stock model. The only other changes were of a similar nature, such as the addition of a magnet for ignition, additional oiling facilities and the lightening of the piston and connecting rods.

Business to Be Adjusted to Meet New Conditions

It is the patriotic duty of every businessman to readjust his business to meet war conditions so that the country will be able to give the men at the front every possible support. This was the statement made by Edward S. Babcox, advertising manager of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, following his election as vice-president of the Association of National Advertisers at Detroit.

"American industries are mobile and should be able to readjust their methods and forces to meet these new conditions," said Mr. Babcox. "Advertising campaigns, carefully and wisely planned, will be one of the prime factors in this readjustment, becoming more of a force in modern business than ever. They will be of greater assistance to the salesman and with a well-organized sales force, business will go on as usual."

The close relationship of advertising and selling was brought home to the convention in a graphic way by Mr. Babcox, in exhibiting a motion picture film entitled, "The Link," which was produced by the Firestone Company for the sole purpose of impressing his sales force with the immense value of advertising as a selling argument.

A POPULAR JEFFERY MODEL

Present Price of Jeffery Six For a Limited Time

While the present price of the Jeffery Six cannot be maintained indefinitely, certainly not after the present stock of raw materials, which the Nash Motors Company purchased over a year ago at the then prevailing lower prices, is used up, nevertheless the Nash Motors Company is making plans for big production schedules and, according to C. B. Voorhis, general sales manager, is confident that unparalleled prosperity lies just ahead for all American business, including the automobile industry.

"For the next few years," says Mr. Voorhis, "America must be the workshop of the world. Night and day the smoke will be black above her factories. The wheels of commerce must turn as they never turned before.

"America must feed the world; she must clothe the world; she must furnish transportation for the world; she must be the world warehouse. "Our lands will produce more crops, our mines more ore, our factories will double, treble their outputs. "Prosperity, unparalleled prosperity must flow through the channels of American trade.

National Cars Strong Among the American Allies

International patriotism on the western hemisphere follows the National semis flag. Cuba, the first of the Pan-American republics to support President Wilson in his declaration of war against Germany, has purchased more National Highway Sixes and Twelves than any other country with which the National Motor car and Vehicle Company of Indianapolis, does an export business.

In the last twelve months, the export trade of the National company has tripled and the factory is sending shipments weekly to foreign countries where it is possible to make deliveries. National cars are exerting a merchandizing influence on the dependencies, Porto Rico, the Philippines and Hawaii—and in the South American Republics, they are gradually replacing foreign automobiles, such as Mercedes and Fiat, in the affections of Spanish-speaking motorists, having the power, speed and artistic body lines that are associated with the exotic creations of Germany and Italy and which so strongly appeal to the luxury-loving South American.

In fact, the South Americans have only one fault to find with the National and that is almost negligible and very easily remedied. The two standard colors, dark blue and gray, are too sombre for the Latin peoples, who have a decided leaning toward yellow and red and give their boulevards a Jacob's coat appearance with their brightly painted automobiles. As a consequence, the majority of the Nationals sent to South America are shipped with only the dull lead priming coat on their bodies, the maker allowing the purchaser a discount for painting which is done after the cars leave the custom house.

Calls Cadillac Eight Best Car From America

"So far as my experience goes, I can pronounce the Cadillac Eight the best thing in the shape of a motor car that has yet come to us from the land of the Stars and Stripes." Thus wrote an expert in The Motor News of Dublin, a leading Irish motor publication, after a run of 40 miles in a Cadillac Eight, through slush and congested traffic in the streets of London and over snow-covered roads in the open country. He goes on:

"It is to all intents and purposes a one gear car, as you can use the top speed (high gear) on anything from five to over sixty miles an hour. The acceleration is really wonderful. The rate at which the car can jump from a creeping pace up to a mile per minute was to me a revelation. This was not my first introduction to the eight-cylinder engine, having made a run several years ago in a De Dion with the same number of cylinders. The one impression left was the smooth running of the engine. I described it then as 'being pulled along by a cable.' There was not only the feeling of sweet and easy running, but the sense of supreme and constant power as well. My forty-mile run in the new Cadillac, in and out of traffic, through slush and snow, up hill and on level, was a repetition of my previous experience. "To use an Americanism, the Cadillac is 'some' car, as it provides comfort bordering on luxury, speed far beyond one's requirement, and ease of control so simple that a child could drive it. Thanks to a highly organized factory and an enormous output, the American company is able to put this car on the market at a price that almost defies competition."
