

HILL TEAMS HAVE SEASONAL TIE BATTLE--BLUE RIDGE LEAGUE TO STAY

TY COBB LEADS BY BIG MARGIN

Speaker Is Second; Cruise Heads Nationals; Winning Pitchers

Chicago, Ill., June 23.—Ty Cobb is drawing away from Tris Speaker in the race for batting honors in the American League. Unofficial averages show the Detroit leader with .368, 25 points ahead of Speaker. A week ago 3 points separated them. Cobb drove out nine hits in his last five contests, bringing his total up to 70 for 52 games. Two of his nine blows were doubles and one a triple. Earl Hamilton, St. Louis pitcher, is batting .400 and "Babe" Ruth, Boston, twirler, is hitting .380. Roth, of Cleveland, maintained his position as league base stealer with 19. Pipp, of New York, is leading the home run hitters with 5. Chicago, which is leading the league, nosed out Boston for team batting with 242. Leading batters are as follows:

American League		Earned Runs
Games Won	Lost	Runs	Allowed
Dumont	13	2	1.17
Love	New York	13	5	1.17
Chicago	18	10	4	1.21
Shore	Boston	12	6	1.62
Scott	Chicago	14	5	1.68

TIES UP GAME IN HILL LEAGUE

Glenn Killinger's Clout For Four Bases Brings Fourth Run

Glenn Killinger's home run in the final inning, enabled the Rosewood team to tie up the Stanley tusslers at four and in an Alton Hill game last evening. The game was announced by 750 spectators. The Rosewood team took the lead in the first inning, scoring three runs on as many hits off Connor. The home run was the only other score made by that team. The Galahads tallied all of their runs in the fourth session on a three-bagger by Howe, a homer by Irwin Bender, a single, two dropped third strikes and an error.

Three Double Plays
Three double plays were pulled off during "Red" Crane's assault. Hawley, Bricker combination accomplished the feat twice, while G. Killinger and G. Bender broke up a Galahad batting unit in the fourth. "Buck" Smith started the hurling for Rosewood but was relieved in the fourth by "Lefty" Challenger. The score by innings:
R. H. E.
Galahad . . . 0 0 0 4 0—4 9 0
Rosewood . . . 3 0 0 0 1 4 8 4
Challenger and Marks; Galahad, Connor and Howe.

Crane Still Property of Washington Americans; Lacking Only in Hits

Clark Griffith is not going to part with "Red" Crane. The Washington Herald says: "Sammy Crane, the $14,000 beauty purchased by the Old-Fox from Jack Downe's Baltimore Orioles last winter, has not come up to expectations with the Nationals. The Old Fox is finally convinced that Crane is not ready for the big show, and tonight he will ship him into the Cantillon Minneapolis club of the American Association. "Crane, who was the sensation of the International League last season, was purchased in the big trade deal which sent Turner Barber, Rippey Williams and Jack Bentley to the Orioles, while $2,000 purchase price was also included in the deal. Crane ranks with the best fielders that have ever shown here, but his inability to clout the ball has been his undoing. Griffith will keep a string attached to him and will no doubt recall him in the fall.

Dauphin-Perry League

Duncannon has a crack outfielder in Snyder, the diminutive person, who cares for the left garden. He is clever in handling his territory and is always a danger to the man with the stick. His three hits in last Saturday's game, shot into the ballpark, kept a string attached to him and will no doubt recall him in the fall.

The Sport Light

GASSED
He was just back from the front line near: One of the Maple Leafs, minus 2 limbs; But outside of shrapnel and gas and such Not much had happened to him.
"How does it feel to be gassed?" he said, The while expounding a hollow cough.
"How does it feel to be skinned inside And to feel that your ribs are rotting off? It only wrecks your stomach and lungs, But outside of that, why it isn't so bad, If only they'll let you die."

BEYOND DEBATE
What sort of a fighter is Major General John Joseph Pershing? His initials give answer to the realm.
They leave the matter beyond all debate. J. J. Pershing; that's sufficient. If you need further proof, give heed—
J. J. Pershing,
J. J. Jeffries,
J. J. McGraw,
J. J. Evers,
J. J. McDermott.
Giving battle is the major part of the J. J.'s know. The only wonder is that the Colonel isn't J. J. Roosevelt.

