SPECIAL ORDERS TO BE REQUESTED

Important Bills Will Likely Be Given Right of Way to Enable Definite Action

As the House of Representatives will open up the last fortnight of the session this evening with the biggest of the whole session, members are back of important bills are scouting around trying to reach an agreement to have them made special orders.

The plan as outlined is to get the bill to suspend the full crew law during the war, the workmen's compensation amendments, the Philadelphia small council, Stadtholder tax, Baker agricultural education, Democratic "trust buster," Fowler anticombination, "mine cave," elective school board and similar bills made special orders. All these are House bills and if they are not disposed of this week are doomed.

Most of them are away down on the calendar. There is such a tremendous jam of bills on the House calendar that it is doubtful whether many bills will be reported out of committees this week. If they will have to be considered within four days, the chances are that the House will sit Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week with possibly a Friday session.

In addition to over 250 bills on the third reading calendar the House is to-night confronted with over seven hundred appropriation bills on first reading and twenty-one bills of its own on first reading, a dozen or so on second reading with big postponed calendars. The Fymining swamp and Cook tract appropriations are on second reading and the carbondale mine fire and general appropriation bills on third reading or final passage. The general bill will pass finally to-night and go to the Senate for consideration.

The Senate will to-night pass the resolution withdrawing the Woodward bill carrying the "life saving" appropriation for Capitol Hill salaries. The Beideman third-class geographical error may be corrected and the money made available this week. The Governor is in favor of the bill.

The Senate has a long list of House appropriation bills to pass this week in addition to a big calendar of its own. The Whitaker bill to abolish the State Commission on Agriculture is on third reading, having passed the House, but will go back for amendment. The Sproul resolution for a commission to investigate old age pensions is on third reading, as is the Swartz bill allowing corporations to invest surplus funds in war bonds. The Beideman third-class city bill is on the postponed third reading calendar.

The prohibition amendment of Smith of Bedford is on third reading in the House away down on the list, while the similar amendment of Smith of Crawford, never got out of the Senate committee.

The Governor has sixty bills to dispose of this week, including the divorce inheritance tax measure, on which his time is up on Saturday.

THIS MEDICINE WOMEN VALUE

Positively Relieves the Suffering More Convincing Proof.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first introduced its curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of it spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from its use its value has become generally recognized and it is now the standard medicine for women's ills.

The following letter is only one of thousands on our files. Dennison, Texas.—I cannot feel that I have any duty until I tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles so I could hardly drag around my daily work. I was very nervous, and had dizzy spells, heat flashes, and headaches until life was a burden.

My husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon began to improve. I continued its use and am now free from all pains and aches that made life a burden. You may use this letter in any way you like for I want the world to know what a grand medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is.—Mrs. G. O. Lowery, 311 S. Barrett Ave., Denison, Texas.

STOMACH TROUBLE IS GONE

Sanpan Did It. Relieved Me Almost Immediately

323 J. B. Smith, Route 6, Lancaster, Pa. "Sanpan is a wonderful medicine, or it fixed me up fine, and it didn't waste any time about it either. I had all kinds of stomach trouble, indigestion and a general condition; when I ate I would fill up with gas, that would pound around my heart and cause terrible pains and I was worried. I was all run down, I felt tired all the time, I had no ambition to do anything and felt bad all over. I heard such a lot about Sanpan, and people had helped that I thought maybe it might help me, so I started taking it, after talking it over with a friend of mine. I am glad to say a good word for it, as my old ailments are gone, my stomach is fixed up, and I can eat like a lumberjack, believe me it is some appetite."

The Sanpan man is now introducing this great medicine to the people of Harrisburg at Keller's Drug Store, 405 Market street. There is only one Sanpan.—adv.

STATE'S INSANE TO BE CARED FOR

Woodward Says $500,000 Will Be Allowed For Blairsville; Torrance Sends Letter

Francis J. Torrance, of Pittsburgh, president of the Board of Public Charities, has written a letter in behalf of the insane of the state and urging the Western State Hospital for the Insane to be located near Blairsville Intersection, which likely will result in an appropriation of $500,000 being made for this institution. Chairman James F. Woodward, of the House appropriation committee, said that he thought this amount of money would be voted.

The letter was sent to Chairman Woodward and Chairman Clarence J. Buckman, of the Senate appropriations committee following a visit of Mr. Torrance made here last week in behalf of the institution. The last Legislature authorized the asylum and appropriated $40,000 for the purchase of a site. Mr. Torrance wrote in part as follows:

"The appropriation for the hospital was a mistake. All appropriations of this kind are mistakes. There is no sense of making an appropriation of a paltry $40,000 for the purpose of securing land, etc., if the State cannot secure enough to be of any moment or value. However, I was so desirous and knew so thoroughly the wants of these insane that I took a place on the commission to complete the hospital and have secured as much land as the appropriation provided for. To buy a small portion of land and spend money on it and then buy more land, or expect to buy more land in the future, is simply a criminal mistake.

