

OGDEN PITCHES STEELTON TEAM TO VICTORY---TENER MAY QUIT LEAGUE---AMUSEMENTS

JOHN K. TENER MAY QUIT GAME

His Retirement Depends on Action of National League Today in McGraw Case

Philadelphia, June 18.—John K. Tener, president of the National League, is not a candidate in any way for re-election to office. His term expires this year and the directors of the league will be called upon to elect a president at the annual meeting of the league in December.

Mr. Tener made that announcement when informed that dispatches from Pittsburgh were to the effect that he would not be re-elected to the presidency of the league.

Further than to say that he was not a candidate for the office, Mr. Tener refused to discuss the matter. He said: "That is all I have to say at this time."

A special meeting of the league has been called for to-day at New York for the purpose of taking action upon the New York Club's protest of President Tener's suspension and fine of Manager McGraw, of the Giants, and to consider the insulting remarks McGraw has been quoted as making about Mr. Tener, in connection with his suspension.

Depends on Action Today.—Although Mr. Tener refused to make any comment or prediction it is evident that the attitude taken by the directors at the special meeting will determine Mr. Tener in the course he will take regarding re-election as president of the league.

The New York Club and Manager McGraw have made no comment in league affairs. If the league refuses to sustain Mr. Tener's punishment of McGraw for his attack upon Umpire Byron, at Cincinnati, and supports the New York Club's protest, Mr. Tener will likely announce his retirement from baseball. He has said that his rulings as president of the league must be respected. It is known that Mr. Tener is very angry over the McGraw matter and it is likely that he will make it a deciding factor in league affairs.

McGraw Is in Bad.—According to well-versed baseball men McGraw is liable to suspension for the balance of the season for his alleged verbal attack upon the president of the league.

War Necessitates Changes.—While June 15 was the last day on which players might be signed, the enlistment of players may make a change necessary in the rules of the association. At first it was intended to have no players signed after that date, but war measures may make a difference.

The president of the league has suspended Reading player for alleged unfair playing. The player in question is out of the game for five days. The officers of the league will attempt to keep the season as long as possible. The contest scheduled to be played last Friday night will be played July 30. Although the close of the season is set for July 26, on account of the wet weather the postponed contests have taken up more than all the Fridays during the playing season and the remaining postponed games will be played after the close of the schedule.

MAGIC CITIES TO HOUSE NEW ARMY

Herculean Task to Build Sixteen Training Camps in War Time

Washington, June 18.—Between now and the first day of September the genius of American business organization is to cause sixteen magic cities, of a population each to be equalled in only 150 permanent cities throughout the nation, to rise complete for the new national army.

In this project, giving their experience and time, as in other activities associated with the war, big business men of this nation are engaged. In the advisory board of the Council of National Defense are seven leaders in respective sides of endeavor and associated with them are scores of experts in respective lines. In all, there is a force of 100 men. Everything that is now essential to place the United States on a solid war footing is being contributed, and given without pay. The food situation is being cared for by Mr. Hoover, General Goethals is devoting the same energy to shipbuilding as he did the Panama Canal and Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is righting the transportation problems.

Nothing that Americans have ever before attempted will compare with the work now beginning. The Panama Canal, itself, was not so ambitious. The New York subway construction was simpler and had no driving element of immediate need. The vast program of steel shipbuilding is less disturbing to the routine of industry.

REARRANGING Y.M.C.A. INTERIOR

New Secretary Is Working Out Plan to Furnish Amusements For the Boys

Robert B. Reeves, the new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., has already started part of the work he intends to accomplish in this city. Several articles of furniture from the second floor have been brought to the main reception room and placed to give the formerly large and vacant-looking room a homelike appearance.

Several new articles for amusement, including a Victrola, have been installed. The interest already manifested in the improvements was shown by the crowd of young boys who surrounded the instrument the entire morning.

A part of the second floor will be used as the headquarters for the new boys' department. A large room formerly used only on special occasions, will be turned into a boys' reading room. At the same time it will be used for the meetings of the directors, but under the new plan will give constant service instead of once a month as formerly.

In the new room now almost vacant of furniture it is intended to install a number of tables and games for the amusement of the younger boys, whom it is believed will join once they find the Y. M. C. A. to be a place where they may be amused as well as instructed.

An anteroom of a small meeting place, formerly intended for a kitchen, will be used for that purpose as soon as the necessary equipment can be obtained. A gas stove and a number of plates are needed to make the "kitchen" the vital adjunct it should be in Y. M. C. A. work.

The rooms committee has investigated the condition of the building and reports it to be in the condition reported and that many repairs are needed.

The ladies' advisory committee met this afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider ways and means to meet some of the immediate requirements. The finance committee will meet to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to consider means of raising the necessary funds to carry on the work until the beginning of the membership campaign in the fall.

SENIOR CLASSES ATTEND SERVICES

Central and Technical Graduates Hear Grave Questions Discussed

Record crowds attended the baccalaureate services of the Central and Technical high school senior classes last evening. The Tech students met at the school in Walnut street and marched to Pine Street Presbyterian Church and the Central seniors at that school, marching to Grace Methodist Church. Both classes were clad in caps and gowns.

