ITALIANS ARE ENTERING ARMY

Outnumber Natives of This Country; Truck Company Is Filling Up

Army recruiting was unusually light yesterday in the Harrisburg district and over the entire state. Italians have recently been one of the chief foreign nationalities to enlist in this district and lately have been far outnumbering the American-born men who enlist.

Lieutenant Wheeler, who has charge of the recruiting of the motor truck unit now being formed, this morning said he was anxious to fill the company by this evening, if possible. He has been taking in the highest grade men who have applied because none but experienced, rugged men are needed for so important a unit as the motor trucks, which the army depends upon for supplies.

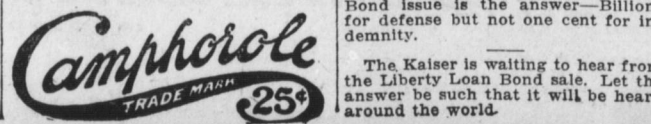

Not only perfect physical health, but a knowledge of the mechanism of the machines is necessary to qualify for entrance to the unit. The standard of men who have applied has been exceptionally high and only a small percentage has been rejected.

Those who have enlisted to date are J. J. Thomas, Robert J. Middleton, Charles A. Shofner, Lloyd R. Ney, Tryon E. Benner, Herman A. Early, Mark S. Phillips, Joseph B. Heidemann, Marlin A. Landis, Philip H. Gillespie, Wesley de Valinger, Harold J. Astrich, Joseph I. Claster, Roy E. Wilson, Ralph C. Black, Lester A. Ebersole, John R. Grove, John L. Gallagher, Clarence R. Elder, Joseph Garner, Cyrus H. Hecker, F. J. Stover, Robert E. Ruch, Jacob K. Schell, George H. Bingham and Lester M. Shesley.

KING OF GREECE GIVES THRONE TO HIS SECOND SON

Abdication Demanded by Entente Allies as Protective Measure

Incidents in Life of Constantine of Greece

Born August 2, 1868, at Athens. Educated by German tutors. Enters army.

Marries Princess Sophie of Prussia, mother of the Emperor Wilhelm II, in October, 1889. Religion causes breach with wife, she being a Lutheran and he of the Orthodox Greek faith. They later become reconciled.

Leads Greek army in unfortunate war with Turkey, 1897. Incurs enmity by his firmness as regent while father is enjoying himself in Paris.

Leads Greek army in First Balkan war and becomes national hero by capturing Saloniki and 22,000 Turkish prisoners, March, 1912, and by winning long struggle for Janina.

Becomes king when King George is assassinated in Saloniki, March 18, 1913. Opposes Premier Venizelos' anti-German policy and keeps Greece out of the great war.

Abdicates in favor of his son, Prince Alexander, and prepares to leave for Switzerland.

Athens, June 13.—The fall of Constantine I, King of the Hellenes, has come. In response to the demand of the protecting Powers, France, Great Britain and Russia, he abdicated yesterday in favor of his second son, Prince Alexander.

The climax in the affairs of Greece was brought about through the agency of the French Senator, M. Jonnart, who has held posts in several French Cabinets, and who arrived at Athens only a day or two ago on a special mission as the representative of France, Great Britain and Russia.

M. Jonnart had previously visited Saloniki and other points, and he lost no time in getting into conference with the Greek Premier, Alexander Zaimis. The demands of the Powers respecting the abdication of King Constantine also specifically eliminated Crown Prince George as his successor, the crown Prince being included among those Greeks in official life who were considered strongly pro-German.

To Leave Country Both the former King and Prince George, it was announced to-day by Premier Zaimis, intend to leave the country immediately. It is reported that they will embark on a British warship and proceed to Switzerland by way of Italy.

It is presumed that Prince Alexander will take up his kingly duties with full acceptance of the ideas which the protecting Powers desire to be put in effect in the government of Greece during the present war. He is 24 years of age, and has been free from antecedent proclivities.

