The church is a historic old structure an it is with regreat that members of the congregation are seeing it torn down. The church was erected in Walnut street back in 1870. Much of the work, was done by the Rev. Clen ens A. Koppernagel, who was then in charge. He was a strapping glant of a man, a woodworker, tinsmit and "jack of all trades." He built all the pews, did the frescoing and much other work. woodworker, tinsmith
