When Hughie Jennings turned Walter Pipp over to the Yankees the curtain was drawn across the future state.

Dear Sir: Nearly every sport writer has mentioned football and tennis as the sports contributing the most enlistments.

One writer, back in 1908, wrote that Fred Merkle's career as a major leaguer was over for good after a certain episode.

We think that we have always been, that Earth, the Moon and Mars, Orion and the other stars.

Benny Leonard, on top of the peak, now has but one regular rival in sight. By dropping Richie Mitchell and Freddie Welsh he removed two of the main pillars of the ring.

Speaking of able-bodied, long-distance veterans—which no one was—there is also the case of Mr. Cicotte, of the White Sox.

HARRISBURG IS BACK IN LEAGUE; DOWNEY TALKS

Harrisburg is again part of the New York State League, but only in name. Players who remained at Wilkes-Barre have decided that a half loaf is better than none.

This is a good ball town. I am not excusing any person for bad business management that put the city out of baseball, but it is my belief that had the league officials shown any business ability this city would not be without baseball.