We have such mistakes in a number of institutions, notably Polk, Harrisburg, Rittersville and one other, the name of which I cannot for the moment recall.

"What I want to do is to get sufficient land and begin the work. I want to put in shape the buildings on the property so that we can take care of a few people and let them clean up the land; then build some permanent buildings in the shape of dormitories, a modest power house and other necessary buildings, and to do this I expect to use the inmate labor. I want to build a very economical, sensible, comprehensive proposition without an extra dollar worth of frills. My expectation is to build these buildings of concrete construction, because there has been less advance in the cost of that material generally than in any other building proposition. It would be a sad mistake to appropriate anything less than a half-million dollars.

"I know you gentlemen are busy and I know you are very much worried. No more than I am, however, and I know you realize pretty well, if not quite as well as I do myself, the necessity for prompt and emphatic action. If something has to be done, for God's sake, let it be done, for the insane are let in the insane any longer. I would not have taken this position on the commission had I not believed that substantial things would have been given in the matter. I made official inspections recently at Dixmont, Allentown and Norristown, and the overcrowded conditions of these institutions simply sickening. At night I had to step over the prostrate forms of inmates sleeping on porches and in corridors and hallways. Let me impress you that your insane institutions are now 2,092 beyond the rated capacity and there is demand for space in addition to this.

The matter here is neglected too long. That's neither your fault nor mine, but let us get together and even at this late hour remedy it in so far as can."

Senator Sproul adds to his Steel Holdings

Lebanon, Pa., June 18.—Announcement has been made here of the purchase by State Senator William C. Sproul and his wife, Mrs. M. J. Sproul, of a large tract of land in the Lebanon Valley Iron and Steel Company, of which Senator Sproul is president. The deal, which was closed as of July 1 of 7,500 shares, preferred and 3,200 common of the 20,000 shares of the $2,000,000 concern which operated in Lebanon and at Duncannon. The purchase price is given at $750,000.

The holdings, which are transferred are those of Harry H. Light, S. P. Light, Samuel L. Light and J. W. Light, all of this city, who were the original owners of the Lebanon plant. Senator Sproul's association in dealing with Felton Best, Howard Conger and Burrows Sloan, all of Philadelphia.

CANNING DEMONSTRATIONS

Waynesboro, Pa., June 17.—Preparations are being completed by a committee of allied bodies of the Public Safety Committee, consisting of Mrs. Walter K. Sharpe, Chambersburg; Mrs. C. F. Fendrick, Mercersburg; Mrs. Pitt F. Carlisle, Gettysburg; and Mrs. J. C. Criswell, Waynesboro, for canning demonstrations to be held in this county. The meetings will be throughout the week of July 9. Miss McDonald, a State College expert, will be in charge. Two demonstrations will be given in Chambersburg, and two in Waynesboro.

RED CROSS BENEFIT

Mechanicsburg, Pa., June 18.—At the Paramount Theater this evening a benefit show will be given by Manager Jaffe for the local Red Cross and a record-breaking crowd in attendance is anticipated. This will mark the reopening of the theater, which has been closed for repairs since its sale to the present management. Two shows will be given, the entire proceeds of which go to the Red Cross. The Singer Band will play in front of the theater before the opening of the doors. Boy Scouts who have not gone on the hike will be present in uniform and assist in every possible way.

MRS. ANNIE C. KREIDER DIES

Anville, Pa., June 18.—Mrs. Annie C. Kreider, wife of Joseph H. Kreider, of this place, died suddenly at 2 o'clock Saturday of heart disease. She came here a half century ago from Philadelphia as a schoolteacher, and following her marriage to the late Joseph H. Kreider, of this place, she resided here until her death was a leader in the United Brethren in Christ Church mission work in the Gettysburg-York Conference. She was 74 years old. She is survived by her husband and four children, Mrs. Henry, wife of Judge C. V. Henry, Lebanon; Mrs. Charles Conover and Mrs. Fred Kreider, Anville, and Dr. D. Albert Kreider, of Yale University.

NO FIREWORKS AT HALIFAX

Halifax, Pa., June 18.—Burgess Isaac F. Chubb has requested Halifax merchants not to sell any fireworks for the Fourth of July and also requests that the people refrain from using any fireworks within the borough limits.