Affairs in Greece, which several times since the outbreak of the war had seemed on the verge of a settlement, recently have taken on such an aspect of uncertainty that it became necessary for the Powers to act with decision. M. Jonnart was selected to proceed to Athens for the purpose of laying before the Premier the aims which France, Great Britain and Russia had with respect to establishing unity of feeling among the Greeks and greater security for the entente forces engaged in operations in the East.

While he informed the Premier that troops had been placed at his disposal, he appealed to that official to use his influence toward a peaceful settlement. The troops, according to M. Jonnart's instructions, were not to land until the King had given his answer.

Nominates Second Son M. Jonnart called upon Premier Zaimis Monday morning, and demanded in the name of the protecting Powers the abdication of King Constantine and the nomination of his successor, the crown Prince of the Diadoque (Crown Prince).

M. Zaimis declared he recognized the disinterestedness of the Powers, whose sole object was the preservation of the unity of Greece under the Constitution, but he pointed out to M. Jonnart that a decision could only be taken by the king, and speedy action is urged if results are to be accomplished before the Legislature adjourns.

While City Commissioners Lynch and Gorgas did not express opinions on the annexation of the territory, both declared to-day they would be willing to meet with representatives from the West Shore to go over the entire plan.

The greatest need for the 'cross-river towns is an adequate sewer system, which can only be built at a large expense, City Commissioner declared. The other improvements were considered, however, by the city officials, and are waiting now for definite action on the move.

The talk of taking over the West Shore territory revived the Riverside and Pleasant View associations, which have frequently been brought to the attention of Council. The Riverside plan came to a standstill months ago when the commissioners could not agree with representatives of the suburb on the amounts which should be allowed for the sewage system now in use there.

It is probable that another effort may be made soon for a renewal of the conferences.

