

SPRING DRIVES

SHOW UP FRAUDS

State Food Agents Active in Catching Men Selling Adulterated Milk in Cities

More samples of milk, cream and ice cream sold in the State have been taken in the last ninety days by agents of the State Dairy and Food Bureau than ever before in a similar period and practically every street in the State has been visited and covered by the men. Approximately 3,700 samples of milk have been taken and agents have been busy bringing prosecutions as the result of findings by chemists.

These "drives" are made every spring by State employees who sample the milk and ice cream directly as furnished to consumers, buying from wagons on the street or in stores or ice cream parlors. The number of violations is not greater than the average.

Agents of the bureau, however, have turned up numerous violations of the law forbidding placing of flour and water in sausages. In some instances sausage was found to contain twenty-five per cent. water and flour.

Twenty-six Cases — The State Board of Pardons will have the heaviest calendar of pardons on Wednesday when it will hold its last session until fall. There are twenty-six new applications being made, of which seven involve homicide of various degrees. There are three applications for rehearings and one case held under advisement. In the list is the application of Archie Miller, Cumberland county, for pardon of death sentence, and application for pardon of Harry Snyder, York, convicted of first degree murder in 1908 and granted commutation.

Ready to Muster — The new truck company of the supply train of the National Guard division will be inspected preparatory to muster into the State service next Wednesday in this city. The company will be stationed in this city and will have about thirty motor vehicles. Inspection of Field Hospital No. 4 and Ambulance Company No. 4, which complete the hospital troops of the division, was made this week.

Chaplain Was There — Chaplain Thomas W. Day, in company with the chaplain, stopped to listen and did not like the way the Scriptures were being handled. He broke into the crowd some more and then asked a question. The speaker made an effort to answer from the Bible, but he got his quotations wrong and the chaplain put a few more pointed queries to him. The man gave it up and said he had to catch a car, leaving the parson the center of an admiring throng.

Must Use Old Ones — Departments of the State government, bureaus and commissions which will ask for desks and other furniture in the next few days will have to take second-hand stuff. The State Board of Public Grounds and Buildings has found a considerable number of desks, chairs and chairs in storage in the Capitol and that there are rooms which contain furniture which is not extensively used. Consequently there will be a redistribution of the property.

Many Cases — The Public Service Commission has been receiving more complaints about increases of rates of service of electric, gas and similar companies lately than for a long time. Many of the complaints are coming from small consumers and the indications are that the commission will have to follow the example of last summer and not take any vacation.

Public Service — The Public Service Commission has scheduled hearings for Harrisburg and Pittsburgh next week, the latter being fixed for Friday when complaints against utilities operating without State certificates will be heard. The cases listed for Harrisburg include arguments on Monday, including the application of the Jefferson Electric Company for approval of a sliding scale of rates.

To Sit Next Week — The State Commission Board will have meetings Monday and Tuesday. No action will be taken on awards of contracts for construction of State highways for which bids were recently opened until next week. Commissioner Bland is studying local conditions and prices. He will then determine upon the policy to be followed by the State in highway construction this year.

City Complains — South Bethlehem to-day entered complaint against the proposed increase of the Bethlehem City Water Company, in which it is alleged that the increase in rates for each of seventy-six fire hydrants from $25 to $60 is unreasonable and it is also charged that the supply is insufficient for fire and domestic purposes. The Augustus J. Cardlyle planned against the Philadelphia and Reading railway bridge at Main street, Yardley, and the commission has ordered an engineering investigation.

Guard Changes — Adjutant General Stewart to-day announced that Lieutenant John E. Boyle, adjutant Tenth Infantry, had been promoted to be captain and assigned to command the machine gun company. Carl Clinton Timstman was appointed adjutant of Company K, Sixteenth Infantry.

Pottsville Case — The Public Service Commission to-day announced that it would sit at Pottsville on Thursday, June 21, to hear the complaint of the Pottsville Merchants' Association against the Pottsville Union Traction Company.

No More Seedlings — Forestry Commissioner Conklin announced to-day that no seedlings will be distributed for private planting this fall. Hereafter they will be distributed in the spring. It was stated at the department to-day that "if weather conditions are favorable during 1917 from 2,000,000 to 4,000,000 trees will be available for private planting about April 1, 1918."

NEGRO STILL AT LARGE — Ned Rodgers, negro who shot and killed George Johnson, also colored, a boarding house keeper in South Fourth street early yesterday morning is still at large. The police late to-day had no clue as to his whereabouts.

NEWS OF STEELTON

$5,000 DONATED TO RED CROSS

Rumor to This Effect Was Not Denied or Confirmed by Committeemen

Although the campaign for Steelton's share of the National Red Cross fund to be waged next week has not officially opened, it was whispered in business circles to-day that Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Bent have given $5,000 to the fund. Members of the finance committee would neither deny or confirm the report, saying that an announcement would be made at the noon luncheon at the Red Cross headquarters on Monday.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bent have taken an active part in borough Red Cross activities. Mrs. Bent is chairman of the local society and Mr. Bent is taking an active part in the fund to be raised next week. At the luncheon Monday, the town will be divided into sections and given to each of the teams. The campaign will not start officially until after the luncheon and meeting Monday.

It being impossible for every resident to be seen personally for their subscriptions, the committee has arranged to have subscription headquarters at various places in the town where people will be given the opportunity to give their subscriptions. Steelton's aim is to get $20,000, and the committee is hard at work placing the fact before all business men. Posters have been placed in store windows.

Justice of the Peace Stees is a member of T. L. Nelly's team instead of J. H. Gerdes as had previously been announced.

PROHIBITION DEBATE IN STANDARD THEATER TUESDAY — This town is to be the scene of a novel affair in the form of a joint debate. The Rev. L. E. Pickett, known throughout the South as "The Kentucky Gattling Gun," and who has been campaigning in this State in behalf of prohibition for nearly a year, recently challenged Colonel J. G. Young, of Louisville, Kentucky, for a joint discussion of the liquor question. Colonel Young is also a debater and has come in contact with many able prohibition speakers.

The debate will take place in the Standard Theater June 26 at 8 o'clock. Mr. Pickett has debated the prohibition question all over the South. He recently debated with C. A. Windel, of Chicago, the recognized champion of the liquor trade. He is a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church.