THE SUMMER DRIVE
After fighting their way to the front on hostile highways, the Red Sox crumpled up at home and skidded back. What is even more out of line, they broke and fell before the Tigers and White Sox, clubs they have been beating handily for two campaigns.
It has been said right along that if the White Sox could overpower their rivals in Red that Rowland's club should win. So far the Sox have carried out their part of the program and the road as they are in mid-summer and early fall openings.
Heretofore they have been at their best after June. They have done well around Chase, and since the start of the season they have been doing well. It is in the South Side legion from Cook County's citadel is playing better ball than ever before. It is pounding along with greater confidence. The Red Sox are just completing a long stay at home, or a few more days will bring about the shift. In 1915 and 1916 they were good on the road as they were at home, and 1917 may produce the same results. But after the mauling they received from the Tigers and the White Sox the old odds have come badly off.

UMPIRES AND AUTHORITY
Any number of complaints have been made that umpires are abusing their authority by taking advantage of the complete power given them upon the field.
An umpire-to-day has sufficient control of the game to run affairs without picking on players. The trouble is that most citizens give a little authority; immediately desire to run amuck and become czars. There seems to be a yearning in the human breast to become overbearing, once the opening is allowed.
The umpire may have a desire to "exact indemnities and penalties" and impose reprisals for the old days when the players were on top. Which upon the ball field, will only make for other wars.

THE SOLE SURVIVOR
Sir—The Giants to-day have a better shot at the pennant than they had back in April. Then they had three clubs to beat—the Phillies, the Braves and the Dodgers. Since the start of the season the Dodgers, supposed to be strong rivals, have completely dropped out. Twelve or fourteen games back, they haven't a chance. It is now merely a question as to whether or not the Giants can beat the Phillies. If they can there will be no race after the middle of July.

BLUE RIDGE IS IN GAME FOR SEASON; NO BLOWUP JULY 4
Hagerstown, Md., June 23.—The Blue Ridge League is very much alive, notwithstanding the fact that the circuit, held here yesterday, banded several days ago. And it is going to survive the season. This was decided at a meeting of the representatives of the various towns in the circuit, held here yesterday.
Under no consideration will the league disband until Labor Day, on which day the last game is scheduled. The finances of the league in

SHOWDOWN SURE FOR MCGRAWISM

New York Baseball Writers Will Press Measure Waived by League

New York, June 23.—Although the McGraw case now is a closed book with the National League, it became evident here that certain New York baseball writers who wrote the now famous interview quoting the Giants' manager intend to form a show-down to vindicate themselves.
Following a meeting of the local chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association it was announced that the writers who are responsible for the printing of "certain scurrilous articles" will be asked to make affidavits as soon as they return to New York with the Giants, setting forth exactly the authority given them for their interviews.

Midsummer Reputation
The midsummer reputation season in organized baseball is now underway. This grand old commercial enterprise has been wobbling for number of years and a few more slams like the McGraw-Tener republicanism contest ought to finish the business. John McGraw was long ago supposed to have reformed, but McGrawism goes marching on.
Of course, there is no question of veracity being asked for or any reputable newspaper men on the one hand, McGraw and the National League magnates on the other—not in the mind of any one who knows professional baseball and baseball magnates. McGraw was fined for slugging an umpire and said what he thought about umpires and the head of the National League. He said what he thought for publication and it was published.

ONE-WAY TRAFFIC
Because of the heavy traffic and congestion in Third street, between Market and Walnut streets, all traffic north has been shut off by the police department. The restriction will be temporary but if it becomes necessary one-way traffic may be established until building operations in the new Penn-Harris hotel are finished.

TEACHING ART OF DRIVING MOTORCARS TO WOMEN
The Auto Transportation School, at 25 North Cameron street, has formed a special department for teaching women the driving and care of motor cars. In case women should ever invade our shore or in case great numbers of men are drawn from the industrial centers to engage in war, it is believed that women will no doubt be obliged to fill many of the vocations now filled by men. The practice has been adopted in what is believed to be the only school in the city, and women will not doubt be obliged to fill many of the vocations now filled by men. The practice has been adopted in what is believed to be the only school in the city, and women will not doubt be obliged to fill many of the vocations now filled by men.

