

Police Nab Man as Champion Lover

Wilkes-Barre, June 13.—In the arrest of Walter Zilinski, of "Somewhere," county authorities believe they have run down the leader of a matrimonial confidence game that has been victimizing women in all sections of the country. Two local women are victims of Zilinski.

SYMPTOMS OF HER DISEASE

Bachache, Sideache, Nervousness, Dizziness, Faintness, All Disappeared After the Woman's Medicine was Taken

Kingsfisher, Okla.—"For two years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, and had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. A friend asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking ten bottles I am now well and strong, have no more pain, backache or dizzy spells. Everyone tells me how well I look and I tell them Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did it."

Every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache or the blues should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as Mrs. Southwick did, or if they need free advice in regard to any annoying symptom write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

LONDON AMERICANS SURPRISED WHEN TOLD OF London, June 13.—(Correspondence)—Many Americans in London were surprised and disappointed when they learned that, when the United States entered the war, they were not automatically relieved of the necessity of observing the British police regulations affecting aliens.

There is a considerable amount of red tape involved in the police regulations and, no sooner had the United States thrown in its lot on the side of the entente allies, than many Americans got the impression that they would be relieved of this wartime necessity. When they found out that their status in this respect remained unchanged by the turn of events many of them appealed to the United States embassy and consulate for further information. They were told that there was no indication of any change.

TAKE A CENSUS AND PUT EVERY MAN AND WOMAN TO WAR WORK

The American People Must Be Shaken Out of the Habit of "Letting George Do It"

By ALLEN CHAMBERLAIN

It is a terribly depressing experience in a time of public stress and peril to realize that you are just plain "no good." It is in this predicament that a vast number of men, and women, too, for that matter, find themselves in the present hour. This attitude especially to those who are classified as "too old," and alas, some who still considered themselves fit to run with the youngsters, have been rudely awakened to the fact that they are "old uns" in the eyes of the government. Not only old, but useless to boot, and only fit to buy war bonds, to pay their taxes, and to furnish the applause at patriotic rallies. Sentence has been passed upon all over 40.

But is there no appeal? Will the nation consent to this waste of ability and enthusiasm simply because Congress decrees that a man over 40 is not a volunteer for the regulars? Is there not a place in the plan of national defense for those poor old duffers, somewhere around 50, or beyond, who are physically sound and mentally alert, even though they lack in specialized knowledge? Who can answer? None, and for the simple reason that there is no plan of national defense. No use to point to the recent acts of Congress providing for an enlarged and an army of a million men. Are the rest of us content to sit by, and let these soldiers and sailors play the army and navy are open. All others must twirl their thumbs, fume and try to think that they are doing business as usual, although they know that the nation is in a perilous position.

There will be no adequate plan of national defense until Congress provides for the enlistment of every useful individual and organization, not only for gun-carrying, but to guarantee a complete support for the gun-carriers. Why not a census of all the people, that will include male and female, sound and unsound, from the youngest Boy Scout and Campfire Girl, to the oldest grandire and dowager? Are the soldiers all should be called even though few are chosen. Chosen for what, pray? For that service to the nation that a carefully taken census of abilities and experiences shall indicate as available. Kick the bushel off the light and let us see what our real national wealth is, the only kind of wealth that really counts in such an hour as this, the ability to do things, big and little.

Along the horizon a line toward Washington faint dawn of hope is glimmering. Someone in authority perceives that a national task is at hand, and that the nation as a whole will be required to perform it. What other interpretation can be put upon the words of the President's draft proclamation: "It is not an army that we must shape and train for war; it is a nation." The whole nation must be a team in which each man shall play the part for which he is best fitted. And lest that hope be shattered on a suspicion that this is only rhetoric, there is a heartening reassurance in the almost simultaneous utterance of Mr. Vanderlip of the advisory commission to the Council of National Defense, Vanderlip, the man of business, hard-headed, practical, from his privileged knowledge of the country's greatest needs, sounds the true warning that should be the knell of shiftness and idleness: "The man with the rifle and the man with the hoe, both have their part to play in the war." The man with the rifle and the man with the hoe, both have their part to play in the war.