The Rev. Dr. Lew sis. Mudge, pastor of Pine Street Church, spoke to the Tech boys on "A Man's Work."

"Every one of us can do a man's work in a spiritual sphere. Man's work is to build character. Character endures, while riches flee overnight, and health fails," the Rev. Dr. Mudge said in part.

Dr. Mudge chose as a text for his theme Nehemiah . . . 3. "I am doing a great work so that I can not come down." "It is every man's prerogative to do a great work and there are three reasons for this," said he. "First, God has given us a great workshop. Second, we have a long day. Third, we have great working powers. Therefore we ought to do a great work no matter where we are," added the speaker. Mr. Mudge impressed upon the graduates the importance of character building in a very forceful way and stated that it is worthy of any man's work. Special music was given by the quartet.

The Rev. Dr. Robert Bagnell, pastor of Grace Church, spoke on "Ideals and Principles at Stake in the World's War." First describing the moral degeneracy into which he declared Germany has fallen, Dr. Bagnell reviewed a number of incidents of that nation which are "an array of charges of immorality which can not be paralleled."

"The moral and spiritual ideals of the world are at stake," he went on. "The German theory is that the state is under no moral law—a modification of the old doctrine that the king can do no wrong."

Both churches were decorated in class colors and class flowers. The Central seniors numbered almost 200, the largest class in the history of the school. The Tech class includes seventy-three members.

JURY VERDICT IS SET ASIDE

Judge Refuses to Impose Sentence; No Evidence to Support Conviction

Judge George Kunkel this morning set aside a jury verdict finding Le Roy Dunnell, colored, guilty of attempting to steal a pocketbook from a young girl by the use of weapons, because no evidence was submitted in the case to substantiate the charge.

The court stated in making the ruling that no sentence could be imposed when there was no evidence to support the conviction. Dunnell, however, was held on the information, and upon the advice of council will present a plea of guilty on a charge of attempted larceny from the person.

When Charles Groff, convicted of assault and battery, was called for sentence, Assistant District Attorney Frank B. Wickersham produced the prisoner's criminal record, showing that he had been sentenced four times during the last nine years. He was given a sentence of three months in jail and a $25 fine.

John Mosser, convicted of malicious mischief, was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs. Mizpah Lerch, found guilty on a charge of participating in disorders during the trolley strike, was released under suspended sentence. Judge Kunkel stating that the court's action was based on the youth of the defendant and not because of what Lerch said on the witness stand.

Other sentences followed: Joshua Miller, assault and battery, $15 fine and one month in jail; S. S. Pye, assault and battery, suspended sentence; Carl Dausey, larceny from the person, bail forfeited and capias issued.

"IT FIXED ME UP FINE," SAYS ED. DELP. I feel so good nowadays that I tell all my friends that Tanlac is the greatest medicine of them all," says Edward Delp, an electric crane operator who lives at 1025 Union street, Reading, Pa.

"Nothing I ate ever agreed with me. I would get full of gas, I had headaches most all the time, I was constipated and I couldn't get a good night's sleep. Finally I read a Tanlac testimonial in the paper and it was so convincing that I determined to see what it would do for me. I am glad to say that it has fixed me up fine and I got results from the very first bottle. My stomach is now as good as new, my headaches have gone and my whole system has been built up." Tanlac, the famous reconstructive tonic, is now being introduced here at Gorgas' Drug Store where the Tanlac man is meeting the people and explaining the merits of this master medicine.

Overland. "Fill 'er up with gas an' turn th' nose of your li'l ol' Overland up Niagara way." ---an' he did! The Boss said to me; "Write an Overland ad." "What about", I asked. "Anything", says the Boss, "so long as it's the truth." So, if it's GOT to be the truth, I'm goin' to write about my trip up Niagara way where I've a nephew in training. Not long ago I got a card from the nephew. He just said; "Fill 'er up with gas an' turn the nose of your li'l ol' Overland up Niagara way"—an' I did! Boy, Oh Boy. That was SOME trip. The li'l 'bus needed no primin'—no pettin' or touchin' up. All she asks is a little gas an' a destination an' she gets you there an' back. Man a-live, how she ate up the miles! With the gas tank full, four cylinders hittin' an' headed due North, we went away from here. Away she rolls, just a-itchin' for more miles—not a-tryin' to break any speed records or laws but jes' a nice, easy swing that puts you at peace with a warring world. With narry a stop for anything except for a bite an' a place to sleep, that li'l ol' Overland Pet o' mine jes' stepped right along those eight hundred odd miles up an' back. Sure we saw the Nephew, but by then, he was only incidental to the trip. The joy o' goin' has us—an' we're goin' again, you can b'lieve ME! (by) Alec the Ad Man P. S. I jes' thought to myself since I'm back — if that li'l 'bus at $895 can turn a trick as neat as that, WHAT WOULD THE OVERLAND SIX DO AT $1025? — is it any wonder the Overland-Harrisburg Co.'s doin' a Million Dollar-a-Year Business?