WOMEN'S "BIT" IS SAVING FOOD

Mrs. J. D. Sherman, of Federation of Clubs, Says It Is Her Duty

Washington, June 18.—The question of saving the food of the country is entirely up to the women, according to Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, chairman of the conservation department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Sherman has inaugurated a nationwide food-canning campaign among the federation's members in co-operation with the National Emergency Food Garden Commission which will send its canning primer free to all who ask for it, whether they are members of the federation or not.

PLANT THINNING IS IMPORTANT

Better Vegetables Obtained if Plots Are Kept Systematically

Washington, D. C., June 18.—Do not allow garden vegetables to crowd each other in drills or rows. This is a bit of timely cultural advice offered to home gardeners by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Unless each plant has adequate room for development and a chance to receive all the sunlight, air, moisture and plant food which it needs, the specialists point out, it will be stunted and its contribution to the food supply of the family therefore will be low in quantity and inferior in quality.

It is well enough to plant seed more thickly than the plants should grow, to allow for faulty germination and losses, but the mistake of allowing the crops to grow as thickly as they come up must not be made. A good time to thin out surplus plants is a few weeks after the plans have come up, when they have become large enough to show which are most thrifty, and before they have begun to crowd seriously.

Wherever possible, the thickest plants should be left. In thinning lettuce and beets, some of the best rooted plants may be set out to fill up any space which may have occurred in the drills. Lettuce also may be permitted to grow fairly large before thinning, and the surplus plants eaten. The plants should be from two to three inches apart at the first thinning, and before the plants crowd a second thinning should be made which will leave the plants from six to eight inches apart. The plants removed at the second thinning should be large enough for table use. Garden beets should be gradually thinned to six or eight inches apart, the plants pulled being used for greens. For this purpose the whole plant is used. Young turnips may be used in the same way.

Radishes usually are not thinned until they are large enough to be eaten. Radish tops also may be cooked as greens or, if especially tender, may be used in salads. If radishes have been planted to mark drills of parsnips, carrots or other slow-growing vegetables, they should be removed before they crowd the permanent occupants of the drills.

Onions should be thinned before they reach a quarter-inch in diameter, and should be left about three inches apart. Turnips, carrots, parsnips and beets usually are left three to six inches apart. If they are to be harvested while fairly small they may stand somewhat closer.

Thin hills of muskmelons and cucumbers to three, or at the most five plants. Only two or three pole beans should be left to each hill. In all thinning operations choose, if possible, a time when the ground is mellow so that little damage will be done to the plants that remain. If

A STRAW HAT FOR STORMS

A straw hat which can be taken out in the fiercest storm with impunity is described in the Popular Science Monthly. There is nothing exceptional about the straw. The top of the hat, however, can be turned inside out. The folded waterproof covering that is thus exposed can be drawn over the entire upper surface of the hat.

Ordinarily the waterproof cover is concealed beneath a cloth lining under the top. An elastic band keeps the lining drawn up tight.

A VACUUM CLEANER

CARLISLE CHURCH TO COST $50,000

Reformed Congregation Plans to Erect Fine New Edifice in Center of Town

Carlisle, Pa., June 18.—Definite action for a new church was taken yesterday by the members of the congregation of the First Reformed Church here, when it was decided to purchase at once the McPherson property in North Pitt street, immediately adjoining the Federal building, where a new $50,000 church edifice will be erected within a few years. The plot to be purchased is 120 by 100 feet and near the center of the town. The price asked was $7,500 and an overwhelming number of the members favored it.

The church was founded here over a century ago and now has a strong and influential congregation.

The ground surface about the plants to be thinned is hard, wet it thoroughly long enough before operations are begun to allow the moisture to soak to the ends of the roots.

THREE-DAY HIKE FOR BOY SCOUTS

Mechanicsburg Troops Will Cross North Mountain and Swing Around Circle

Mechanicsburg, Pa., June 18.—This morning the Mechanicsburg Boy Scouts, troops 1 and 2, started on a three-day hike which has been arranged to cover about eight or ten miles a day for that time. The route includes crossing the North Mountain at Lamb's Gap; from there to Marysville; down along the Susquehanna river to the State Road and home. The boys were wildly enthusiastic over the arrangements. Equipment for the trip was carried in wagons furnished by the boys. Each wagon contained equipment for five scouts and was pulled by the boys. Each carried his own mess outfit, which included a tin plate, tin cup, knife, fork and spoon. He was also equipped with a blanket and poncho. Each boy in a patrol carried part of the cooking outfit, and each patrol had a leader and assistant, as well as a cook, two signalmen and a messenger. A duty will be assigned to each scout to perform, which will be checked up on his efficiency.