BOYS' RESERVES HIGHLY PRAISED

Governor Issues a Proclamation Favoring the Organization of the Youngsters

In a proclamation issued today, Governor Brumbaugh commends the purposes of the United States Boys' Working Reserve and calls upon patriotic organizations and the people generally to lend their support to the enterprise.

Whereas, the Honorable, the Secretary of Labor has officially recognized the United States Boys' Working Reserve and has requested the co-operation of the several governors in bringing to a successful issue the valuable service the Reserve can accomplish in addition to the dependable labor supply of the country; and Whereas, the National Government has selected John C. Frazer of Philadelphia to be the Director of the Reserve for Pennsylvania, and has requested me to make proclamation concerning the great importance of mobilizing our boys between the ages of 15 and 21 for patriotic service in the field and factory, in the production of all forms of utility during this great crisis of the Nation.

Now, therefore, I, Martin Grove Brumbaugh, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do call upon all Y. M. C. A. organizations, all Boy Scout groups, all church clubs, all local patriotic organizations, including the Public Safety Committees, to lend instant and capable support to this vastly important enterprise to the end that Pennsylvania may in a commanding way support and sustain the National Government in its lofty service to humanity and to democracy.

$50,000 Owners' Contest to Follow Maxwell's Economy Triumph of May 23rd Hundreds of Maxwells on May 23rd made good our claim that a Maxwell will go further on a gallon of gasoline than any other 5-passenger car—now, from June 16th to 30th, we expect 40,000 Maxwells to make as good or a better showing than was made on historic May 23rd.

We told you to watch the Maxwells with the one-gallon red gas tanks attached to the windshields. We told you they were going to make history on May 23rd. That was Maxwell Gasoline Economy Contest Day all over the United States and Canada. And those Maxwells did make history—achieved a triumph we defy the world to beat. Fifty Maxwell cars went a total of 1,983.6 miles on a total of 50 gallons of gasoline. The average gallon mileage of those cars was 39.67. And these weren't specially built cars. They were privately owned Maxwells.—in actual daily use by the men who bought them. 892 Maxwell Cars Prove What Maxwell Economy Is Those 892 cars covered 24,505.3 miles in the aggregate on one gallon of gasoline each. They averaged 27.47 miles each per gallon of gasoline. More wonderful records are being received daily. We could rest our laurels on this great triumph—but we don't intend to do that. Nobody else can beat it—so we're going to beat it ourselves.

$50,000 In U. S. Liberty Bonds To Be Given Away Next Time Inspired by the splendid success of the Maxwell dealers' economy contest of May 23rd—we're offering now $25,000 in U. S. Liberty Bonds as prizes to the 500 Maxwell owners who make the best mileage on one gallon of gasoline. Every Maxwell owner has an even chance to win a bond. June 16th to 30th are the opening and closing dates of this second great Maxwell economy contest. The other half of the $50,000 Liberty Bonds is to go to dealers for helping us with this stupendous undertaking. Your Chance To Win a U. S. Liberty Bond If you own a Maxwell your chance to win a Liberty Bond is as good as anybody's—no matter what State you live in. The rules of the contest give every owner a fair and even chance. The contest is open to women as well as men Maxwell owners. See us at once for details of the contest. Enter this history-making competition now. Win a Liberty Bond.

Economy The Word of the Hour. It is a Good Word--When Properly Used Economy properly practiced and persisted in will eventually get a person to a comfortable and satisfactory condition in life. However, the extreme economist is just about as much a detriment to the community and the country as is the careless spendthrift. The one never spends anything, the other spends all he gets. The one never does anyone much good, the other never does himself any good. Both are a kind of nuisance that the world could get along without. By all the signs, there will be plenty of work at good wages in our country for some time to come, and enough to eat and wear, and some to send abroad. WE KNOW there will be no scarcity of Home Furnishings for homes that are to be furnished. As to the War, this country has a duty to perform, and rest assured that when the real test comes that duty will be performed as it always has been in the past. As to our own business; we have plenty of confidence. We are just finishing the greatest spring season's business we have ever had. We are now looking forward to a still larger fall business and are already buying goods for that time. By careful buying and a little bit of sacrifice here and there, we are succeeding in keeping our prices down to satisfactory low levels. There are no complaints from our customers. On the whole, the country has plenty to be thankful for, so get the smile on your face and go around as you should.