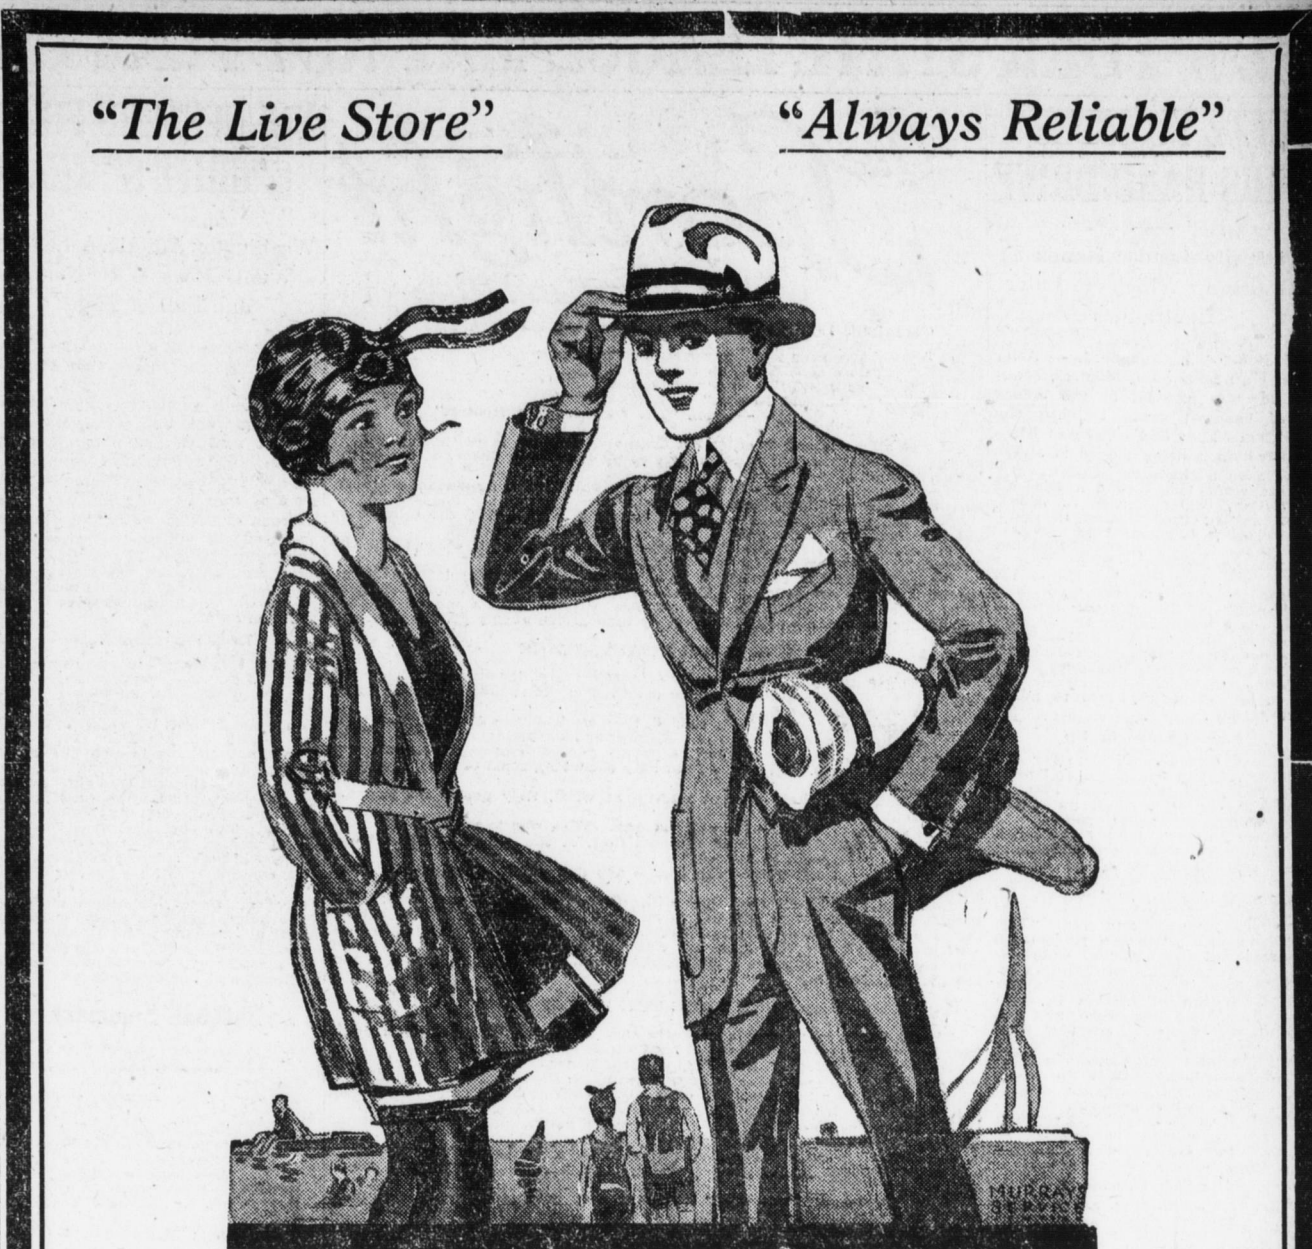

Every cent of the proceeds of the Liberty Loan Bond issue is to be paid to the farmer for food and other products of their farms, for clothing, for leather; it will be paid to the manufacturer of this country for manufactured products not only in the way of munitions and armament, but of all manufactured products that the soldiers and armies use. That portion of the loan which is loaned the Allies will be spent and that part reserved for the American government will be so spent, in subscribing to the Liberty Loan.

American people are lending to their best customer and enabling him to purchase more liberally from them.

It is stated on undoubted authority that a victorious Germany will demand billions of dollars from the United States as indemnity for the damages inflicted by the arms and munitions furnished by America to the Entente Allies. The Liberty Loan Bond issue is the answer. Bills for defense but not one cent for indemnity.

The Kaiser is waiting to hear from the Liberty Loan Bond sale. Let the answer be such that it will be heard around the world.

LAUNDRY TAX BILL BEATEN The Stadlander bill requiring all manufacturing and laundering companies to pay a state tax was defeated by 113 yeas to 21 nays after Mr. Wallace, Lawrence, had declared it would reduce the state tax on brewing companies.