WELLY'S CORNER

Buck Ramsey's Orphans won a game yesterday. Reading took a tumble score, 9 to 4. It was a good battle, according to the score. The Islanders lost sixteen straight. Both teams hit the ball, but Pitcher Adams kept hits well scattered.

Winning a game brought increased confidence with the Harrisburg players. The only one thing that will bring the cash in is to get a permanent home and strengthen the team.

For taking care of baseball players Harrisburg is certainly getting a poor return. Now comes the report that a former favorite with the local fans started to trouble that took away the New York State League team. Had he given the correct information to a certain business man, the necessary help would have been forthcoming. This is the information that came to hand today.

Announcement that the Blue Ridge League would remain in the game until the close of the season will be gratifying to the fans at Harrisburg. They are a loyal lot and have always taken care of the home-team when an emergency call came.

The Dauphin-Perry League is showing up strong. The Saturday schedule idea is a good one. Twilight games are now popular. No more enthusiastic crowds are found than those at Dauphin, Millersburg, Halifax, Duncannon, Newport and Marysville.

Jack Dillon, weighing 172 pounds, is to box Fred Fulton, weight 230 pounds, at Toledo, July 4, and, with a handicap of nearly sixty pounds against him, he is the favorite in the early betting. This will probably be the last fight Dillon can engage in, as he has enlisted in the United States Navy. Special interurban trolley cars have been engaged to carry the crowds to Toledo. The fight, probably will be held in the morning, as the Ohio trotting races are carded for the afternoon.

GIVES ADVICE TO FUND COLLECTORS
Vance C. McCormick Speaks to Half of Duncannon's Populace
Duncannon, Pa., June 23.—"If we can greet our soldier boys, veterans of the foreign wars, when they return and say 'we could not do much, but we have at least done all we could, we can say we have done all that any one could do," was the closing words of an appeal by Vance C. McCormick last evening for the Red Cross War Fund. Mr. McCormick spoke of what the volunteers are doing for us, for the world and for the generations as yet unborn, who will fall heir to the liberty they have helped to establish. Mr. McCormick reviewed the debt our debt to the warring countries who have struggled so valiantly and at times almost in vain, not only for their own liberty, but our liberty and that of the entire world. He spoke of the death of Red Cross supplies along the Russian front, saying at times the wounded soldiers had no food, no shelter, no clothing, no medicine. The importance of the Red Cross staying in the war was emphasized as well as the need of the United States encouraging them in every way possible. George E. Boyer introduced the speaker.

HEADQUARTERS FOR SHIRTS SIDES & SIDES

President Wilson's Message to YOU!
"I hope that sports will be continued . . . as a real contribution to the national defense."
"I would be sincerely sorry to see the men and boys of our country give up their athletic sports, and I hope most sincerely that sports will be continued so far as possible, not to afford diversion to the American people in the days to come when we shall no doubt have our share of mental depression, but as a real contribution to the national defense, for our young men must be made physically fit in order that later they may take the place of those who are now of military age and exhibit the vigor and alertness which we are proud to believe to be characteristic of young men." (From speech May 22, 1917).

Patrons of the Majestic are high in their praise of the show now appearing there. Heading the bill of attractions is an excellent patriotic playlet, entitled "The Rising Generation," in which nine talented children take part, introducing a number of specialties that are pleasing. Other acts of merit on the bill are: Evelyn Elkin, charming young woman, in an excellent playlet, "The Boy and the Girl," and Alexander in an artistic singing and piano offering; John W. Ransome, well-known singing and talking comedian, and Leddy and Leddy, comedy acrobats. "Rubeville," one of the best comedy offerings in the city, will play a return engagement the first half of the coming week. Reta Boland, singing and talking comedienne; Arthur Havel and Company, in an excellent comedy sketch entitled "Playmates" and two other acts, complete the bill.
