A boy about 10 years old was seriously injured when struck by an automobile at Front street and Locust Grove lane about 10 o'clock this morning and died shortly after being admitted to the emergency hospital of the local steel company. The child was a foreigner and according to the police lives on Chambers street. The police could not give his name or the name of his parents.

The automobile that struck the child was owned by E. C. Shannon, 319 Chestnut street, Columbia, and was driven by J. E. Lichisher, 621 Walnut street, Columbia. Dr. S. H. Heller, 10 North Mulberry street, Lancaster, was in the machine. The men were going to Harrisburg.

According to the chauffeur's story, the child darted out from behind a coal wagon in front of the machine. He said the machine was going about eighteen miels an hour. J. E. Keefer, of Highspire, who was following the machine, said that this was about the speed the chauffeur was traveling.
